Mussolini Hard to Kill.

ANOTHER attempt to kill Mussolini fails. This time a woman, a British religious fanatic, fired point blank at Italy's ruler, sending a bullet through his nose. An inch difference would have meant death, and instantly the history of Italy and of Europe would have been changed. A small thing can produce big effects.

A man of courage and extraordinary self-control, the moment he was shot Mussolini protected the woman that shot him from the violence of the mob.

With his face bandaged, he made a speech, telling the people not to get excited. Wounds are not new to him; his record in the war was fine, but his extreme radicalism, offensive to officers, deprived him of promotion. Now he holds all the officers of his nation, from the king down, in the hollow of his hand.

In 1917, fighting on the Austrian front, Mussolini's body was riddled by the explosion of a hand grenade. Doctors counted and attended 98 wounds on his body. Such a man is not easily frightened.

The wound in the nose may prove disfiguring and hurt Mussolini's pride, but it won't hurt his standing with Italians.

THE extraordinary thing is that Mussolini has lived so long, recklessly outspoken, defying all Europe ... allies and opponents at home and abroad.

BUSINESS news is good. Wall Street has stopped seeing things on the back stairs. Chicago reports "brisk retail trade."

Financial statistics show that if you take care of a business in America, that business will take care of you.

Mr. Kresge, for instance, did a gross of $26,396,547 in 1916. Last year his business had jumped to $195,965,610. Profits in nine years rose from $2,172,348 to $13,509,260.

If the government of the United States will attend to its business as American business men attend to their business everything will be pleasant.

BILLY SUNDAY will run for president himself on a four-word platform, "To hell with booze," if Democrats and Republicans nominate "wets."

Mr. Sunday, who never fought Satan more ferociously than now, would make a good run. But he must realize that Calvin Coolidge will be the Republican candidate, and to call him "wet" is like calling the Pacific ocean dry.

ON President Coolidge's yacht Mayflower, Sahara's sands are accurately reproduced, so far as any alcoholic beverage goes.

You must have in mind putting up a new fence, or new clothes posts in the back yard.

All of these things and a hundred more can be done economically with concrete, in a minimum of time and without the necessity of calling in help from the outside. With simple instructions you can mix the concrete in proper proportions, build the necessary forms, and set the mixture.

RADIO COMPANY CHIEF PLUNGES FROM CHICAGO HOTEL WINDOW

L. J. Ainsworth's Body Whirled From Nineteenth Floor.

TRAPPED BY FIRE

Suspends From Ledge Five Minutes Before Grip Weakens.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Louis J. Ainsworth, wealthy radio manufacturer of Cincinnati, O., was killed here early today when he fell from the nineteenth floor of the Morrison hotel. The body landed on Clark street in the midst of horrified spectators.

Ainsworth, cut off from the door by fire in his room, hung suspended from the ledge of his window a full five minutes before he fell. His screams attracted other guests, but they were unable to reach him before his grip weakened.

Screams for Help.

Shortly after midnight when guests in adjoining rooms heard a man screaming "fire" and "help, save me." Smoke began pouring through the transom of Ainsworth's room. When guests tried to enter they found the door locked.

In the room directly under Ainsworth, was J. W. Melville, a Boston shoe salesman, and his wife. Melville heard the screams and opened his window. He saw Ainsworth hanging suspended from the ledge above.

Melville and another guest, F. Gilleaume, New York art dealer, made a human chain and sought to rescue the man from the window ledge of Melville's room.

This act nearly cost the life of Gilleaume. As the latter had Ainsworth almost within his grasp, the fire began to sear Ainsworth's fingers and he lost his grip. His body struck Gilleaune's back as it hurtled to the

Crack Pennsy Train's Speed At Curve Blamed For Wreck

Five Probes Under Way of Crash Near Delair, N. J., in Which Three are Killed and 40 Hurt.

CAMDEN, N. J., April 9.—The wreck of the crack Pennsylvania express from New York to Atlantic City near Delair, N. J., with a toll of three deaths and more than 40 persons injured, was due to the train striking a sharp curve at too great a rate of speed, according to the belief expressed today by Prosecutor Ethan P. Wescott, of Camden county, conducting one of five investigations into the cause of the disaster.

Prosecutor Wescott said his investigation has revealed no cause for criminal action to date.

A preliminary inquiry by railroad officials established the fact that the train struck a split rail, causing it to leave the track.

Wrecking crews this morning reported that after working all night with acetyline torches among the twisted coaches they had failed to unearth any additional bodies.

The dead and seriously injured were taken to Camden and Philadelphia hospitals. A party of about a hundred passengers, most of whom had suffered minor injuries, went to Atlantic City.

Jumps Rails on Curve.

The train jumped the rails on a sharp curve. Engine, tender and parlor car turned over completely. The next three cars left the rails, two of them sliding down a 10-foot embankment but not overturning. The train was made up of eight parlor cars and

NORTHSIDE COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION O. K.'S MUNICIPAL BUILDING PLAN

Service-Safety Director, Council President and Three Solons Guests at Meeting.

Endorsement of the move launched here a few weeks ago to erect a new municipal building was voted by the Northside Community association at a meeting in the Northside fire station last night.

Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore, President of Council N. P. Kerr, who sponsored the proposal and Councilmen Hayes, Hu... were guests at the session.

Due to the resignation of Howard Moninger as president, Vice-President Albion H. Fisher assumed charge. He introduced Joseph T. Croxall, who presided.

A musical and literary program, arranged by Mrs. Hattie Hapgood, featured the meeting. Several numbers were rendered by a group of Lincoln school children. Miss Freda Barlow gave a piano solo. A vocal duet was rendered by Misses Sylvia Shay and Dorothy Holmes, with Mrs. A. M. Burns as the accompanist. Piano duet was given by the Misses Eleanor Bennett and Ruth Cooper.

Outlines Financial Condition.

Director Moore briefly outlined the city's financial condition, asserting that the safety department fund for the first six months of the year will be depleted about May 15 and that the city administration is uncertain how to meet the salaries of firemen and police for the 45-day period between May 15 and July 1, when the next taxes will be available.

He voiced his approval of the municipal building project, but said that

ORGANIZED LABOR MAKES APPEAL FOR LIGHT WINES AND BEER LAW

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—A direct appeal by organized labor for modification of the Volstead act to permit sale of light wines and beer was made to the senate "wet and dry" committee today by William Roberts, personal representative of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

"Permit me in the name of the American Federation of Labor," Roberts said, "to urge you to recommend legislation that will provide for the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer."

The prohibition law, Roberts said, is being openly disregarded by the American people and has turned the country into a nation of law violators.

William J. McSorley, president of the building trades department of the federation, said he "favored a law which will give the working men beer and light wines."

James O'Connell, president of the metal trades department of the federation, made the same plea. He said he was "strongly opposed to the return of the saloon."

Black Rains Hit California; Oil Fire is Blamed

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Black rains were phenomenons of the April storm in California.

Fresno, in the San Joaquim valley and points as far south as Chino reported the black rainfall.

It is believed to have been due to clouds passing through the smoke of the San Luis Obispo oil fire precipitated the soot picked up hundreds of miles away.

TOWN OF BREA IS MENACED BY OIL FIRE ON BIG TANK FARM

Homes of 2,000 People Threatened as Blaze Rages.

HUNDREDS MOVE

San Luis Obispo Fire Unchecked; Loss $25,000,000.

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Homes of 2,000 people in the little town of Berea, near here, were menaced today by the great fire on the Union oil company's Stewart station tank farm, two miles from the village, where flames raged unchecked after destroying three huge 750,000 barrel reservoirs, several big gasoline and distillate tanks and the company's refinery with an estimated loss in excess of $5,000,000 during the past 24 hours.

Hundreds of Brea residents began moving out today when the town again was rocked to its foundation by the explosions of a number of 10,000 gallon distillate and gas tanks.

Heavy charges of dynamite have been placed in long rows between the town and the burning tanks to be set off simultaneously if the fire begins to spread as it imminently threatens.

The fire, like the one in San Luis Obispo, was caused by a bolt of lightning.

New Menace Spreads Terror.

SAN LOUIS OBISPO, Cal., April 9.—A new menace from the blazing inferno of the Union oil company tank farm near here spread terror throughout the countryside today.

Cyclonis eddies of gas formed in the huge blaze which covers an area three miles long and one and one half miles wide are sweeping out from time to time, dealing destruction.

One today struck the home of Bert Banks, half a mile from the fire area, which had previously been partially destroyed and completely demolished it. A garage was picked up and carried across a road.

As a result, the Coast highway, main artery of travel between Los Angeles and San Francisco, had been closed and automobiles are forced to take a long detour around the fire area. The Edna road is also closed. American Legion guards are patroling the roads.

200 More Fire Fighters.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., April 9.—Sky high flames continued to sweep the great Union oil company tank farm near here today as 200 additional men battled the raging inferno.

Two more huge reservoirs caught fire during the night leaving only five in the whole tank farm, covering more than one hundred acres, unignited.

No additional casualties have been reported since the deaths yesterday of two men and the almost fatal burning of a woman.

Damage was estimated today at $20,000,000.

FIVE VESSELS BURNED OR DAMAGED IN TWO DISASTERS IN SOUTH

Thirty or More Men Unaccounted for Following Collision Between Standard Oil Tanker Thomas H. Wheeler and Dutch Silvanus at Pointe a la Hache Near New Orleans.

44 OTHERS INJURED AS RESULT OF EXPLOSIONS ON TANKER WARING

Five Men are Believed to Have Leaped Into River When Blasts Spread Burning Oil Over Vessel, But Whether Any Perished Has Not Been Determined.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 9.—Seventy-five men are reported injured, missing or killed, and five ships are burned or damaged here today, as the result of two major maritime disasters which occurred in the vicinity of New Orleans late yesterday, within a few hours.

Thirty or more seamen were unaccounted for early today, following a collision between the Standard Oil tanker Thomas H. Wheeler, in-bound for New Orleans, with the Dutch tanker Silvanus, out-bound for London, at Pointe a la Hache, 40 miles below New Orleans in the Mississippi river.

Forty-four men were injured and five were still unaccounted for today, following a series of explosions aboard the Standard Oil tanker O. T. Waring, in dry dock undergoing repairs here late yesterday afternoon. The missing men are believed to have leaped into the river when the explosions spread burning oil over the ship. They were carried down stream, but whether any of them perished has not yet been determined, according to D. J. McAuliffe, works manager for the Jahnoke Dry Dock company, where the explosions occurred.

Several of Crew Rescued.

The collision between the Wheeler and the Silvanus, according to radio messages to the Tropical Radio company, was followed immediately by a terrific explosion aboard the Dutch vessel. The master of the Silvanus, Captain Weiser, and several members of the crew of 50 were picked up by the United States shipping board vessel Topa Topa, outbound for Scotland. Twelve Chinese sailors were landed at Pointe a la Hache.

A later message said one sailor was rescued by the steamer Gulf Coast, and a mate was also picked up by the steamer Baja California.

The Silvanus ran aground near the scene of the collision, and a second blast forced her back into the stream. A stiff current carried the blazing vessel down stream. The Thomas H. Wheeler was safely beached, and fire aboard her, which followed the collision, was extinguished without serious damage. The Silvanus later sank opposite Bohemia, a mile below Point a la Hache. Captain Weiser was badly burned when he was picked up.

The vessel was almost sinking as she drifted down stream.

Members of the crew leaped into the water, which was covered with a film of blazing oil. Fifteen of the rescued sailors arrived in New Orleans this morning.

BRENNAN, DEMOCRATIC "BOSS" OF CHICAGO, SAYS HE WILL BE ELECTED SENATOR ON WET PLATFORM

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

(Copyright, 1926, by International News Service).

WASHINGTON, April 9.—George E. Brennan, the rotund Democratic "boss" of Chicago, who has had a hand in the making and breaking of many political candidates, from presidential to aldermanic, and who is himself a candidate for the senate this year, gave Democratic leaders in congress something of a shock today.

He told them he was going to be elected to the senate in November on a wet platform. And he was sincere.

When some of them expressed a polite doubt and pointed to the 700,000 Republican majority rolled up by Coolidge in Illinois in the last presidential election, Brennan said:

"I think my worst enemies will concede that I know a little something of politics. This isn't a presidential year. You wait and see. And don't be misled by comparative figures in next Tuesday's primaries. November, not April, is the test."

Brennan also told Democratic leaders at the capitol that the issue of prohibition is in politics to stay, and that they might as well prepare to meet it in 1928.

Foe of Prohibition.

"I don't see how it can be kept out of politics," he declared in an interview. "Anything that affects the thoughts and the daily lives of millions of people, anything that is creating the disrespect for law that this law is, anything that is breeding the army of criminals that this law is, anything that is the major topic of conversation wherever and whenever people gather, irrespective of their social status, is bound to be in politics. There's no use shutting our eyes to facts.

"That was an astounding set of figures we submitted to the senate committee. They showed an increase of 670 per cent in alcoholic deaths in Chicago since prohibition, an increase of 704 per cent in arrests for 'gin driving,' an increase of 140 per cent in commitments to institutions for insanity.

"What is true of Chicago is true of other cities, in more or less degree.

"But even that is not the worst of present day conditions. The tragic part of it is what prohibition is doing to the young folks of this country. It is a trite thing to say that youth is being debauched, and yet there is scarcely any other way to describe present conditions.

Dry Forces Endorse Republicans.

"I am going to the people of Illinois on this issue. It's my biggest issue, and it's the country's biggest issue, whenever we will admit it.

"Let the Republicans fight over the world court if they want to. They can talk world court to the people. I'm going to talk of present day conditions, and the remedy for them as I see it. That's my platform in a nutshell. And I think the results in November are going to surprise a lot of people, including some in Washington.

"The drys have been hollering about how they don't believe newspaper polls, and demanding a real poll with candidates squarely facing the issue. Well, we are going to have it in Illinois."

Brennan's Proposal.

The issue became more clean cut in Illinois even while Brennan was in Washington as the Anti-Saloon league endorsed both Republican candidates for the Illinois senatorial nomination, Senator William B. McKinley and Col. Frank L. Smith.

Brennan does not favor outright repeal of the 18th amendment.

"It isn't necessary," he said. "Congress has it in its power to remedy this situation by either repealing or modifying the Volstead act, which is the enforcement act, and then passing a law which will permit the states to provide their own laws—and enforce them.

"Under such a law, New York can have what it wants, within the limits of the amendment, and Kansas can have what it wants. And the government will get rid of its impossible burden of trying to enforce alone, without the co-operation of the states, a law that is violative of everything inherently American."

Brennan declined to talk of Democratic presidential possibilities for 1928.

"It's too early," he said, "besides, there's a lot of water going to run under bridges before 1928."

Fresno, in the San Joaquim valley and points as far south as Chino reported the black rainfall.

It is believed to have been due to clouds passing through the smoke of the San Luis Obispo oil fire precipitated the soot picked up hundreds of miles away.

TOWN OF BREA IS MENACED BY OIL FIRE ON BIG TANK FARM

Homes of 2,000 People Threatened as Blaze Rages.

HUNDREDS MOVE

San Luis Obispo Fire Unchecked; Loss $25,000,000.

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Homes of 2,000 people in the little town of Berea, near here, were menaced today by the great fire on the Union oil company's Stewart station tank farm, two miles from the village, where flames raged unchecked after destroying three huge 750,000 barrel reservoirs, several big gasoline and distillate tanks and the company's refinery with an estimated loss in excess of $5,000,000 during the past 24 hours.

Hundreds of Brea residents began moving out today when the town again was rocked to its foundation by the explosions of a number of 10,000 gallon distillate and gas tanks.

Heavy charges of dynamite have been placed in long rows between the town and the burning tanks to be set off simultaneously if the fire begins to spread as it imminently threatens.

The fire, like the one in San Luis Obispo, was caused by a bolt of lightning.

New Menace Spreads Terror.

SAN LOUIS OBISPO, Cal., April 9.—A new menace from the blazing inferno of the Union oil company tank farm near here spread terror throughout the countryside today.

Cyclonis eddies of gas formed in the huge blaze which covers an area three miles long and one and one half miles wide are sweeping out from time to time, dealing destruction.

One today struck the home of Bort Banks, half a mile from the fire area, which had previously been partially destroyed and completely demolished it. A garage was picked up and carried across a road.

As a result, the Coast highway, main artery of travel between Los Angeles and San Francisco, had been closed and automobiles are forced to take a long detour around the fire area. The Edna road is also closed. American Legion guards are patroling the roads.

200 More Fire Fighters.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., April 9.—Sky high flames continued to sweep the great Union oil company tank farm near here today as 200 additional men battled the raging inferno.

Two more huge reservoirs caught fire during the night leaving only five in the whole tank farm, covering more than one hundred acres, unignited.

No additional casualties have been reported since the deaths yesterday of two men and the almost fatal burning of a woman.

Damage was estimated today at $20,000,000.

FORD ROADSTER IS STOLEN HERE

Police are searching for a 1921 model Ford roadster, belonging to B. G. Lawrence, which was stolen from the corner of Broadway and Sixth street, where it had been parked, at 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

FIVE VESSELS BURNED OR DAMAGED IN TWO DISASTERS IN SOUTH

Thirty or More Men Unaccounted for Following Collision Between Standard Oil Tanker Thomas H. Wheeler and Dutch Silvanus at Pointe a la Hache Near New Orleans.

44 OTHERS INJURED AS RESULT OF EXPLOSIONS ON TANKER WARING

Five Men are Believed to Have Leaped Into River When Blasts Spread Burning Oil Over Vessel, But Whether Any Perished Has Not Been Determined.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 9.—Seventy-five men are reported injured, missing or killed, and five ships are burned or damaged here today, as the result of two major maritime disasters which occurred in the vicinity of New Orleans late yesterday, within a few hours.

Thirty or more seamen were unaccounted for early today, following a collision between the Standard Oil tanker Thomas H. Wheeler, in-bound for New Orleans, with the Dutch tanker Silvanus, out-bound for London, at Pointe a la Hache, 40 miles below New Orleans in the Mississippi river.

Forty-four men were injured and five were still unaccounted for today, following a series of explosions aboard the Standard Oil tanker O. T. Waring, in dry dock undergoing repairs here late yesterday afternoon. The missing men are believed to have leaped into the river when the explosions spread burning oil over the ship. They were carried down stream, but whether any of them perished has not yet been determined, according to D. J. McAuliffe, works manager for the Jahncke Dry Dock company, where the explosions occurred.

Several of Crew Rescued.

The collision between the Wheeler and the Silvanus, according to radio messages to the Tropical Radio company, was followed immediately by a terrific explosion aboard the Dutch vessel. The master of the Silvanus, Captain Weiser, and several members of the crew of 50 were picked up by the United States shipping board vessel Topa Topa, outbound for Scotland. Twelve Chinese sailors were landed at Pointe a la Hache.

A later message said one sailor was rescued by the steamer Gulf Coast, and a mate was also picked up by the steamer Baja California.

The Silvanus ran aground near the scene of the collision, and a second blast forced her back into the stream. A stiff current carried the blazing vessel down stream. The Thomas H. Wheeler was safely beached, and fire aboard her, which followed the collision, was extinguished without serious damage. The Silvanus later sank opposite Bohemia, a mile below Point a la Hache. Captain Weiser was badly burned when he was picked up.

The vessel was almost sinking as she drifted down stream.

Members of the crew leaped into the water, which was covered with a film of blazing oil. Fifteen of the rescued sailors arrived in New Orleans this morning.

BRENNAN, DEMOCRATIC "BOSS" OF CHICAGO, SAYS HE WILL BE ELECTED SENATOR ON WET PLATFORM

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

(Copyright, 1926, by International News Service).

WASHINGTON, April 9.—George E. Brennan, the rotund Democratic "boss" of Chicago, who has had a hand in the making and breaking of many political candidates, from presidential to aldermanic, and who is himself a candidate for the senate this year, gave Democratic leaders in congress something of a shock today.

He told them he was going to be elected to the senate in November on a wet platform. And he was sincere.

When some of them expressed a polite doubt and pointed to the 700,000 Republican majority rolled up by Coolidge in Illinois in the last presidential election, Brennan said:

"I think my worst enemies will concede that I know a little something of politics. This isn't a presidential year. You wait and see. And don't be misled by comparative figures in next Tuesday's primaries. November, not April, is the test."

Brennan also told Democratic leaders at the capitol that the issue of prohibition is in politics to stay, and that they might as well prepare to meet it in 1928.

Foe of Prohibition.

"I don't see how it can be kept out of politics," he declared in an interview. "Anything that affects the thoughts and the daily lives of millions of people, anything that is creating the disrespect for law that this law is, anything that is breeding the army of criminals that this law is, anything that is the major topic of conversation wherever and whenever people gather, irrespective of their social status, is bound to be in politics. There's no use shutting our eyes to facts.

"That was an astounding set of figures we submitted to the senate committee. They showed an increase of 670 per cent in alcoholic deaths in Chicago since prohibition, an increase of 704 per cent in arrests for 'gin driving,' an increase of 140 per cent in commitments to institutions for insanity.

"What is true of Chicago is true of other cities, in more or less degree.

"But even that is not the worst of present day conditions. The tragic part of it is what prohibition is doing to the young folks of this country. It is a trite thing to say that youth is being debauched, and yet there is scarcely any other way to describe present conditions.

Dry Forces Endorse Republicans.

"I am going to the people of Illinois on this issue. It's my biggest issue, and it's the country's biggest issue, whenever we will admit it.

"Let the Republicans fight over the world court if they want to. They can talk world court to the people. I'm going to talk of present day conditions, and the remedy for them as I see it. That's my platform in a nutshell. And I think the results in November are going to surprise a lot of people, including some in Washington.

"The drys have been hollering about how they don't believe newspaper polls, and demanding a real poll with candidates squarely facing the issue. Well, we are going to have it in Illinois."

Brennan's Proposal.

The issue became more clean cut in Illinois even while Brennan was in Washington as the Anti-Saloon league endorsed both Republican candidates for the Illinois senatorial nomination, Senator William B. McKinley and Col. Frank L. Smith.

Brennan does not favor outright repeal of the 18th amendment.

"It isn't necessary," he said. "Congress has it in its power to remedy this situation by either repealing or modifying the Volstead act, which is the enforcement act, and then passing a law which will permit the states to provide their own laws—and enforce them.

"Under such a law, New York can have what it wants, within the limits of the amendment, and Kansas can have what it wants. And the government will get rid of its impossible burden of trying to enforce alone, without the co-operation of the states, a law that is violative of everything inherently American."

Brennan declined to talk of Democratic presidential possibilities for 1928.

"It's too early," he said, "besides, there's a lot of water going to run under bridges before 1928."

EVE'S TWO LOVERS

By EDGAR POE NORRIS

THE STORY UP TO DATE.

EVE MACLURIE, young, beautiful, thrifty, passionately satisfied with life, loved both her employer, JOHN INGATE, 30, president of John Ingate's Sons, Inc., one of the largest firms in Central City, and CLAY WALES, an employe of the Ingate concern. She rejected John to marry Clay because she believed that the latter, weak, irresponsible, fiercely jealous, needed her more. Once they were wed, however, she had her doubts about the wisdom of her choice.

On their honeymoon in Chicago, while enjoying country club guest privileges through the courtesy of John Ingate, they met JOCELYN JOHNSTONE, violet-eyed and mysterious, and her questionable escort, REGGIE WHITE. When John Ingate appeared in Chicago unexpectedly, he met Miss Johnstone through Clay and Eve, and was immediately infatuated with her, it seemed to them.

When the honeymooners returned to Central City they went to housekeeping in furnished apartments and both returned to work for the John Ingate Co. At the Central City hotel they got a glimpse of Jocelyn Johnstone, and later, Eve overheard a telephone conversation between John Ingate and Joselyn making a luncheon engagement.

Unknown to Eve, Clay gambles and loses money and applies to John Ingate for a loan of a hundred dollars. Eve finds it out through John, who thinks the young couple want the money to apply as first payment on a house, and is much perturbed. She prepares the first meal in their new home with her cousin, Madeline Overstreet, a brainless flapper, but popular with men, for guest.

Now go on with the story.

FORTY-THREE.

To Eve, that first real dinner of hers—first real one in the sense that it was her initial attempt to prepare food and entertain a guest in her own house—was an ordeal for reasons other than her fear that the food was ill-cooked and awkwardly served. As a matter of fact, the simple repast she set before Madeline Overstreet and Clay was not unpalatable in comparison with the initial efforts of most brides and a majority of even experienced wives. The steak was rare in the middle and nearly burned on both sides, but it is difficult for the novice to prepare meats properly on the sort of gas stoves with which American apartments generally are fitted. But the creamed potatoes were good, and the salad of lettuce and tomatoes was attractive and tasty, and while not much could be said for the consomme, purchased in a can at the corner grocery, there was ice cream to take the bad taste of the coffee out of their mouths. Eve made coffee as well as

FOREST WEEK IS PROCLAIMED

Governor Howard Gore Urges Proper Observance April 18-24.

Governor Howard Gore of West Virginia has issued the following statement in connection with American Forest Week, April 18 to 24:

The president of the United States of American has proclaimed April 18-24, 1926, as American Forest week, the observance of which merits the attention of every West Virginian. Within our memory West Virginia was a forest state where the wide and deep timbered areas challenged our courage to hew out a livelihood, furnished out homes, and much of our food and fuel, and added in numerous ways to our comforts and pleasures.

"It is urgent that our attention be directed to the fact that the present rate of destruction and consumption will soon bring down the few remaining virgin forests of our state.

"When the white man established himself in this mountain region, what is now West Virginia had a primeval forest covering 15,360,000 acres. A recent survey shows that we now have only 206,000 acres of such forest, a mere 1.3 per cent of the original tract. Troops of blessings go with the passing of the forests. If we permit such a calamity to our commonwealth we will lost much of our protection from storms and floods, the sanctuaries of our wild life, the special appeal of our mountain scenery, the great natural parks for rest and amusement, the safeguard of our water power, and the many other commercial assets furnished by our widespread and varied forests.

"Let us be alert in our individual and collective efforts to every opportunity to preserve, protect and produce forests. Let us work for the setting aside of national, state, and private reservations; let us encourage reforestation of suitable cut-over areas; let us discourage carelessness with fires, ruthless waste and selfish commercialism in our forests.

"Furthermore, let us seek sane legislation that will give reasonable regulation to forest cutting, stimulate the ownership of wooded areas by modified taxation, and authorize and encourage forest ownership on the part of municipalities, counties, and the state. It is important that we consider practical and immediate means to preserve to ourselves and our posterity the blessings of our forests.

Robinson Funeral Services.

Pocock, pastor of the Nazarene church, assisted by Major Joseph Hughes, of the Salvation Army. Burial will be made in Locust Hill cemetery.

NEW PURCHASING AGENT IS NAMED

Hancock County Farm Bureau meeting was held recently in the court house at New Cumberland. Owing to the absence of the president, William P. McDonald, the vice president, John Mayhew, presided.

Talks were made by C. R. Degen, county agent, and Mr. Gist, field agent of the state farm bureau. Announcement was made of the appointment of Thomas Stewart of Chester as purchasing agent for the bureau.

To Open Ball Season.

New Cumberland high school baseball team will open the season tomorrow at the county seat with Irondale as their first opponents. Wern will probably be assigned to hurl the initial contest.

Oil Monopoly

The government, it appears, is going to unscramble the "oil trust" again.

There used to be just one such trust. Since the Standard was dissolved, it is alleged, the parts have worked together, if not grown together; and some of them are as big as the parent trust ever was. In addition, a lot of other companies are said to have joined in the game, adopting trust practices if not using actual trust machinery.

It doesn't matter whether there is one big monopolistic company, or half a hundred, if the half-hundred operate as one, which is what the government accuses them of doing.

Whether the oil companies, big and little, have been gouging the public and breaking the anti-trust law is for the department of justice to prove and for the courts to say. This much, however, is patent to any observant citizen:

The oil companies have nearly all been making plenty of money, as their profit sheets and stock dividends and market quotations show.

The public has been paying a good deal for gasoline, and has never been able to understand why, if there were no monopolistic practices, prices of all companies selling in a given territory should consistently move up or down together.

If the Standard has been breaking the law, it looks as if a lot of professed "independents" have found satisfaction and profit in breaking the law along with it. We may discover, as the case progresses, what an "independent" oil company is, as well as what an oil trust is.

Safe Insulin

When the use of insulin in the treatment of diabetes was first introduced it was feared that, although relieving that disease, the insulin would have other effects harmful to the patient. Now, after some years of experience, doctors believe they have proved that this is not the case.

"Before insulin," says Dr. John Ralston Williams, of Rochester, "a child under 10 years with diabetes rarely lived two years.

Between the ages of 10 and 20 death occurred in two to four four years, and from the ages of 20 to 30 in four to six years. After 30 years the period was extended from five to 15 years. Since insulin there have been few deaths due to diabetes alone where properly treated. The tenure of life has been extended indefinitely."

Dr. Williams therefore opposes the practice of keeping patients on the lowest possible diet and administering insulin only when it is needed to save life. He has found patients happier, easier to manage and better able to work when allowed a diet considerably above the minimum for the maintenance of life and approves the use of insulin even before it is indicated as "absolutely necessary."

If the general experience in the insulin treatment agrees with Dr. Williams', the public may be greatly encouraged. Under wise and sane treatment neither the disease nor the insulin need be feared.

Job As Property Right

By a recent agreement reached in Chicago, between the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and Hart Schaffner & Marx, big clothing manufacturers, 150 cutters whose services were displaced by labor-saving machinery are being paid $500 apiece. This is done on the ground that, through long and faithful service, they had acquired a property right in the business.

The amount of money involved is $85,000. The employers pay $50,000 and the employes who keep their jobs pay the rest. It is figured that this is fair because their own jobs are worth more from the elmination of superfluous workers.

It is said to have been the first time in the history of the labor movement that this principle was recognized. The idea, as explained by Samuel Levin, manager of the clothing workers' board, is like this:

"A worker's share in the fruits of industry should not cease when he receives his pay envelope. It is true that the employer furnishes capital and supervision, but the workman furnishes something no less valuable—life itself. A combination of these will frequently run a shoestring into millions, and if the partnership is dissolved, all concerned should receive a fair share of the products of their mutual accomplishments."

A School Forest

Plans for the development of the best forestry course in any college in the United States have now been started as a result of the wisdom of a group of lumbermen.

The Great Southern Lumber company has donated to the Louisiana State university 1,000 acres of forest land. The location of the gift is near the scene of present big operations of the company, so that pupils of the course can see at first hand every phase of forestry and lumbering, down to the finished products. Technical studies from textbook and classroom will be joined with practical work and observation. Rightly used, too, such a forest might produce revenue as well as education.

The establishment of school forests ought to be encouraged in many sections.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

Effete New York grows politer daily. Fifth Avenue buses proclaim: "Polite Transportation" and taxicabs are adorned with: "Courtesy Breeds Safety." If we could only get rid of the gunmen. A confectioner's window placard: "Unsay it with bon-bons."

A Vanderbilt butler peeping out a window. If I had one I'd call him Wilkens. And make him wear side-wheel whiskers. Wonder whatever became of Mrs. Schneider, the clown dog, in the Gentry Dog and Pony Show? The whirr of cathedral pigeons.

"One Eyed" Connelly, the gate crasher. The woman lawyer who dresses like a man. The old man in a gray shawl who sells coiled wire sleeve garters. A gigilo wearing a Basque cap. Nothing so drab as a freight yard. The queerly gesticulating fingers of the deaf mutes who gather in front of the library.

A basket of white fluffy puppies—50 cents each. The belt-coat conquistadors who "borrow" waiting autos. A street preacher kneeling in prayer. Wonder if a grizzly can really outrun a horse? Flashy actors and tired-looking shop girls.

Broadway now has a "tree surgeon." Bob Davis and Theodore Dreiser. The incessant rushing crowds. Stewing with the same old selfish desires. The odor of balsam and musk. Soon be time for prickly heat. And sun blistered backs.

The stooped, squinty-eyed crowd that clots in front of a sporting goods window. Gazing wistfully at oilskin hats, sweaters, high-laced boots, pup tents and fishing reels. And then spend a two weeks' vacation at Atlantic City. Gorging salt water taffy.

Most city dwellers, I believe, are window dreamers. They stand before their displays much in the manner of a country boy and his yellow dog in the clearing watching an overland train out of sight. Most of us too are forced to conquer the ache for the great out-of-doors. Just as the country boy longs for clang of street cars and pavement clack. I know a man who wears spats and a monocle and who often arrays himself in a three-gallon Tom Mix hat with ornamental leather band, whipcord breeches and waterproof jacket with capacious game pockets. He is answering the call of the stream and forest, the old dear.

Motor warning in a Long Island village: "If you think this is a slow town, try to go fast through it."

And a roadside inn has a sign: "If you see any one taking an intoxicating drink in this inn yell for the police."

There is a fellow running a Long Island Inn incidentally who for years was known in the opium parlors of Chinatown as a lobbygow — the degraded parasitic types who cast their lot among Chinese. He married one of the cast-off white wives of an Oriental, and they were taken one night to a hospital suffering from opium poisoning. There they began the fight to break the habit and start anew. They secured jobs as steward and stewardess on a coastwise vessel, and with their accumulated savings of several years were able to launch the business venture. To an old friend he said: "We came out of hell together."

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Prison or Rest Cures?

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Members of congress and other government officials have expressed their concern over conditions that obtain with respect to the imprisonment of violators of federal laws. They know that the government prisons are overcrowded, that federal convicts are being farmed out to county and municipal jails where sanitation is bad, and that first offenders are being herded with hardened criminals and virtually sentenced to schools of crime. These conditions admittedly cry out for correction, and it is believed that congress will do something toward a solution of the problem before the present session is at an end.

However, there is another phase to the prison problem that is just receiving consideration in Washington, and it may have a decided influence upon the action of congress. It is expressed in two questions: Are convicted law violators sent to prison to be punished or to be coddled? Are prisons intended to be prisons or rest cures?

It is not to be understood that this is a result of astounding revelations as to privileges enjoyed by prisoners who have an abundance of money or that even more potent thing, political influence. It is well known that wealthy malefactors and politicians who have incurred the penalty of the law have had their prison terms relieved of all the harsher aspects of prison life and have had at their command everything they desired in the way of food, drink, and amusement.

Perhaps one of the most glaring instances of the kind was the case of a Chicago man who had been sentenced to jail for an infraction of a federal law and was issued a pardon by the President of the United States after he was supposed to have served one year of his sentence. Investigation disclosed the fact that he had never been in jail a single day under that conviction and that the president and those who assisted him in handling pardon applications had been grossly deceived.

That all this sort of thing is attributed primarily to the weakness or corruption of prison authorities, is said not to reflect conditions generally prevailing, and is regarded as an evil comparatively easy to correct. It is far different from what appears to be a nation-wide tendency to make things easy for inmates of penal institutions.

Stories of Coddling.

Stories of the pleasant treatment accorded convicts in many jails and prisons have astonished many Washingtonians who are in official positions. Prisoners are permitted to attend movies, concerts, theatrical performances, and other entertainments. They have their baseball games, and those who do not play get to attend and root. They get almost anything they want to read and are especially encouraged in any form of study or self-improvement. They have bands, glee clubs, and other musical organizations. Every evening after supper there is a music hour when each prisoner in his cell can play any musical instrument, such as a banjo, guitar, violin, ukulele, flute, accordion, piccolo, mouth organ, jews'-harp, and the like, or he can sing if his musical tastes turns toward the vocal.

In one institution, in addition to baseball, the prisoners play basketball, volleyball, and tennis. The last is said to be the most popular game and five new tennis courts are just being laid out.

Thus far no move has been made to provide a golf course for the unfortunates, or to establish a race track with a spring and fall meet of the bangtails for the further diversion of these shutins, but critics of this kind of prison reform say there is no telling to what lengths it may go.

Minor privileges enjoyed include rations of smoking and chewing tobacco, writing and receiving letters, subscribing to a daily or weekly newspaper, having visitors at certain intervals, and receiving from relatives or friends small luxuries and comforts such as family photographs, towels, combs, brushes tooth paste, tooth brushes, hand mirrors, handkerchiefs, suspenders, and neckties, while prisoners having the wherewithal to indulge themselves may purchase tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes in addition to the regular rations.

Even the prisoners who are sentenced to solitary confinement have their opportunity to get exercise and fresh air. They are permitted an hour a day in the open, in a bull pen where they may pitch hoseshoes, play leapfrog, and otherwise disport themselves.

One nationally known prisoner has so benefitted by the prison regime in a few months that it is reported he looks twenty years younger than he did when he was incarcerated and no longer suffers from high blood pressure or is threatened with a nervous breakdown.

Regular Health Resort.

"If that report is true," said a Middle West cangressman today, "then that prison is a regular health resort and it's no wonder it is overcrowded. I know men who suffer from high blood pressure and nervous troubles who spend large sums of money in their efforts to secure relief and effect cures. If they only realize it, they have only to commit some minor crime and get themselves sentenced to prison and they will have their health restored without its costing them anything. Taxpayers will settle the bill. Of course, there is the slight stigma attaching to a man's name when he has been convicted of a felony, but in this day and age lawbreakers are not regarded with horror or aversion as they were a few years ago.

"Irene says:" Why does the girl of the short hair and dress long for the days of her youth?

"It has not been long since a man was pardoned out of that institution with his health so improved that he was able to make another fortune within a short time and get himself again at odds with the law so that he may incur still another prison sentence, with the possibility of another restoration of his health. I understand, too, that there is a former high state official down there who has been in the hospital about long enough to be cured—I mean pardoned—and he may be able shortly to resume his financial operations that ran into the millions and involved some two hundred banks."

This representative spoke with feeling as well as with sarcasm, and he is one of those who say there is something to be done about the prison problem aside from building additional and larger penal institutions.

"And I don't mean that convicts should be provided prisons where they will not have hot and cold running water and a private bath with every cell," he says. "It is all right to say that law violators are human beings and should be treated as such, but it is to be remembered that they are human beings who have violated the canons of orderly society, thereby subjecting themselves to punishment. Punishment is not pleasant, or should not be. If it is, then it isn't what the law intends it to be—a deterrent to the convict's repetition of his crime, or to the criminality of others."

Still another angle to the problem grows out of the fact that prisoners sentenced to hard labor are employed in factories turning out products that come into competition with the products of honest, law-abiding workers. The convict receives a nominal wage which he may have turned over to his family or saved against the day of his release. It is not a real wage, but a mere matter of bookkeeping, for he works perforce and the government or state credits him with a small sum, daily or monthly, that makes possible the sale of the product of his labor at an apparent profit.

Advocates of a change in this system say that the convict should receive the going wage for his labor, as wages are established outside the prison walls, but that the bulk of his earnings should be absorbed for the up-keep of prisons and the maintenance of prisoners.

The petition relates that the telephone company is about to erect a number of poles in the vicinity of the property of the congregation, and that the erection of such poles would interfere with traffic, and the parking of automobiles by members of the church in the vicinity of the property.

The order was granted by Judge Farr as common pleas court was not in session, and Probate Judge Lodge Riddle was absent from his office when the petition was filed.

CLASS MATES ARE RECITAL USHERS

Plans are progressing for the piano recital to be given on Friday night, April 16, by Miss Jean Fogo, in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Class mates who ushered at her graduation recital at Beaver college, will usher for her recital here. They are: Miss Grace Noden, Pittsburg; Mrs. Inez Eicholtz Archer, Pittsburgh; Miss Catherine Conley, Princeton, N. J.; Miss Catherine Barber, Cleveland; Mrs. Viola Fox Campbell, Montpelier, Vt.; Miss Merl McConnell, New Castle; Miss Mary Means, Punxsutawney, Pa.

Parthenon Class Meets.

Members of the Parthenon Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church held a business meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Stoakes, Riverside avenue.

Vice President Birdie Rice was in charge. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Enid Yost. Covers were laid for 20 guests.

STRAY ANIMALS ORDERED KILLED

With complaints pouring into police headquarters by the hundreds from residents in practically every section of the city, against wandering dogs and chickens, whose chief pastime, it appears, is tearing up lawns, Mayor W. L. Fogo has decided that drastic steps must be taken to eliminate the nuisance.

"Shoot them, kill them, and throw them out in the street and the garbage wagon will pick them up."

This, in short, is Mayor Fogo's best plan for abating the nuisance.

And to this effect he issued an announcement today notifying the public that the authorities any and every one who finds dogs or chickens parading their lawns or gardens and tearing up grass or flowers to shoot them, if they so desire.

At the same time he warns dog and chicken owners to keep them penned up if they don't want them killed.

Action for Judgment.

The W. Bingham Co., which obtained a judgment in the court of Justice of the Peace J. W. Riley at Wellsville, Oct., 29, 1925, for $291 against Albert B. Croskey and others, now seeks the collection of the judgment through common pleas court, according to a petition filed today. The action is one for equitable relief, and an execution has been made on lots 194 and 195 owned by the defendants in Aten's addition, Wellsville.

Squirrels Infest House; Permit to Shoot Issued

New York.—The first permit ever issued granting a man the right to shoot squirrels in his home, was awarded to G. J. Wills in White Plains by Alonzo Cooper, commissioner of public safety.

"My house in Prospect Park is surrounded by shade trees," Wills told the commissioner. "There are more squirrels in those trees than you can count. While Mrs. Wills and I were out of town they came into the house, chewed up the floors, ate all the food and now live in the walls.

"Every time we come home at night we see them scamper off the moment the lights are turned on. We've tried traps, poison, coercion and persuasion. Now its going to be shotgun and shells, and if they don't work, we'll have to move."

Mizpah Class Supper.

Mizpah Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will hold a supper tomorrow night from 5 to 7 in the church basement.

CLASS MATES ARE RECITAL USHERS

Plans are progressing for the piano recital to be given on Friday night, April 16, by Miss Jean Fogo, in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Class mates who ushered at her graduation recital at Beaver college, will usher for her recital here. They are: Miss Grace Noden, Pittsburg; Mrs. Inez Eicholtz Archer, Pittsburgh; Miss Catherine Conley, Princeton, N. J.; Miss Catherine Barber, Cleveland; Mrs. Viola Fox Campbell, Montpelier, Vt.; Miss Merl McConnell, New Castle; Miss Mary Means, Punxsutawney, Pa.

Parthenon Class Meets.

Members of the Parthenon Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church held a business meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Stoakes, Riverside avenue.

Vice President Birdie Rice was in charge. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Enid Yost. Covers were laid for 20 guests.

STRAY ANIMALS ORDERED KILLED

With complaints pouring into police headquarters by the hundreds from residents in practically every section of the city, against wandering dogs and chickens, whose chief pastime, it appears, is tearing up lawns, Mayor W. L. Fogo has decided that drastic steps must be taken to eliminate the nuisance.

"Shoot them, kill them, and throw them out in the street and the garbage wagon will pick them up."

This, in short, is Mayor Fogo's best plan for abating the nuisance.

And to this effect he issued an announcement today notifying the public that the authorities any and every one who finds dogs or chickens parading their lawns or gardens and tearing up grass or flowers to shoot them, if they so desire.

At the same time he warns dog and chicken owners to keep them penned up if they don't want them killed.

Action for Judgment.

The W. Bingham Co., which obtained a judgment in the court of Justice of the Peace J. W. Riley at Wellsville, Oct., 29, 1925, for $291 against Albert B. Croskey and others, now seeks the collection of the judgment through common pleas court, according to a petition filed today. The action is one for equitable relief, and an execution has been made on lots 194 and 195 owned by the defendants in Aten's addition, Wellsville.

Squirrels Infest House; Permit to Shoot Issued

New York.—The first permit ever issued granting a man the right to shoot squirrels in his home, was awarded to G. J. Wills in White Plains by Alonzo Cooper, commissioner of public safety.

"My house in Prospect Park is surrounded by shade trees," Wills told the commissioner. "There are more squirrels in those trees than you can count. While Mrs. Wills and I were out of town they came into the house, chewed up the floors, ate all the food and now live in the walls.

"Every time we come home at night we see them scamper off the moment the lights are turned on. We've tried traps, poison, coercion and persuasion. Now its going to be shotgun and shells, and if they don't work, we'll have to move."

Mizpah Class Supper.

Mizpah Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will hold a supper tomorrow night from 5 to 7 in the church basement.

Bible to Be Written by Hand by 31,173 Persons

Portland, Maine.—Rev. Edward Stuart Best, one hundred and one, of Malden, Mass., is the oldest of the contributors to the largest Bible in the world, now one-fifth completed, to be written in penmanship by 31,173 persons, one verse each. Wesley T. Garland, four and one-half, of South Portland, is the youngest. Edmund T. Garland, secretary of the Maine Bible society, is carrying out the unique plan, and does not hope to complete his task for three or four years.

Merrill E. Barter, a Boston man, now a missionary in Congo, West Africa, has heard of the novelty and has requested assignment of verses for his whole family. President Coolidge wrote the first verse of the Book of Genesis.

Nora Jones, of Brecon, England, was recently sent to Switzerland to nurse Prince Chichibu of Japan, who was ill with measles.

In announcing recently that people of Aberdeen, Scotland, gave $230,000 to maintain their infirmary last year, the head of the finance committee said that in view of this report, jocular writers about the stinginess of Aberdeen people should choose citizens of some other city for their stories hereafter.

KIDD'S BURIED TREASURE BOBS UP IN TALE OF SALE BY J. J. ASTOR

BOSTON, April 9.—Captain Kidd's pirate treasure has turned up again. The state of Maine authorities are getting all "het" up over it, too. It is being said that John Jacob Astor, founder of that family's great fortune, took the loot to England and sold it for nearly $1,500,000.

Prof. Herbert E. Bolton, of the University of California, started the controversy when he claimed Jacques Cartier, a trapper, dug up the treasure on Deer Isle, Me., and sold it to Astor for $5,000, the latter immediately taking the jewels and plate to England for disposal.

Inasmuch as it was stolen property, the state of Maine believes neither Capt. Kidd's heirs nor the Astor heirs have a legal claim to the money and a court fight may develop in an endeavor to recover the money.

Plans are progressing for the piano recital to be given on Friday night, April 16, by Miss Jean Fogo, in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Class mates who ushered at her graduation recital at Beaver college, will usher for her recital here. They are: Miss Grace Noden, Pittsburg; Mrs. Inez Eicholtz Archer, Pittsburgh; Miss Catherine Conley, Princeton, N. J.; Miss Catherine Barber, Cleveland; Mrs. Viola Fox Campbell, Montpelier, Vt.; Miss Merl McConnell, New Castle; Miss Mary Means, Punxsutawney, Pa.

Parthenon Class Meets.

Members of the Parthenon Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church held a business meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Stoakes, Riverside avenue.

Vice President Birdie Rice was in charge. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Enid Yost. Covers were laid for 20 guests.

STRAY ANIMALS ORDERED KILLED

With complaints pouring into police headquarters by the hundreds from residents in practically every section of the city, against wandering dogs and chickens, whose chief pastime, it appears, is tearing up lawns, Mayor W. L. Fogo has decided that drastic steps must be taken to eliminate the nuisance.

"Shoot them, kill them, and throw them out in the street and the garbage wagon will pick them up."

This, in short, is Mayor Fogo's best plan for abating the nuisance.

And to this effect he issued an announcement today notifying the public that the authorities any and every one who finds dogs or chickens parading their lawns or gardens and tearing up grass or flowers to shoot them, if they so desire.

At the same time he warns dog and chicken owners to keep them penned up if they don't want them killed.

Action for Judgment.

The W. Bingham Co., which obtained a judgment in the court of Justice of the Peace J. W. Riley at Wellsville, Oct., 29, 1925, for $291 against Albert B. Croskey and others, now seeks the collection of the judgment through common pleas court, according to a petition filed today. The action is one for equitable relief, and an execution has been made on lots 194 and 195 owned by the defendants in Aten's addition, Wellsville.

Squirrels Infest House; Permit to Shoot Issued

New York.—The first permit ever issued granting a man the right to shoot squirrels in his home, was awarded to G. J. Wills in White Plains by Alonzo Cooper, commissioner of public safety.

"My house in Prospect Park is surrounded by shade trees," Wills told the commissioner. "There are more squirrels in those trees than you can count. While Mrs. Wills and I were out of town they came into the house, chewed up the floors, ate all the food and now live in the walls.

"Every time we come home at night we see them scamper off the moment the lights are turned on. We've tried traps, poison, coercion and persuasion. Now its going to be shotgun and shells, and if they don't work, we'll have to move."

Mizpah Class Supper.

Mizpah Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will hold a supper tomorrow night from 5 to 7 in the church basement.

Bible to Be Written by Hand by 31,173 Persons

Portland, Maine.—Rev. Edward Stuart Best, one hundred and one, of Malden, Mass., is the oldest of the contributors to the largest Bible in the world, now one-fifth completed, to be written in penmanship by 81,173 persons, one verse each. Wesley T. Garland, four and one-half, of South Portland, is the youngest. Edmund T. Garland, secretary of the Maine Bible society, is carrying out the unique plan, and does not hope to complete his task for three or four years.

Merrill E. Barter, a Boston man, now a missionary in Congo, West Africa, has heard of the novelty and has requested assignment of verses for his whole family. President Coolidge wrote the first verse of the Book of Genesis.

Nora Jones, of Brecon, England, was recently sent to Switzerland to nurse Prince Chichibu of Japan, who was ill with measles.

In announcing recently that people of Aberdeen, Scotland, gave $230,000 to maintain their infirmary last year, the head of the finance committee said that in view of this report, jocular writers about the stinginess of Aberdeen people should choose citizens of some other city for their stories hereafter.

COURT BANS PHONE POLES

A temporary restraining order has been granted by Judge Louis T. Farr of the appellate court against the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., in the case filed against it in common pleas court Thursday afternoon by Lones, Hill & Davidson of East Liverpool, representing the First Presbyterian church of Wellsville.

The petition relates that the telephone company is about to erect a number of poles in the vicinity of the property of the congregation, and that the erection of such poles would interfere with traffic, and the parking of automobiles by members of the church in the vicinity of the property.

The order was granted by Judge Farr as common pleas court was not in session, and Probate Judge Lodge Riddle was absent from his office when the petition was filed.

KIDD'S BURIED TREASURE BOBS UP IN TALE OF SALE BY J. J. ASTOR

BOSTON, April 9.—Captain Kidd's pirate treasure has turned up again. The state of Maine authorities are getting all "het" up over it, too. It is being said that John Jacob Astor, founder of that family's great fortune, took the loot to England and sold it for nearly $1,500,000.

Prof. Herbert E. Bolton, of the University of California, started the controversy when he claimed Jacques Cartier, a trapper, dug up the treasure on Deer Isle, Me., and sold it to Astor for $5,000, the latter immediately taking the jewels and plate to England for disposal.

Inasmuch as it was stolen property, the state of Maine believes neither Capt. Kidd's heirs nor the Astor heirs have a legal claim to the money and a court fight may develop in an endeavor to recover the money.

KIDD'S BURIED TREASURE BOBS UP IN TALE OF SALE BY J. J. ASTOR

BOSTON, April 9.—Captain Kidd's pirate treasure has turned up again. The state of Maine authorities are getting all "het" up over it, too. It is being said that John Jacob Astor, founder of that family's great fortune, took the loot to England and sold it for nearly $1,500,000.

Prof. Herbert E. Bolton, of the University of California, started the controversy when he claimed Jacques Cartier, a trapper, dug up the treasure on Deer Isle, Me., and sold it to Astor for $5,000, the latter immediately taking the jewels and plate to England for disposal.

Inasmuch as it was stolen property, the state of Maine believes neither Capt. Kidd's heirs nor the Astor heirs have a legal claim to the money and a court fight may develop in an endeavor to recover the money.

A white elephant owned by Dr. Shawpomen, of Tuongoo, has recently been shipped from Rangoon to the London Zoo.

The motor stocks and the tire stocks were freely offered in this period at price declines of a point or two, while oil, copper and independent steel stocks also exhibited a weak tone, Crucible Steel dropping 3½ points to a new low for the year at 66.

Northside Meet

additional funds must be provided to meet current expenses. He assured residents of Northside that no attempt would be made during his term of office to close the Northside fire station in the event of the erection of a new city hall.

President of Council Kerr explained his proposed plan of financing the proposed city building. He pointed out that by using the $38,000 balance in the market house fund and converting vacant city real estate into cash, more than one-half of the necessary fund would be available. Money, which would be saved by rents and difference in interest charges, the council head declared, would nearly meet the interest charges on a bond issue of about $75,000.

Kerr also said he would oppose any movement to abandon the Northside or East End fire stations.

Pastor Is Speaker.

Solon Hayes told of council's efforts to collect delinquent street improvement assessments, which were paid with the last tax collection. Many of these assessments, he asserted, had been on the books for 15 and 20 years.

Councilmen Hughes and Poole also spoke briefly in pledging support of the municipal building proposal.

Rev. S. Lee-Whiteman, Sr., pastor of the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, lauded the present administration for its efforts toward law enforcement, declaring that conditions in East Liverpool were far better than those which prevailed in Canton, Alliance, Lima and other cities in the central and western part of the state. He characterized the Northside as being East Liverpool's "Choicest residential district" and commended the civic pride of the hilltop.

Council President Kerr showed tentative plans for a new municipal building which he prepared for the fire station site. The proposed building, according to the plans, would be four stories and would house all city departments and officers.

Hammel Sisters And Stross Score In Strand Show

Four Hammel Sisters and Stross, the latter formerly a cornetist in Sousa's band, are headliners of the four-act vaudeville bill which opened a three-day engagement yesterday at the Strand theatre. The young women are talented musicians, while Stross scored in several cornet numbers.

Violet and Partner offer a novelty turn featured by the man's clever acrobatic feats.

Shafer and Bernice won applause with a comedy sketch, "An Auto Tangle." They have a good line of patter.

Singing, dancing and violin playing was contributed to the bill by the Tulsa Sisters.

Lewis Stone, Virginia Valli and Nita Naldi head an all-star cast in the motion picture, "The Woman Who Lied."

Medina Man Held For Friend's Death; Liquor is Blamed

MEDINA, April 9.—Grim tragedy today had written "30" to the friendship of many years between Ernest Leiblein, one armed railroad employe and said to be former Cleveland News pressman, and Dennis Van, railroad section gang foreman.

Leiblein was dead and Van in jail facing a charge of murder — all because of a "little drink" according to Sheriff Roshon.

While under the influence of bootleg liquor, Sheriff Roshon said, Van drew a gun and shot and killed his pal last night.

Leiblein's divorced wife lives in Cleveland with their two sons, the authorities said. Efforts to reach them have thus far proved unavailing.

WOMAN'S HAND BADLY CRUSHED

Mrs. Bella Crumley, of Smiths Ferry, whose right hand was crushed between the rolls of a clothes wringer was admitted to the City hospital yesterday afternoon. An X-ray examination of the injury was made this morning. She was attended by Dr. C. H. Bailey.

MIDLAND KNIFE WIELDER FACES LUNACY TEST

Man Who Slashed Four Persons Believed Insane.

ONE MAY DIE

Chief of Police Creps is Among Those Attacked.

Joseph Ciccozzi, 40, Italian, was removed to the Beaver, Pa., jail at Beaver today to await an examination by a lunacy commission, as the result of a cutting affray at Midland yesterday in which four persons were wounded, one of them perhaps fatally.

Michael Pasquamtonic, millworker, is in the Rochester General hospital, suffering from a deep gash in his left lung. Chief of Police F. A. Creps, Pietro Costello and Felix Quocio were also injured in their efforts to subdue the knife wielder, who is believed to be mentally unbalanced.

The attack occurred in the Midland police office, where Ciccozzi had been taken by his friends. The foreigner, it is said, is suffering from la grippe.

Because of his condition, three friends took him to the Midland city jail for a medical examination. While awaiting the arrival of a physician, Ciccozzi is said to have suddenly jumped to his feet, pulled a penknife from his pocket and attacked Pasquamtonic, sitting next to him, before the others could interfere.

The crazed man plunged the three-inch blade of his knife into his victim's left lung and then turned on Costello and Quocio. Both were cut about the chest. Chief of Police F. A. Creps, Sergeant M. M. Akers and Constable P. T. Gallagher attempted to disarm the man, and during the melee Creps received an ugly gash in his right leg.

Ciccozzi was finally overpowered and shackled. Pasquamtonic was taken to the Rochester hospital, while the other victims were attended by Drs. L. L. Hunter and C. A. Helfrich.

The amount sued for in the action was $250.

John M. Manor, and Dewitt Irwin were fined $1 and costs each for parking in a restricted zone. Both are alleged to have parked their automobiles in front of the Little building for more than an hour Wednesday night. They were arrested by Patrolman Norman McFarland.

Ernest Hempbill, who was arrested by Patrolman Chester Smith on Pennsylvania avenue, early Thursday morning, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, was fined $1 and costs, amounting to $6.80.

Lighted Cigaret Blamed.

It is believed Ainsworth dozed on his bed with a lighted cigaret in his hand which set the bed afire.

When the body was picked up a package of cigarets was grasped in one hand.

The fire was confined to the one room.

George W. Walker of Cleveland, a friend of Ainsworth, identified the body. He said Ainsworth formerly operated station WMH at Cincinnati, but recently had gone into the radio manufacturing business. Walker estimated his wealth at approximately half a million dollars.

Ainsworth was 46 years old and married. He lived at 1541 Donaldson avenue, Cincinnati.

Once Public Accountant.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—Leo J. Ainsworth, 36, of 3541 Donaldson place, Cincinnati, who was killed in a fall from the nineteenth floor of the Hotel Morrison in Chicago, was president and general manager of the Ainsworth Radio company here.

Prior to his entry into the radio business several years ago, Ainsworth was a public accountant. He was born here and spent his entire life in this city. He was regarded as a man of trust and ability, his friends said today.

Ainsworth was survived by his widow, Mrs. Elsie Ainsworth, and one child, Gladys, 10. He also left his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ainsworth, now living in California.

In fact, when innocent mineral water is served, the president turns his glass upside down, partly because he thinks plain water good enough, partly because mineral water glasses look like champagne glasses. That is a new experience for the Mayflower.

MORAL, particular ladies of various societies are annoyed that anyone should say George Washington brewed beer and drank it, to say nothing of stronger stuff. Others deny the story that Lincoln "wished the other general would drink U. S. Gant's brand of whisky and fight a little better," when told that Grant drank too much.

The ladies call it an outrage to say Gen. Grant drank, because he didn't.

The sad truth is, however, dear ladies, that wars are not usually won, nations established or European kings driven out by the nice, pure gentle, white rabbit type of man.

"No mountain without a valley," says the German proverb. No big man without big defects, says history.

Nelson, who won Trafalgar for the British, was not even a model husband, but he did win. That's the main thing.

BRITAIN'S independent labor party says the League of Nations is more apt to cause war than to prevent it. That is for Europe to decide.

The same independent laboratories want to be rid of Ramsay MacDonald and his influence in the Labor party. Ramsey McDonald is a self-educated man, knows history, and gentlemen that want to reform the world overnight are impatient of educated leadership. It doesn't always say "yes."

Those laborites decide to abolish the world "wages," substituting "income." That may sound better, but many a poor clergyman can testify that he would rather have the average brickleyer's "wages" than his own "income."

THIRD ARSON ARREST LOOMS

Police on Trail of Suspect in Vaughn Fire.

A third arrest in connection with the attempted burning of the Mrs. Agnes Vaughn home, Church and Crook alleys, last Saturday night, is expected within the next 24 hours.

The third suspect, who was implicated in a written confession made by William Uhlworm, arrested here Tuesday and who is now awaiting grand jury action on a charge of arson, is believed to be working in Pennsylvania. Police have forwarded a warrant to the police authorities there.

D. J. Connor, Youngstown, deputy state fire marshal, who arrived here today to investigate the fire, conferred with Chief of Police McDermott and Fire Chief Thomas Bryan.

Should the police fail to locate the third suspect before next week it is probable that he will be indicted by the grand jury upon testimony of Uhlworm and Clyde Jackson, who is also under arrest.

Police today declined to make public the name of the third suspect.

The organization will be completed next Wednesday evening. City officials will be invited to explain the proposed municipal building project.

Hammel Sisters And Stross Score In Strand Show

Four Hammel Sisters and Stross, the latter formerly a cornetist in Sousa's band, are headliners of the four-act vaudeville bill which opened a three-day engagement yesterday at the Strand theatre. The young women are talented musicians, while Stross scored in several cornet numbers.

Violet and Partner offer a novelty turn featured by the man's clever acrobatic feats.

Shafer and Bernice won applause with a comedy sketch, "An Auto Tangle." They have a good line of patter.

Singing, dancing and violin playing was contributed to the bill by the Tulsa Sisters.

Lewis Stone, Virginia Valli and Nita Naldi head an all-star cast in the motion picture, "The Woman Who Lied."

Medina Man Held For Friend's Death; Liquor is Blamed

MEDINA, April 9.—Grim tragedy today had written "30" to the friendship of many years between Ernest Leiblein, one armed railroad employe and said to be former Cleveland News pressman, and Dennis Van, railroad section gang foreman.

Leiblein was dead and Van in jail facing a charge of murder — all because of a "little drink" according to Sheriff Roshon.

While under the influence of bootleg liquor, Sheriff Roshon said, Van drew a gun and shot and killed his pal last night.

Leiblein's divorced wife lives in Cleveland with their two sons, the authorities said. Efforts to reach them have thus far proved unavailing.

WOMAN'S HAND BADLY CRUSHED

Mrs. Bella Crumley, of Smiths Ferry, whose right hand was crushed between the rolls of a clothes wringer was admitted to the City hospital yesterday afternoon. An X-ray examination of the injury was made this morning. She was attended by Dr. C. H. Bailey.

MIDLAND KNIFE WIELDER FACES LUNACY TEST

Man Who Slashed Four Persons Believed Insane.

Chief of Police Creps is Among Those Attacked.

Joseph Ciccozzi, 40, Italian, was removed to the Beaver, Pa., jail at Beaver today to await an examination by a lunacy commission, as the result of a cutting affray at Midland yesterday in which four persons were wounded, one of them perhaps fatally.

Michael Pasquamtonic, millworker, is in the Rochester General hospital, suffering from a deep gash in his left lung. Chief of Police F. A. Creps, Pietro Costello and Felix Quocio were also injured in their efforts to subdue the knife wielder, who is believed to be mentally unbalanced.

The attack occurred in the Midland police office, where Ciccozzi had been taken by his friends. The foreigner, it is said, is suffering from la grippe.

Because of his condition, three friends took him to the Midland city jail for a medical examination. While awaiting the arrival of a physician, Ciccozzi is said to have suddenly jumped to his feet, pulled a penknife from his pocket and attacked Pasquamtonic, sitting next to him, before the others could interfere.

The crazed man plunged the three-inch blade of his knife into his victim's left lung and then turned on Costello and Quocio. Both were cut about the chest. Chief of Police F. A. Creps, Sergeant M. M. Akers and Constable P. T. Gallagher attempted to disarm the man, and during the melee Creps received an ugly gash in his right leg.

Ciccozzi was finally overpowered and shackled. Pasquamtonic was taken to the Rochester hospital, while the other victims were attended by Drs. L. L. Hunter and C. A. Helfrich.

Judgment for $120.64 in favor of the plaintiff was rendered in municipal court by Judge J. C. Hanley yesterday in connection with the suit brought by Helen and Bailey Hardman, 310 West Fifth street, against Roy Jackson, 1161 Harker avenue, as the result of an automobile collision on West Fifth street, February 28. The amount sued for in the action was $250.

John M. Manor, and Dewitt Irwin were fined $1 and costs each for parking in a restricted zone. Both are alleged to have parked their automobiles in front of the Little building for more than an hour Wednesday night. They were arrested by Patrolman Norman McFarland.

Ernest Hempbill, who was arrested by Patrolman Chester Smith on Pennsylvania avenue, early Thursday morning, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, was fined $1 and costs, amounting to $6.80.

Lighted Cigaret Blamed.

It is believed Ainsworth dozed on his bed with a lighted cigaret in his hand which set the bed afire.

When the body was picked up a package of cigarets was grasped in one hand.

The fire was confined to the one room.

George W. Walker of Cleveland, a friend of Ainsworth, identified the body. He said Ainsworth formerly operated station WMH at Cincinnati, but recently had gone into the radio manufacturing business. Walker estimated his wealth at approximately half a million dollars.

Ainsworth was 46 years old and married. He lived at 1541 Donaldson avenue, Cincinnati.

Once Public Accountant.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—Leo J. Ainsworth, 36, of 3541 Donaldson place, Cincinnati, who was killed in a fall from the nineteenth floor of the Hotel Morrison in Chicago, was president and general manager of the Ainsworth Radio company here.

Prior to his entry into the radio business several years ago, Ainsworth was a public accountant. He was born here and spent his entire life in this city. He was regarded as a man of trust and ability, his friends said today.

Ainsworth was survived by his widow, Mrs. Elsie Ainsworth, and one child, Gladys, 10. He also left his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ainsworth, now living in California.

Standard time will be resumed on Sept. 26.

TODAY

In fact, when innocent mineral water is served, the president turns his glass upside down, partly because he thinks plain water good enough, partly because mineral water glasses look like champagne glasses. That is a new experience for the Mayflower.

MORAL, particular ladies of various societies are annoyed that anyone should say George Washington brewed beer and drank it, to say nothing of stronger stuff. Others deny the story that Lincoln "wished the other general would drink U. S. Gant's brand of whisky and fight a little better," when told that Grant drank too much.

The ladies call it an outrage to say Gen. Grant drank, because he didn't.

The sad truth is, however, dear ladies, that wars are not usually won, nations established or European kings driven out by the nice, pure gentle, white rabbit type of man.

"No mountain without a valley," says the German proverb. No big man without big defects, says history.

Nelson, who won Trafalgar for the British, was not even a model husband, but he did win. That's the main thing.

BRITAIN'S independent labor party says the League of Nations is more apt to cause war than to prevent it. That is for Europe to decide.

The same independent laboratories want to be rid of Ramsay MacDonald and his influence in the Labor party. Ramsey McDonald is a self-educated man, knows history, and gentlemen that want to reform the world overnight are impatient of educated leadership. It doesn't always say "yes."

Those laborites decide to abolish the world "wages," substituting "income." That may sound better, but many a poor clergyman can testify that he would rather have the average brickleyer's "wages" than his own "income."

THIRD ARSON ARREST LOOMS

Police on Trail of Suspect in Vaughn Fire.

A third arrest in connection with the attempted burning of the Mrs. Agnes Vaughn home, Church and Crook alleys, last Saturday night, is expected within the next 24 hours.

The third suspect, who was implicated in a written confession made by William Uhlworm, arrested here Tuesday and who is now awaiting grand jury action on a charge of arson, is believed to be working in Pennsylvania. Police have forwarded a warrant to the police authorities there.

D. J. Connor, Youngstown, deputy state fire marshal, who arrived here today to investigate the fire, conferred with Chief of Police McDermott and Fire Chief Thomas Bryan.

Should the police fail to locate the third suspect before next week it is probable that he will be indicted by the grand jury upon testimony of Uhlworm and Clyde Jackson, who is also under arrest.

Police today declined to make public the name of the third suspect.

West End Boosters Plan Second Meet Wednesday Evening

Residents of the West End and "Sunny Side" districts met in the basement of the Anderson Methodist Episcopal church last evening and formed a tentative organization which will be known as The West Side Citizens' League.

Robert Stevenson, building contractor and member of the board of education, was elected temporary chairman, while Joseph Strauss was named secretary pending permanent organization. A committee consisting of Frank Harding, Louis Groglode and James Nagle was named to draft by-laws.

The organization will be completed next Wednesday evening. City officials will be invited to explain the proposed municipal building project.

About 45 residents of the district attended the meeting. Street improvements were among matters discussed.

Three Clubs Figure In Industrial League Player Deals

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS MONTH AWAY FROM CHAMPIONSHIP SPEED

DeLong Goes to K.T.K., Dustman to C.&P. Nine and Wyant to Chester

Bill Mundy Selected to Manage Hall China Club; Supplanting Vince McGeehan Who'll Handle Team's Business Affairs; D. & M. to be Official Ball.

A THREE cornered deal involving as many players was consummated at a meeting of the City Industrial Baseball league at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night when Catcher DeLong, recently traded back to Chester by Laughlin, was transferred to K. T. K. for First Bagman "Pete" Dustman, and the latter was then given over to Wellsville, where he started last season, for Pitcher Percy Wyant.

K. T. K. thus gets a hard-hitting catcher in DeLong, Wellsville will have one of the best fielding initial backers in the circuit and Chester can lay claim to one of the speediest southpaws in the organization. All the teams figuring in the deal, it is contended, will be greatly benefited by the acquisition of their respective stars.

The D. & M. baseball was decided upon as the official sphere of the league. It will have a cork and rubber center and will well meet the needs of the six clubs. With it will be given a loving cup which will be awarded the league pennant winners.

Mundy Is Manager.

Announcement was made of the promotion to the managership of the Hall China club of Bill Mundy, the old Boston Red Sox first baseman. By mutual agreement he will supplant Manager Vincent McGeehan, who will look after the business end of the club's affairs. Mundy piloted the famed McLean Tires to victory several years ago. McGeehan, at the time, was his star flinger. Both, accordingly, will be together again for the 1926 campaign.

The addition of Bill Mundy to the Hall managership gives the organization two pilots who in 1915 served in the ranks under Manager-Mayor Frank Riley, of Chester. This will materially stiffen the race when former mentor and pupils are pitted against each other in season's battles.

Decision was also made to carry out a financial campaign on April 21-22 for sufficient funds to carry the organization through the season intact. Details for the project have been completed by President C. C. Cline, who, with special aids, will have it in charge.

The various managers are rapidly rounding out the personnel of their clubs. Some additional trades can be expected before the season begins. All the clubs have posted the stipulated forfeits as evidence of good faith during the season.

REPAIR FIELD AT WELLSVILLE

C. & P. Nine to Shape up Lot in League Season.

Plans have been completed by the Wellsville City Industrial Baseball league club for a general overhauling of its diamond at Central park.

New seats are to be erected and left and center field conditions improved.

To this end a drive for funds has been arranged for Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17.

The grounds are to be put in such condition as to warrant also the holding in the late summer of a field meet by the Pennsylvania Railroad employes.

Manager O. O. Pearch declares it is the purpose of the club to have one of the finest playing fields in the Ohio valley when the planned improvements have been completed.

Such a movement will greatly stimulate interest in baseball in Wellsville since the lack of facilities there last year, with the inability to reach the spot by reason of torn-up condition of roadways between the city and East Liverpool greatly handicapped attendance last season.

RIVALS CLASH IN 4TH BATTLE

Christians-M. P.'s Resume Hostilities Tonight at High.

On the high school floor tonight the Christians and the Methodist Protestants will battle for basketball honors of the Sunday School league for the second half. A red hot clash is down on the boards.

The teams have met three times this season and every game was a battle.

The Christians hold the edge over the M. P.'s with two out of three games played. The M. P. five downed the Christians, 25 to 21, in the first clash of the season between the rivals.

Later in the season, the Christians evened up matters with a 33 to 30 conquest, the victory giving them first half honors.

The last game between the two teams was won by the Christians by a count of 40 to 38.

That the two teams are pretty evenly matched is indicated by the closeness of the scores.

Both teams are confident of victory. The probable lineups will be:

Christians.		M. P.'s.
Reese	F	Ankrim
Kimble	F	Mackey
Howard	C	Todd
R. Bloor	G	Carey
Heddleston	G	Weikart

Wills-Lenglen to Clash For Charity

PARIS, April 9.—Suzanne Lenglen and Helen Wills may meet in a match for charity in California at New Years, 1927, according to an announcement made today by William H. Pickens, representative of C. C. Pyle, who returned here today from Nice where he states he secured tentative acceptance by Mlle. Lenglen of an offer to go to the United States to appear in motion pictures.

Mlle. Lenglen has set her own price for her appearance in the motion pictures and Pickens is not returning to the United States for conferences to determine whether the price set by Suzanne is acceptable to the American promoters.

Although the proposed contract only calls for Suzanne's appearance in the motion pictures, she will take her rackets to the United States with her and Pickens said that she advised him that she would be willing to play for charity.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,

Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

The punch is put into the clubhead, with the "pull down" mostly by the twist of the shoulders and partly by the shooting forward action of the left hip at the instant the clubhead meets the ball. That is what fools the average golfer—he thinks it is body force that hits the ball. The correctly hit ball leaves you with the feeling that your body has had practically nothing to do with it.

PULLING CLUB DOWN WITH LEFT ARM.

At the top of the back swing the player adopting the "pull down" must understand that there is a momentary pause of the clubhead, to give it time to reverse its direction. From this pause, pull the club down and directly toward the ball. The grip of the shaft must at all times be so light that you feel the pull of the clubhead in the sensitive finger muscles. The instant the clubhead "gets away from you" you will miss this feel. You lose the clubhead in the back swing, usually, by breaking back the left wrist, which lets the clubhead get out of the fingers, and the arm and shoulder muscles are not sensitive enough to feel it. Balance it on your finger muscles and keep it there. Relaxation of the wrists at the start will keep you free from tightening, as a usual thing. By poising the club at the top you get the "pull down" started without a jerk. You will readily learn how hard you can pull without pressing, since the "pull down" usually works out that way. It makes a wonderful gauge with which to mark the line between swinging and pressing—something golfers have never been able really to get hold of.

CARP TRAINS FOR HUFFMAN BOUT

NEW YORK, April 9. — Having signed to meet Eddie Huffman, California light heavyweight, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden on May 21, Georges Carpentier planned today to begin serious training for the first time since his return to America some months ago. He expected to work out this afternoon at a local gymnasium with Hagen Hassan, Turkish heavyweight, and Frankie Callahan, welterweight, of Columbus, O.

The Frenchman declared that he was taking on Huffman only with the idea of clinching a match with Paul Berlenbach for the light heavyweight title.

YANKS, DODGERS BATTLE TODAY

RICHMOND, Va., April 9.—Only one jump away from home, the Yanks and Dodgers came into town today. The Yanks have won nine games and lost none, topping off their record with a 14 to 4 victory yesterday at Charlotte, Ruth, Lazerri and Koenig getting homers. The latter has hit safely in seventeen straight games. In all, the Yanks haven't been beaten in their last fourteen games in the South.

BOWLING GREEN GRIDDERS DRILL

Giants Trailing Nats.

NORFOLK, Va., April 9.—Two down and three to go, the New York Giants today were faced with the necessity of taking the three remaining games from the Washington Senators in order to win the series. It didn't look as thought they would yesterday when Reuther and Marberry shut them out in Atlanta, 7 to 0.

Sports in Hawaii.

During 1925 the total receipts of Moiliil Field, Honolulu's principal athletic field, were $140,177, a record sum.

BROOKLYN FIVE TRIMMED AGAIN

Rosies Now Hold Two-game Lead in Title Series.

CLEVELAND, O., April 9.—Three teams of basketball players seeking two world's championship titles and another now holding that honor but in danger of losing it, were enroute to New York today to stage the third and possibly last set of games of the 1926 series tonight.

They were the Cleveland and Brooklyn quints of the American Basketball league, in session for the men's title, with Cleveland holding a two-game lead in the series now; the Cleveland Newman-Sterns, entrants of the fifth city for the girls' world title and the commercial grads of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, present title holders, but standing second in the present series.

The Cleveland boys copped the second clash of the American league series here last night, 37-21, playing an almost unbeatable brand of basketball. They took an early lead and never relinquished it, although they loafed in the second half after running up a 23-9 score before the first resting period. Brooklyn trailed all the way and never threatened until the last few minutes of playing.

In the girls' series, Edmonton won last night, 26-21, but still stands second in the race for the titular honors. The series goes to the team making the highest number of points in all games played and will continue as long as the men play for their title. The Newman-Sterns won the first game, 23-16, and lost last night, 26-21, but still held on to the lead in scoring, the total now standing 44-42.

Track Stars Meet In Chicago Games

CHICAGO, April 9.—The appearance of Charley Hoff, Loren Murchison and De Hart Hubbard promises an interesting session for track fans attending the eighth annual bankers' indoor field meet at Broadway armory tonight.

Hoff will seek to break his own world record in the pole vault event. Murchison, international sprint champion, and Hubbard, holder of the broad jump record, will compete in their favorite fields.

Other well known athletes entered in the meet are: Harold W. Kennedy of Ohio State, Capt. Jimmy Cusack of the University of Chicago, George Schutt of Wisconsin and Charley Judge of Notre Dame.

A Veteran Jockey.

Cards Only National Loop Entry In Form

No Less Than Five Clubs, However, in American Circuit, Seem to be Ready With Plenty of Speed at the Pole.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Only four days to go to the official opening of the major league season, but, from all accounts today, some of the ball clubs are as much as a month "away" from championship speed. The National league field is particularly late in its development this year, the St. Louis Cardinals being the only apparent exception worthy of note. The Cards have won a lot of ball games in the south.

Of the American league entries, however, less than five, namely, the Senators, Athletics, Browns, White Sox and Yankees, seem to be ready. It looks like a merry occasion with all this early speed mustered at the pole.

Unforeseen circumstances have connived to delay many National league clubs. The Pirates have been hampered alike by the temporary loss of Carey, Traynor and Moore and the bad weather they encountered during their trip east from California. The Giants left Sarasota with quite a ball club, but absurd railroad jumps, one of them as long as 36 hours, have thrown the boys for a loss. Kelly and Frisch lost their batting eyes, enroute, and the only pitcher who now seems ready is Jimmy Ring.

Braves Fall Away.

The Reds' development has been retarded by Luque's troubles and the semi-failure of Emmer as a shortstop. The Braves started like a rolling stone on a moss-covered incline, but have fallen away from their great form of the early training season. They should be a right fair spring outfit, at that, with all their pitching, and Brown's complex for early season hitting.

The Phillies need a first baseman, Bentley having failed to make the riffle, and are short on pitchers, as always. They have just been knocked off by the Athletics and seem to be going nowhere in particular. Neither are the Dodgers at this moment. Their infield is said to be terrible, no less, and the Yankees' hitting has made their pitchers look all to the falsetto. Even Vance and Grimes have failed to stop the deluge.

The Cubs never were much, anyhow, but Alexander's injury has just about made the thing official. If the Cubs go anywhere this year, the writer will guarantee to invent square peas for use on slippery knives.

The American league situation is more optimistic. The Yankees, not highly esteemed through the winter, have come up from nowhere to serious consideration, largely through the development of the juvenile second-base combination of Lazerri and Koenig. If these young men step right along with the pace, the Yanks will be hard to stop, for they have tremendous hitting and plenty of pitching.

Browns Moving Along.

The Senators have started to hit and look very good at this moment. John McGraw says they will win and maybe they will, in spite of this handicap. The Athletics seem to have everything, with the possible exception of the will to win, and the Browns are said to be moving very fast, with Sisler showing more as an individual than at any time since his great season of 1922.

The Indians started the training season with infield weaknesses, which in nowise were relieved by the incident whereby Hodapp, the $50.000 recruit, broke a careless leg. The Indians, like the Dodgers, are grabbing any infielder a rival club tries to waive into the outer darkness.

Ty Cobb hasn't given the boys much of a line on his Tigers, except that he is experimenting with his infield, which is not a hopeful sign. Neither is there a great deal known of the Red Sox and most of that is unfortunate.

However, the White Sox are going well and getting good pitching. They claim Everett Scott has worked in nicely with Collins around second base and that the club is headed for the first division. Still, you can't put six clubs in four places.

Ray Buzzard Is Farmed Out to York By Cleveland Club

Outfielder Ray Buzzard, last year a star on the Babcock & Wilcox club of the Industrial Baseball league, will be farmed out by the Cleveland Americans, to whom he belongs, to the York, Pa., club for the coming season.

Young Buzzard, who, apparently, has all the potentialities of a coming ball player, is a student at Western Reserve University, in Cleveland, where he is seeking a sheepskin and a law degree.

He has been working out with the Reserve baseball club, of which he is captain and star outgardener, for several weeks, although most of their drilling has been indoors on account of weather conditions.

A berth in the New York-Pennsylvania circuit, under the direction of Manager Frank Dessau, is counted upon by officials of the Cleveland club to give Buzzard a real opportunity to develop his capabilities.

The D. & M. baseball was decided upon as the official sphere of the league. It will have a cork and rubber center and will well meet the needs of the six clubs. With it will be given a loving cup which will be awarded the league pennant winners.

Mundy Is Manager.

Announcement was made of the promotion to the managership of the Hall China club of Bill Mundy, the old Boston Red Sox first baseman. By mutual agreement he will supplant Manager Vincent McGeehan, who will look after the business end of the club's affairs. Mundy piloted the famed McLean Tires to victory several years ago. McGeehan, at the time, was his star flinger. Both, accordingly, will be together again for the 1926 campaign.

The addition of Bill Mundy to the Hall managership gives the organization two pilots who in 1915 served in the ranks under Manager-Mayor Frank Riley, of Chester. This will materially stiffen the race when former mentor and pupils are pitted against each other in season's battles.

Decision was also made to carry out a financial campaign on April 21-22 for sufficient funds to carry the organization through the season intact. Details for the project have been completed by President C. C. Cline, who, with special aids, will have it in charge.

The various managers are rapidly rounding out the personnel of their clubs. Some additional trades can be expected before the season begins. All the clubs have posted the stipulated forfeits as evidence of good faith during the season.

REPAIR FIELD AT WELLSVILLE

C. & P. Nine to Shape up Lot in League Season.

Plans have been completed by the Wellsville City Industrial Baseball league club for a general overhauling of its diamond at Central park.

New seats are to be erected and left and center field conditions improved.

To this end a drive for funds has been arranged for Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17.

The grounds are to be put in such condition as to warrant also the holding in the late summer of a field meet by the Pennsylvania Railroad employes.

Manager O. O. Pearch declares it is the purpose of the club to have one of the finest playing fields in the Ohio valley when the planned improvements have been completed.

Such a movement will greatly stimulate interest in baseball in Wellsville since the lack of facilities there last year, with the inability to reach the spot by reason of torn-up condition of roadways between the city and East Liverpool greatly handicapped attendance last season.

RIVALS CLASH IN 4TH BATTLE

Christians-M. P.'s Resume Hostilities Tonight at High.

On the high school floor tonight the Christians and the Methodist Protestants will battle for basketball honors of the Sunday School league for the second half. A red hot clash is down on the boards.

The teams have met three times this season and every game was a battle.

The Christians hold the edge over the M. P.'s with two out of three games played. The M. P. five downed the Christians, 25 to 21, in the first clash of the season between the rivals.

Later in the season, the Christians evened up matters with a 33 to 30 conquest, the victory giving them first half honors.

The last game between the two teams was won by the Christians by a count of 40 to 38.

That the two teams are pretty evenly matched is indicated by the closeness of the scores.

Both teams are confident of victory. The probable lineups will be:

Christians.		M. P.'s.

Wills-Lenglen to Clash For Charity

PARIS, April 9.—Suzanne Lenglen and Helen Wills may meet in a match for charity in California at New Years, 1927, according to an announcement made today by William H. Pickens, representative of C. C. Pyle, who returned here today from Nice where he states he secured tentative acceptance by Mlle. Lenglen of an offer to go to the United States to appear in motion pictures.

Mlle. Lenglen has set her own price for her appearance in the motion pictures and Pickens is not returning to the United States for conferences to determine whether the price set by Suzanne is acceptable to the American promoters.

Although the proposed contract only calls for Suzanne's appearance in the motion pictures, she will take her rackets to the United States with her and Pickens said that she advised him that she would be willing to play for charity.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,

The punch is put into the clubhead, with the "pull down" mostly by the twist of the shoulders and partly by the shooting forward action of the left hip at the instant the clubhead meets the ball. That is what fools the average golfer—he thinks it is body force that hits the ball. The correctly hit ball leaves you with the feeling that your body has had practically nothing to do with it.

At the top of the back swing the player adopting the "pull down" must understand that there is a momentary pause of the clubhead, to give it time to reverse its direction. From this pause, pull the club down and directly toward the ball. The grip of the shaft must at all times be so light that you feel the pull of the clubhead in the sensitive finger muscles. The instant the clubhead "gets away from you" you will miss this feel. You lose the clubhead in the back swing, usually, by breaking back the left wrist, which lets the clubhead get out of the fingers, and the arm and shoulder muscles are not sensitive enough to feel it. Balance it on your finger muscles and keep it there. Relaxation of the wrists at the start will keep you free from tightening, as a usual thing. By poising the club at the top you get the "pull down" started without a jerk. You will readily learn how hard you can pull without pressing, since the "pull down" usually works out that way. It makes a wonderful gauge with which to mark the line between swinging and pressing—something golfers have never been able really to get hold of.

CARP TRAINS FOR HUFFMAN BOUT

NEW YORK, April 9. — Having signed to meet Eddie Huffman, California light heavyweight, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden on May 21, Georges Carpentier planned today to begin serious training for the first time since his return to America some months ago. He expected to work out this afternoon at a local gymnasium with Hagen Hassan, Turkish heavyweight, and Frankie Callahan, welterweight, of Columbus, O.

The Frenchman declared that he was taking on Huffman only with the idea of clinching a match with Paul Berlenbach for the light heavyweight title.

YANKS, DODGERS BATTLE TODAY

RICHMOND, Va., April 9.—Only one jump away from home, the Yanks and Dodgers came into town today. The Yanks have won nine games and lost none, topping off their record with a 14 to 4 victory yesterday at Charlotte, Ruth, Lazerri and Koenig getting homers. The latter has hit safely in seventeen straight games. In all, the Yanks haven't been beaten in their last fourteen games in the South.

GUN CLUB SHOOT HERE TOMORROW

The East Liverpool Gun club will hold a shoot tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the range near the Country club.

Officers of the club announced that any and all marksmen will be welcome to take part in the affair.

BOWLING GREEN GRIDDERS DRILL

BOWLING GREEN, O., April 9.—Forty high school veterans have answered Coach Bob Rettig's call for spring football practice. Bob said that he expected to place a veteran team on the field next fall.

Giants Trailing Nats.

NORFOLK, Va., April 9.—Two down and three to go, the New York Giants today were faced with the necessity of taking the three remaining games from the Washington Senators in order to win the series. It didn't look as thought they would yesterday when Reuther and Marberry shut them out in Atlanta, 7 to 0.

Sports in Hawaii.

During 1925 the total receipts of Moiliili Field, Honolulu's principal athletic field, were $140,177, a record sum.

BROOKLYN FIVE TRIMMED AGAIN

Rosies Now Hold Two-game Lead in Title Series.

CLEVELAND, O., April 9.—Three teams of basketball players seeking two world's championship titles and another now holding that honor but in danger of losing it, were enroute to New York today to stage the third and possibly last set of games of the 1926 series tonight.

They were the Cleveland and Brooklyn quints of the American Basketball league, in session for the men's title, with Cleveland holding a two-game lead in the series now; the Cleveland Newman Sterns, entrants of the fifth city for the girls' world title and the commercial grads of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, present title holders, but standing second in the present series.

The Cleveland boys copped the second clash of the American league series here last night, 37-21, playing an almost unbeatable brand of basketball. They took an early lead and never relinquished it, although they loafed in the second half after running up a 23-9 score before the first resting period. Brooklyn trailed all the way and never threatened until the last few minutes of playing.

In the girls' series, Edmonton won last night, 26-21, but still stands second in the race for the titular honors. The series goes to the team making the highest number of points in all games played and will continue as long as the men play for their title. The Newman Sterns won the first game, 23-16, and lost last night, 26-21, but still held on to the lead in scoring, the total now standing 44-42.

Track Stars Meet In Chicago Games

CHICAGO, April 9.—The appearance of Charley Hoff, Loren Murchison and De Hart Hubbard promises an interesting session for track fans attending the eighth annual bankers' indoor field meet at Broadway armory tonight.

Hoff will seek to break his own world record in the pole vault event. Murchison, international sprint champion, and Hubbard, holder of the broad jump record, will compete in their favorite fields.

Other well known athletes entered in the meet are: Harold W. Kennedy of Ohio State, Capt. Jimmy Cusack of the University of Chicago, George Schutt of Wisconsin and Charley Judge of Notre Dame.

A Veteran Jockey.

Cards Only National Loop Entry In Form

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Only four days to go to the official opening of the major league season, but, from all accounts today, some of the ball clubs are as much as a month "away" from championship speed. The National league field is particularly late in its development this year, the St. Louis Cardinals being the only apparent exception worthy of note. The Cards have won a lot of ball games in the south.

Of the American league entries, however, less than five, namely, the Senators, Athletics, Browns, White Sox and Yankees, seem to be ready. It looks like a merry occasion with all this early speed mustered at the pole.

Unforeseen circumstances have connived to delay many National league clubs. The Pirates have been hampered alike by the temporary loss of Carey, Traynor and Moore and the bad weather they encountered during their trip east from California. The Giants left Sarasota with quite a ball club, but absurd railroad jumps, one of them as long as 36 hours, have thrown the boys for a loss. Kelly and Frisch lost their batting eyes, enroute, and the only pitcher who now seems ready is Jimmy Ring.

Braves Fall Away.

The Reds' development has been retarded by Luque's troubles and the semi-failure of Emmer as a shortstop. The Braves started like a rolling stone on a moss-covered incline, but have fallen away from their great form of the early training season. They should be a right fair spring outfit, at that, with all their pitching, and Brown's complex for early season hitting.

The Phillies need a first baseman, Bentley having failed to make the riffle, and are short on pitchers, as always. They have just been knocked off by the Athletics and seem to be going nowhere in particular. Neither are the Dodgers at this moment. Their infield is said to be terrible, no less, and the Yankees' hitting has made their pitchers look all to the falsetto. Even Vance and Grimes have failed to stop the deluge.

The Cubs never were much, anyhow, but Alexander's injury has just about made the thing official. If the Cubs go anywhere this year, the writer will guarantee to invent square peas for use on slippery knives.

The American league situation is more optimistic. The Yankees, not highly esteemed through the winter, have come up from nowhere to serious consideration, largely through the development of the juvenile second-base combination of Lazerri and Koenig. If these young men step right along with the pace, the Yanks will be hard to stop, for they have tremendous hitting and plenty of pitching.

Browns Moving Along.

The Senators have started to hit and look very good at this moment. John McGraw says they will win and maybe they will, in spite of this handicap. The Athletics seem to have everything, with the possible exception of the will to win, and the Browns are said to be moving very fast, with Sisler showing more as an individual than at any time since his great season of 1922.

The Indians started the training season with infield weaknesses, which in nowise were relieved by the incident whereby Hodapp, the $50,000 recruit, broke a careless leg. The Indians, like the Dodgers, are grabbing any infielder a rival club tries to waive into the outer darkness.

Ty Cobb hasn't given the boys much of a line on his Tigers, except that he is experimenting with his infield, which is not a hopeful sign. Neither is there a great deal known of the Red Sox and most of that is unfortunate.

However, the White Sox are going well and getting good pitching. They claim Everett Scott has worked in nicely with Collins around second base and that the club is headed for the first division. Still, you can't put six clubs in four places.

Ray Buzzard Is Farmed Out to York By Cleveland Club

Outfielder Ray Buzzard, last year a star on the Babcock & Wilcox club of the Industrial Baseball league, will be farmed out by the Cleveland Americans, to whom he belongs, to the York, Pa., club for the coming season.

Young Buzzard, who, apparently, has all the potentialities of a coming ball player, is a student at Western Reserve University, in Cleveland, where he is seeking a sheepskin and a law degree.

He has been working out with the Reserve baseball club, of which he is captain and star outgardener, for several weeks, although most of their drilling has been indoors on account of weather conditions.

A berth in the New York-Pennsylvania circuit, under the direction of Manager Frank Dessau, is counted upon by officials of the Cleveland club to give Buzzard a real opportunity to develop his capabilities.

EVE'S TWO LOVERS

most wives, that is, wretchedly. Americans drink more coffee and worse coffee than any other race.

Eve was hungry but she did not enjoy the meal because she was worn out by the task of preparing it, and because her mind was occupied with Clay and his loan from John Ingate, and Clay and his attentions to Madeline.

Clay evidently enjoyed Madeline's superficial viewpoints and silly chatter. The two of them monopolized the conversation, with the guest doing most of the talking. Finally she jumped up from the table, nearly upsetting her water, to show Clay a new dance step, and then invited him to try it with her.

"Please eat your food now before it gets cold," Eve pleaded, plainly annoyed. "It's bad enough as it is."

"Oh, I've tasted worse,' Madeline replied, with a smile that implied she was being complimentary. "It won't take us but a minute to get this. . . . I wish you had some music. Why don't you get a phonograph or a radio or something?" And she went ahead with her demonstration for five minutes more, with Eve's lower lid pressing more tightly against its mate every moment.

When Madeline did sit down again she did not attempt to touch her food. Nor did Clay, so occupied was he with her chatter. After several minutes of painful watching, Eve got up and removed the plates, reappearing with the ice cream and coffee. These Madeline went to with relish. "I could live on nut sundaes," she announced. "Have you got any nuts? . . . Mother always puts nuts on my ice cream."

"Only kind of nuts we've got around here is married people," Clay laughed. The remark was no more silly than others he made in the course of his exchanges with the visitor. Persons like Clay and Madeline never make any but commonplace and obvious remarks. How inane is the conversation of most humans!

"Hope you two aren't going to crawl into a hole and get crabby like most people who get married," Madeline ventured. "I don't see why people can't go ahead and have good times. Go to dances and places."

"Usually, I suppose, they can't afford it," Eve remarked quietly. She did not see Clay frown across at her.

"It doesn't cost much to dance a whole evening down at the Dreamland Garden and you can have lots of fun. You must come down there Friday night. There's going to be a Pirate ball Friday night."

"Let's go, Eve," Clay looked over at his wife brightly.

"I'm going to go stag, I think," Madeline put in. "It's more fun when you go stag. Meet lots of fellows. Most of them are eggs, of course, and try to get fresh, but lots of nice fellows meet girls there, too. Meeting fellows at a dance hall isn't like just meeting them anywhere."

"I don't see why not,' Eve interjected.

"Well, it isn't. You know what kind of a fellow is after you see him dance. I don't mean that the best dancers are the best fellows, but you can always tell."

Eve was unable to follow her cousin's reasoning, but did not attempt to reply.

"I guess that a fellow who can't dance is a blank," Clay decided.

At last, after what seemed hours to Eve, Madeline made her departure. "You must come again," Eve said, without wanting to.

"You bet I will. Certainly enjoyed myself. . . . I'll see you two Friday night at Dreamland Garden. . . Well, don't take any wooden nickles."

Eve turned wearily away from the door.

"Madeline's a card, isn't she?" Clay lit a cigarette.

"Come and sit down, Clay, I want to talk to you."

He picked up the evening paper as he went to her side, and was opening it up when she took it out of his hands.

"I am very angry, and hurt, Clay, because you went to John for money after I asked you not to."

Clay flushed. "But——'

Eve shook her head. "No, there is no excuse. You must return it to him tomorrow. Do you understand?"

"Aw——." Her commanding tone irritated him.

"Promise me you will."

"I can't—exactly."

His wife's eyes widened. "Have you gone ahead and bought a house without letting me——?"

"I didn't get it for a house. It was only a hundred dollars."

"That's what you told John Ingate, that you borrowed it to make first payment on a house."

"I know. I just told him that."

"Clay! What did you want it for? Haven't you money in the bank?"

His glance shifted guiltily.

"I'm sorry, Eve, but I lost the money I had in the bank." He did not look at her.

"Oh, Clay! . . . . How?"

"Well, I was playing the other night. Just a friendly game, and——'

"Oh, Clay!"

TROTTER'S

most wives, that is, wretchedly. Americans drink more coffee and worse coffee than any other race.

Eve was hungry but she did not enjoy the meal because she was worn out by the task of preparing it, and because her mind was occupied with Clay and his loan from John Ingate, and Clay and his attentions to Madeline.

Clay evidently enjoyed Madeline's superficial viewpoints and silly chatter. The two of them monopolized the conversation, with the guest doing most of the talking. Finally she jumped up from the table, nearly upsetting her water, to show Clay a new dance step, and then invited him to try it with her.

"Please eat your food now before it gets cold," Eve pleaded, plainly annoyed. "It's bad enough as it is."

"Oh, I've tasted worse,' Madeline replied, with a smile that implied she was being complimentary. "It won't take us but a minute to get this. . . . I wish you had some music. Why don't you get a phonograph or a radio or something?" And she went ahead with her demonstration for five minutes more, with Eve's lower lid pressing more tightly against its mate every moment.

When Madeline did sit down again she did not attempt to touch her food. Nor did Clay, so occupied was he with her chatter. After several minutes of painful watching, Eve got up and removed the plates, reappearing with the ice cream and coffee. These Madeline went to with relish. "I could live on nut sundaes," she announced. "Have you got any nuts? . . . Mother always puts nuts on my ice cream."

"Only kind of nuts we've got around here is married people," Clay laughed. The remark was no more silly than others he made in the course of his exchanges with the visitor. Persons like Clay and Madeline never make any but commonplace and obvious remarks. How inane is the conversation of most humans!

"Hope you two aren't going to crawl into a hole and get crabby like most people who get married," Madeline ventured. "I don't see why people can't go ahead and have good times. Go to dances and places."

"Usually, I suppose, they can't afford it," Eve remarked quietly. She did not see Clay frown across at her.

"It doesn't cost much to dance a whole evening down at the Dreamland Garden and you can have lots of fun. You must come down there Friday night. There's going to be a Pirate ball Friday night."

"Let's go, Eve," Clay looked over at his wife brightly.

"I'm going to go stag, I think," Madeline put in. "It's more fun when you go stag. Meet lots of fellows. Most of them are eggs, of course, and try to get fresh, but lots of nice fellows meet girls there, too. Meeting fellows at a dance hall isn't like just meeting them anywhere."

"I don't see why not,' Eve interjected.

"Well, it isn't. You know what kind of a fellow is after you see him dance. I don't mean that the best dancers are the best fellows, but you can always tell."

Eve was unable to follow her cousin's reasoning, but did not attempt to reply.

"I guess that a fellow who can't dance is a blank," Clay decided.

At last, after what seemed hours to Eve, Madeline made her departure. "You must come again," Eve said, without wanting to.

"You bet I will. Certainly enjoyed myself. . . . I'll see you two Friday night at Dreamland Garden. . . Well, don't take any wooden nickles."

Eve turned wearily away from the door.

"Madeline's a card, isn't she?" Clay lit a cigarette.

"Come and sit down, Clay, I want to talk to you."

He picked up the evening paper as he went to her side, and was opening it up when she took it out of his hands.

"I am very angry, and hurt, Clay, because you went to John for money after I asked you not to."

Clay flushed. "But——'

Eve shook her head. "No, there is no excuse. You must return it to him tomorrow. Do you understand?"

"Aw——." Her commanding tone irritated him.

"Promise me you will."

"I can't—exactly."

His wife's eyes widened. "Have you gone ahead and bought a house without letting me——?"

"I didn't get it for a house. It was only a hundred dollars."

"That's what you told John Ingate, that you borrowed it to make first payment on a house."

"I know. I just told him that."

"Clay! What did you want it for? Haven't you money in the bank?"

His glance shifted guiltily.

"I'm sorry, Eve, but I lost the money I had in the bank." He did not look at her.

"Oh, Clay! . . . . How?"

"Well, I was playing the other night. Just a friendly game, and I——'

STATUTES ARE LITERARY JUNK HEAPS; JUDGE WANTS TIME LIMIT ON LAWS

TRENTON, N. J.—Justice Charles W. Parker of the New Jersey supreme court is in favor of putting a time limit on laws as a remedy for the present multiplicity and confusion of statutes in the United States.

"The enactment of laws with a time limit," said Justice Parker, "was a very old and frequent practice both in England and New Jersey before the Revolution, a practice which, in my view, could be revived with great benefit to the public.

"Our statute books resemble an old storehouse cluttered with the accumulation of generations. Most of the states from time to time have tried to clean house by revising or consolidating their statutes, but while they have been at work in one part of the house, the legislatures have kept dumping in new measures with little regard to orderly arrangement."

STATUTES ARE LITERARY JUNK HEAPS; JUDGE WANTS TIME LIMIT ON LAWS

TRENTON, N. J.—Justice Charles W. Parker of the New Jersey supreme court is in favor of putting a time limit on laws as a remedy for the present multiplicity and confusion of statutes in the United States.

"The enactment of laws with a time limit," said Justice Parker, "was a very old and frequent practice both in England and New Jersey before the Revolution, a practice which, in my view, could be revived with great benefit to the public.

"Our statute books resemble an old storehouse cluttered with the accumulation of generations. Most of the states from time to time have tried to clean house by revising or consolidating their statutes, but while they have been at work in one part of the house, the legislatures have kept dumping in new measures with little regard to orderly arrangement."

MARY PLAYS IN ROLE OF URCHIN

Celebrated Movie Star Abandons Costume Plays.

Mary Pickford has joined the "back-to-the-earlier-days" movement and in her new photoplay, "Little Annie Rooney," now playing at the American theatre under a United Artists Corporation release, will be seen at her best in the hoydenish and raggamuffin roles that so endeared her to the public and won for her the title "The World's Sweetheart." She has temporarily, at least, abandoned the fussy furbelows of the costume drama, and the golden slippers of the fairy tale.

To just what extent Miss Pickford has made this change in film characterization may be judged from the title of her new production—"Little Annie Rooney"—and the fact that she appears as the twelve-year-old daughter of a popular policeman, leads a group of dirty-faced youngsters in kid battles against a rival gang, and secretly adore Joe Kelly, a hulking truck driver, who is the pal of her brother, Tim Rooney.

Not much similarity here to the sweeping costumes aof laces and velvets of "Dorothy Vernon" or the gaily colored shawls, drooping fans and languishing eyes of "Rosita." And there are no castles with their moats; no palaces with their princes. On the contrary, Annie Rooney's costume consists of checkered gingham, with here and there a button missing, and there a patch; cotton stockings with runs that have been darned and some that haven't, and more or less down-at-the-heel shoes. Annie never wears a hat.

As for the locale—the squalid tenement house district of the lower East Side in New York; and the sets are described as marvels of accuracy in detail. The broken bath-tub at the correct spot; discarded boots and shoes aimed at yowling cats lie in the littered area ways and backyards; the inevitable washing dangles from ropes stretching from window to window. The Brooklyn bridge plays an important part in the story and has been faithfully reproduced.

There are youngsters galore in "Little Annie Rooney," most of whom never before have been before the camera. They are of all types and nationalities. Dogs, goats, monkeys and horses, also are included in the "cast."

MARY PLAYS IN ROLE OF URCHIN

Celebrated Movie Star Abandons Costume Plays.

Mary Pickford has joined the "back-to-the earlier-days" movement and in her new photoplay, "Little Annie Rooney," now playing at the American theatre under a United Artists Corporation release, will be seen at her best in the hoydenish and raggamuffin roles that so endeared her to the public and won for her the title "The World's Sweetheart." She has temporarily, at least, abandoned the fussy furbelows of the costume drama, and the golden slippers of the fairy tale.

To just what extent Miss Pickford has made this change in film characterization may be judged from the title of her new production—"Little Annie Rooney"—and the fact that she appears as the twelve-year-old daughter of a popular policeman, leads a group of dirty-faced youngsters in kid battles against a rival gang, and secretly adore Joe Kelly, a hulking truck driver, who is the pal of her brother, Tim Rooney.

Not much similarity here to the sweeping costumes aof laces and velvets of "Dorothy Vernon" or the gaily colored shawls, drooping fans and languishing eyes of "Rosita." And there are no castles with their moats; no palaces with their princes. On the contrary, Annie Rooney's costume consists of checkered gingham, with here and there a button missing, and there a patch; cotton stockings with runs that have been darned and some that haven't, and more or less down-at-the-heel shoes. Annie never wears a hat.

As for the locale—the squalid tenement house district of the lower East Side in New York; and the sets are described as marvels of accuracy in detail. The broken bath-tub at the correct spot; discarded boots and shoes aimed at yowling cats lie in the littered area ways and backyards; the inevitable washing dangles from ropes stretching from window to window. The Brooklyn bridge plays an important part in the story and has been faithfully reproduced.

There are youngsters galore in "Little Annie Rooney," most of whom never before have been before the camera. They are of all types and nationalities. Dogs, goats, monkeys and horses, also are included in the "cast."

Agrees to Supply Public at Request of Baseball Fans

WONDERFUL FOR PEOPLE WITH ACHES AND PAINS

SAME REMEDY USED AT THE BALL PARK.

At the request of baseball fans, newspaper men and druggists, Mike Martin, the famous Big League Baseball trainer, has mixed up a huge batch of the liniment they use at the ball park—had a folder prepared telling how to use it for various ailments noted below, and arranged through a big concern to supply the public through drug stores at a ridiculous price per bottle considering the expensive ingredients and result it produces.

Hundreds of Big League Stars like Ty Cobb, Coveleski, Walter Johnson, Bucky Harris and others use this liniment of Mike Martin's because they cannot afford to be laid up a single day and it is by far the quickest, surest, safe liniment money can buy. It is the result of Mike Martin's twenty years of experience and he has a world wide reputation of magically putting men back in shape almost over night, no matter what seems to ail them.

Suppose somebody at home is injured. Suppose dad has Lumbago, Neuritis, Neuralgia or Sciatica pains, or suppose mother has a lame back, achy feet or a swollen, strained or sprained wrist. Suppose the kids get hurt at play. Suppose some body has a bad chest cold, stiff neck or an ache or pain of any kind. Think how invaluable it is to have Mike Martin's folder telling you how to fix is up and a bottle of the very remedy they use at the ball park where men are getting hurt, stiff, achy, sore or lame all the time.

This liniment of Mike Martin's is so superior to anything else made that athletes all over the country use it. The trainer of Pittsburgh's fighting ball team uses and indorses it. George Sisler says his team uses it. Ball teams in both leagues, swimmers, wrestlers, fighters, dancers all use it. They would buy it regardless of how much it costs. It is hoped no one who suffers will be missed in this distribution of Mike Martin's Liniment. Get a bottle tonight even though you have no need for it now. It's worth its weight in gold when an accident happens or at night when you can't sleep because of achy back or wheezing cold or rheumatic pains. SAYS HE CAN STOP ANY SORT OF ACHE OR PAIN

Doesn't Believe There is an Ache or Pain He Can't Stop

WIZARD AT KEEPING MEN PHYSICALLY FIT

Formerly with Cincinnati "Reds," New York "Yankees," Princeton, Columbia and other universities. A trainer of athletes for 20 years.

"Big league stars and athletes seem to catch cold quicker and develop more than the average aches and pains, stiffness, soreness, rheumatism twinges, etc.," declares Mike Martin, "but of course, in athletics and baseball they get more than their share of bumps and it shows upon them and affects their play while a business man or woman goes on suffering without saying a word.

"During the years I've handled athletes—since away back in the old bicycle racing days—I guess I've handled about every sort of ache or pain that is known, and I'm convinced if you'll use the stuff we use at the ball park of the big league nowadays that anybody can easily and quickly banish such troubles.

"I spend a lot of money employing chemists to perfect a liniment for my own use. I order the best of everything put into it. I never dreamed of selling it. I was amazed at results. Other trainers got wind of it and today they use it all over the country. It keeps me so busy mixing it for athletes, colleges and trainers, hesitated a long time about supplying the public but if it will help some poor old man or old lady or some crying kid to get relief from their misery and pain I'm glad to do it. I've arranged with a big concern to handle the details of bottling, labeling and supplying the drug stores and I've fixed it so anybody, no matter how poor can for a few cents get a good-sized bottel and with each bottle comes a folder telling how to use it.

"I want to assure everybody that I am back of this liniment with my name and reputation. I'm not in the medicine business. I love baseball and my work of keeping the Washington ball club in trim too much for that, and so if any single person fails to get results, I don't want the bottle of liniment to cost a penny. I'll refund their money on request. All I can say is that my twenty years' experience tells me if you use it according to directions you will be pleasantly surprised."

"I have used Mike Martin's Liniment for many years and consider it the best liniment ever made for a pitcher's arm or for sore, achy stiff muscles. All the men I know in the game use Mike Martin's Liniment." Signed Walter Johnson. Pitcher Washington Baseball team.

Ty Cobb.

"Without the aid of Mike Martin's Liniment it would have been impossible for me to play ball during the reecnt season. You will recall my knee was seriously injured and I attribute my quick recovery exclusively to Mike Martin's Liniment." Signed Tyrus R. Cobb, Manager Detroit "Tigers."

AS A NATION—WE BELIEVE IN SANTA CLAUS!

There is no Nation on the face of the Globe that lives like us Americans! The Luxury of today is the Necessity of tomorrow and ALL of us participate in these good things—not alone the independently wealthy. And there are a lot of otherwise straight thinkers who look on this condition with FEAR for the future!

We wear the best shoes, the best clothes, own more homes, and BETTER homes, drive more automobiles, manipulate more radios, play more hours, get bigger pay, see better shows, have better general HEALTH and the BEST teeth than any other set of folks in a panting world!

And for the life of one, I can't see where anybody's got anything to fear! We had quite a scuffle here a few years back in the World quarrel, but looking over the returns we didn't see any PARTICULAR evidence of Uncle Sam getting soft, flabby and goofy from high living. Not so it was remarked on—ANYway!

Which assortment of thoughts may or may NOT have anything to do with this business but they were on my chest and needed a thorough airing!

What are YOUR feelings on this subject?

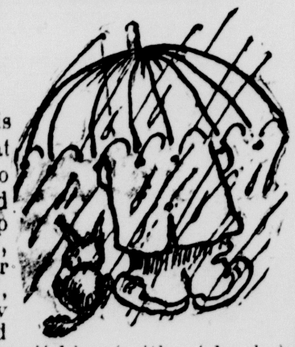
SHORTY SAYS:



Personally I think Jack is starting to crank up a sweat for the 4th of July! It's too far off for Christmas or I'd suspicion he was working up a Xmas sale. It's a fact, tho', that a lean pocketbook never keep an American from eatin', livin', wearin' and drivin' how and WHAT he WANTS. And he lives in a country that'll permit him (without hooks) to CHANGE the size of his pocketbook any time he sees fit.

Which reminds me that Jack can raise MY pay any time he feels like it.

AS A NATION—WE BELIEVE IN SANTA CLAUS!

There is no Nation on the face of the Globe that lives like us Americans! The Luxury of today is the Necessity of tomorrow and ALL of us participate in these good things—not alone the independently wealthy. And there are a lot of otherwise straight thinkers who look on this condition with FEAR for the future!

We wear the best shoes, the best clothes, own more homes, and BETTER homes, drive more automobiles, manipulate more radios, play more hours, get bigger pay, see better shows, have better general HEALTH and the BEST teeth than any other set of folks in a panting world!

And for the life of one, I can't see where anybody's got anything to fear! We had quite a scuffle here a few years back in the World quarrel, but looking over the returns we didn't see any PARTICULAR evidence of Uncle Sam getting soft, flabby and goofy from high living. Not so it was remarked on—ANYway!

Which assortment of thoughts may or may NOT have anything to do with this business but they were on my chest and needed a thorough airing!

What are YOUR feelings on this subject?

Personally I think Jack is starting to crank up a sweat for the 4th of July! It's too far off for Christmas or I'd suspicion he was working up a Xmas sale. It's a fact, tho', that a lean pocketbook never keep an American from eatin', livin', wearin' and drivin' how and WHAT he WANTS. And he lives in a country that'll permit him (without hooks) to CHANGE the size of his pocketbook any time he sees fit.

Which reminds me that Jack can raise MY pay any time he feels like it.

SEVERAL FISHING STREAMS OPENED

With hook and line or trot line, one may catch the non-game fish at any time, L. G. Smith, chief clerk of the state game and fish commission, announced yesterday. His statement was prompted by the many inquiries that have come in since April has turned the average man's fancy to thoughts of fish and stream. There is doubt in the minds of many would-be fishman because the game laws say nothing about an open or closed season in catfish, sunfish, rock bass, chubs, suckers, gars and carp. The law's silence gives consent to catch such fish at any time, if lawful means are employed, Mr. Smith said.

Non-game fish may even be gigged at any time except this month, though game fish may not be gigged at any season.

Trout season will open May 1 and will last till July 31. Season for bass, perch and pickerel extends from July 1 to November 30, inclusive.

REV. L. L. HINTON SPEAKS AT MEET

Rev. L. L. Hinton, of Sandusky, O., spoke last night at the evangelistic services in the First Christian church. His subject was "Under the Juniper Tree."

Rev. Hinton said that if we are to accomplish anything we must not be discouraged, for back behind the shadow standeth God keeping watch over His own. He continued by stating that the proper study of "mankind is man." His subject tonight will be "What Is Man."

Several special musical numbers were given.

'LADY WHO LIED' STRAND MOVIE

Lewis Stone and Virginia Valli Head Cast in Picture.

Tense, terse, thrilling—here is stark drama, stark as the desert against which some of the scenes are pitched, yet smoldering with a passion akin to the blistering sun that heats the sands.

That's "The Lady Who Lied" which is being shown at the Strand theatre this week in connection with four Keith vaudeville acts.

Carewe and his technicians have reproduced such locales as the Sahara, Algiers, Venice, with telling realism. In fact, as regards the desert scenes, we see no difference between those in "Son of the Sahara," a previous Carewe production, and the present one, yet we are told that, while the former was actually made in the vicinity of Biskra, border town of the Sahara desert, the latter was filmed within the enclosure of a Hollywood studio.

You will find Lewis Stone, Virginia Valli, Nita Naldi and other players of proven capability in the chief roles.

And as for the story, if you have read Robert Hitchens' "Snake Bite," you will understand that "The Lady Who Lied," since it is an adaptation of that novel and a faithful one, offers prime entertainment.

Representing himself as superintendent of a mission, J. R. Penrose, a minister, raised money by taking collections in Glasgow motion picture theaters, and was sent to prison for three months on a charge of fraud.

"After three years of doctoring for my stomach I became discouraged and swore I wouldn't take anything else. I was bloated with gas all the time. Some one praised MAYR'S so highly that I decided to take a chance. I am now feeling like a new man." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Kerker Asthma Remedy

Recommended highly for asthma; also severe colds, coughs and "flu."

Active Glands Gave Napoleon Fighting Force

ACCORDING to a noted scientist, who has analyzed the action of the glands, Napoleon, one of the greatest fighters of all history, owed his courage and fighting force to large and extremely active glands.

Not only have the glands an important influence on the mind and character of the individual, but they also largely control health, energy and vitality, and it is by maintaining the normal functioning of the glands that we may combat sickness and ill health, according to eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic.

NASH AJAX SIX

Lead the World in Motor Car Value

March! 16,265 Cars

Greatest Nash Month— Greatest Ajax Month

February—with Nash-Ajax sales totaling 14,148 cars—set a new high mark for both Nash and Ajax—but March, with 16,265 cars, swept beyond even that great record.

And still factory production was not sufficient to fill additional bona fide March orders for 1,518 cars.

For Nash it was the 19th consecutive month that sales have exceeded the figure achieved by the corresponding month of the previous year—except for November, 1925, when production was slowed up to bring into manufacture the new "Enclosed Car" motor.

This great and growing national trend among buyers toward Nash and Ajax cars is assuming the proportions of a veritable landslide.

All because Nash-Ajax means greater Quality, greater Value, and far finer Performance—and people can't be told otherwise. It is only too apparent when you look at the cars.

Polyglot Chauffeur Again Takes Place On Paris Boulevards

PARIS.—The polyglot chauffeur is back on the boulevards. Little square cardboard signs are now hanging in some few cabs announcing the number of languages, spoken or understood by the driver.

The majority of these motor linguists are from the Near East where they have been forced to pick up a smattering of all languages. English is the commonest foreign language encountered in the taxi cab circles and after that German, Spanish, Russian, Italian.

Regular chauffeurs give a hostile eye to these newcomers and keep them off the stations, so they are compelled to cruise the boulevards for a "fare" that looks any nationality except French.

11 NEW AERIAL ROUTES MARKED

Cities are Linked by Day and Night Planes.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Uncle Sam is in the midst of his greatest advance in communications since the advent of the telegraph.

Eleven new air mail lines are being marked on the maps and others are projected. Soon the whole of the U. S. will be linked by day and night mail planes.

Scores of cities touched by the routes have advanced every facility to aid the flyers in their business of cutting commnnication days down to hours and hours to minutes.

Chicago, a main station on the government-operated transcontinental air mail route, soon will be the terminus of five daily mail and air express lines.

Three of these will go to Detroit, St. Louis and Minneapolis St. Paul. National Air Transport company, headed by Paul Henderson, former assistant postmaster general, will start service May 12 on its long route through the southwest.

And Henderson is considering the extension of the line to Mexico City. The original line, however, will have stops at St. Joseph and Kansas City, Forth Worth and Dallas, Tex.

11 NEW AERIAL ROUTES MARKED

Cities are Linked by Day and Night Planes.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Uncle Sam is in the midst of his greatest advance in communications since the advent of the telegraph.

Eleven new air mail lines are being marked on the maps and others are projected. Soon the whole of the U. S. will be linked by day and night mail planes.

Scores of cities touched by the routes have advanced every facility to aid the flyers in their business of cutting commnication days down to hours and hours to minutes.

Chicago, a main station on the government-operated transcontinental air mail route, soon will be the terminus of five daily mail and air express lines.

Three of these will go to Detroit, St. Louis and Minneapolis St. Paul. National Air Transport company, headed by Paul Henderson, former assistant postmaster general, will start service May 12 on its long route through the southwest.

And Henderson is considering the extension of the line to Mexico City. The original line, however, will have stops at St. Joseph and Kansas City, Forth Worth and Dallas, Tex.

APPEALS COURT GIVES RULINGS

Lower Court is Reversed in Only One Action Before Court.

Judgments rendered in common pleas court were all affirmed with but one exception by decisions handed down by the court of appeals just before the court closed its spring term in Lisbon Thursday afternoon. The lone exception of reversal was the case of George A. Anderson, against the state of Ohio, the plaintiff having been found guilty in the lower court last fall on a charge of manslaughter.

A victory was won by the city of East Palestine as defendant in error wherein Claude Lambright and others, plaintiffs in error, sought a reversal of the judgment in the lower court.

The plaintiffs in this case sued the municipality for $5,000 damages, the action being known in court as a "sewer case." The jury in this case returned a verdict in favor of the municipality, and the defendant then carried the verdict to common pleas court on error. The higher court sustained the judgment of the lower court.

By agreement of counsel, the case of the city of East Liverpool as plaintiff against William P. Stone, defendant, the cause has been continued until the next term of the appellate court in this county.

The error prosecuted in the case of James C. Azdell as plaintiff in error against J. C. Swickard, defendant in error, has been continued until the Carroll county term of the appellate court. W. H. Spence, counsel for the plaintiff in error, argued this case before the court while it was in this county, but Attorney W. A. O'Grady, representing the defendant in error, will not present his argument until the Carroll county term.

Judgment of the lower court was affirmed in the case of the Citizens Ice Corporation of Salem plaintiff against E. E. McCartney of Youngstown, defendant in error. This action had to do with the sale and interchange of boilers. The higher court declared in its decision there was no prejudicial error found in the court below and the judgment found in the lower court stands.

Judgment of the court below was affirmed in the case of Paul Jones and others, against K. L. Cobourn and others which was carried to the court on error.

Judgment was also affirmed in the case of James Camp, plaintiff in error, against Helen C. Robb and others, defendants in error.

The case of Thomas Cadwallader and others against C. V. Rakestraw of Salem, as defendant in error, has been contiued. There was no argument to the court in this prosecution of error.

In the case of A. H. Ketterer and others, against John Kaminsky and others, the judgment of the court below was affirmed.

A motion for a new trial was overruled, and the same judgment as rendered below was affirmed, was the decision handed down by the court in the case of Sarah Sanor and others, plaintiffs in error, against Emmett LeRoy Thomas, defendant in error.

There was no argument in the appeal case of Charity A. Burnett and others, plaintiffs, against the city of Wellsville, nor in the case of John D. Rehman, plaintiff in error, against Margaret G. Rehman. The sale rule applies in the case of Simon Burson, plaintiff in error, against Ruth May, defendant in error, and also in the case of Bell Burkhart, plaintiff in error, against Samuel Patrilla, defendant in error.

New Service Manager For Turk-Nash Sales Company

Hurley Williford, Graduate of Reeke-Nash Service Department, Cleveland, Joins Turk-Nash Organization Here.

Michael Turk, manager of the Turk-Nash Sales company, has just announced the appointment of Hurley Williford as his service manager.

"Recognizing the advantage of service to Nash and Ajax owners, I thought it advisable that as service manager I have a man thoroughly familiar with the products I sell," said Mr. Turk, regarding the new appointment.

"I have been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Williford, who is a graduate of the Reeke-Nash service department at Cleveland. He has worked in their shops under the supervision of the service manager of that company and consequently, I am assured the knowledge he has secured there will assist me very materially in the maintenance of the cars I sell."

Mr. Williford recently attended the Reeke-Nash service clinic, which was conducted in Cleveland under the tutelage of Walter Fagerstein, direct from the Nash Motors company, of Kenosha, Wis.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Bagdad Cabarets Worry Because Pretty Artists Are Barred From Iraq.

BAGDAD.—The owners of Bagdad cabarets bitterly complain that it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for an attractive cabaret artiste to enter the Kingdom of Iraq.

Comparing the exclusion of Lady Cathcart from America as a similar "farcial prohibition" to their own ills, the cabaret-owners ask whether Iraq's passport officers will stop at nothing in their zeal to keep young Bagdadis on the straight and narrow path of virture.

In the meantime, critics declare that such official discrimination tends to exercise a depressing effect on the local standard of theatrical talent.

Bagdad Cabarets Worry Because Pretty Artists Are Barred From Iraq.

BAGDAD.—The owners of Bagdad cabarets bitterly complain that it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for an attractive cabaret artiste to enter the Kingdom of Iraq.

Comparing the exclusion of Lady Cathcart from America as a similar "farcial prohibition" to their own ills, the cabaret-owners ask whether Iraq's passport officers will stop at nothing in their zeal to keep young Bagdadis on the straight and narrow path of virture.

In the meantime, critics declare that such official discrimination tends to exercise a depressing effect on the local standard of theatrical talent.

The climax of a ceremonial dance known as the Parada, which was given recently in Malta to commemorate the Crusades, was the singing of "God Save the king" while a tiny girl was held aloft by the dancers.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Frederic J. Haskin is employed by this paper to handle the inquiries of our readers, and you are invited to call upon him as freely and as often as you please. Ask anything that is a matter of fact and the authority will be quoted you. There is no charge for this service. Ask what you want, sign your name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Address The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Twenty-first and C streets, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Q. How much money in silver coins was made last year? W. E. S.

A. In the calendar year 1925 they amounted to $19,875,000.

Q. Why do frosty nights and warm days make good weather for maple syrup? H. R.

A. The reason that sap flows better in a climate where the nights are cool and the days warm, is because the cool nights check the activity of the sap, and the warm days stimulate both the growth of the tree and the flow of the sap.

Q. Who named the 42nd Division the Rainbow Division? H. V. P.

A. The author of the term "rainbow" applied to the 42nd Division is Major General Douglas MacArthur, who is now commanding officer of the Third Corps Area, Baltimore, Maryland. At the time this name was given to the 42nd Division, he was chief of staff of the 42nd Division, with the rank of colonel. The 42nd Division was called the Rainbow division because of its composite character of selected groups from all over the country.

Q. What is the correct name for white rabbits with red eyes? A. J.

A. The Biological Survey says that the rabbits you describe are albinos, and do not belong to a distinct breed. For instance, albinos occur in angora rabbits, Flemish rabbits, etc.

Q. What language is the most perfect? H. D.

A. It is a matter of opinion. Many authorities on philology have claimed that the ancient Greek is the most perfect language that has ever existed in the world.

Q. Please give the Indian name for Sleepy Hollow. A. B. W.

A. The Bureau of American Ethnology says that the Onondaga expression for Sleepy Hollow is otahwihista oya teh.

Q. Why do people yawn? O. A. K.

A. Yawning is an involuntary and wide opening of the mouth and inhalation of breath, generally produced by weariness, intense absorption caused by an involuntary interruption of full breathing, or by an inclination to sleep; sometimes by hunger, etc. in some instances by the frequency of its recurrence it becomes a real disease. Persons suffering from heart disease may be liable to yawning fits. When yawning is troublesome, long, deep respiration, or drawing in the air at long intervals, relieves it.

Q. How should a club sandwich be eaten? H. M. G.

A. A club sandwich is eaten with a fork after the toast and other ingredients have been broken. In doing this one uses a knife and fork.

Q. How is stained glass made? R. S.

A. Stained glass is the term used technically as well as popularly to designate windows made of colored glass, whether the color be produced by metallic oxides in the melting pot, by coating the surface with a film of colored glass, thus making flashed glass, which is ground or etched away where the color is not desired; by applying under fire a solution of silver (yellow stain) which turns yellow the surface of crystal (colorless) glass, and of the groundaway portions of flashed glass, and by which light-blue glass is turned green; by painting the surface with colored enamels that are afterwards fused into the substance. The so-called American glass is an entirely different product. From cast sheets of opalescent glass, with enamels for the modeling of faces and hands only, John LeFarge and Louis B. Tiffany developed an art that is absolutely and completely original. The iridescent effects are extraordinary, and the colors are rich but apt to be too opaque.

Q. How can rust be removed from the inside of a bread box? H. F. H.

A. It is rather difficult to remove rust from the inside of a bread box. It is advisable to paint it. Two coats of flat white paint should be used with one coat of enamel.

MAN, 82, BORN UNDER BIG TOP SAYS CIRCUS WILL NEVER DIE

The circus, as an American institution, will never die.

That was the opinion expressed today by Gil Robinson, 82, one of the country's veterans "under the white tops" men, who is a visitor in Southern California.

"Many things are changing in this country but the circus is very much the same every year and has been for almost a century," he declared.

Robinson was born in a circus dressing room and for sixty years traveled an average of 10,000 miles annually.

"I remember when Jim Bailey of the famous Barnum & Bailey circus came to our show in 1862," Robinson said.

"His real name was Jim McGinn. One day he borrowed a dime from me and a few minutes later he came back with a ball of string in his hand. He told me he could not pay his hotel bill and we arranged that he was to let down his grip from his hotel room window. I caught the grip after Bailey let it down. Years later Bailey went back to the hotel and paid the bill."

Robinson said he showed General Robert E. Lee around his circus one day. After the inspection, the veteran circus man said Lee told him the Confederate Army would have won the Civil War had it been as well organized as his circus.

Robinson also met General Grant at one time and Grant, he said, showed an intense interest in the circus horses.

"There is no life like circus life," Robinson declared. "For twenty-two years I 'showed' every day and never missed once and it was the happiest time of my life. There's something about a circus, the smell of the sawdust, the tinsel and gay trappings—and the animals—that pulls a fellow. I wish I washitting the road tomorrow."

Saloniki, Greece, is to have a large Y. M. C. A. building.

People As Happy As Birds In Springtime

No Reason Why Anybody Should Suffer From Spring Fever Says the World's Tonic Man

"When the warmth of Spring is first felt, everything in Nature changes. All vegetation pulses with activity. Animals become brighter and are more active. Why, then, is it that man alone suffers from so-called 'Spring Fever?'"

That question was put to the World's Tonic man at Radcliffe's. Instantly he answered: "If men lived like animals they wouldn't have spring fever. But since they eat heavily all winter, and keep in the houses, their organs fail to throw off all the waste matter and impurities. Then when Spring is at hand, they fell like they couldn't move, and want to lie down and sleep. No wonder systems are full of waste, the blood carries a lot of impurities, and often shows its condition in cartarrh. What man needs then is something that will clean his blood, correct the cartarrhal troubles, and give vigor and pep. Why thousands of people take two or three bottles of World's Tonic every Spring in order to purify the blood, overcome the catarrhal effects and build up the strength. You can come pretty near telling such a man by his clear eye, springy step and vim. If all you who have Spring Fever would do that, this nation would be as happy as the birds in Spring."

The circus, as an American institution, will never die.

That was the opinion expressed today by Gil Robinson, 82, one of the country's veterans "under the white tops" men, who is a visitor in Southern California.

"Many things are changing in this country but the circus is very much the same every year and has been for almost a century," he declared.

Robinson was born in a circus dressing room and for sixty years traveled an average of 10,000 miles annually.

"I remember when Jim Bailey of the famous Barnum & Bailey circus came to our show in 1862," Robinson said.

"His real name was Jim McGinn. One day he borrowed a dime from me and a few minutes later he came back with a ball of string in his hand. He told me he could not pay his hotel bill and we arranged that he was to let down his grip from his hotel room window. I caught the grip after Bailey let it down. Years later Bailey went back to the hotel and paid the bill."

Robinson said he showed General Robert E. Lee around his circus one day. After the inspection, the veteran circus man said Lee told him the Confederate Army would have won the Civil War had it been as well organized as his circus.

Robinson also met General Grant at one time and Grant, he said, showed an intense interest in the circus horses.

"There is no life like circus life," Robinson declared. "For twenty-two years I 'showed' every day and never missed once and it was the happiest time of my life. There's something about a circus, the smell of the sawdust, the tinsel and gay trappings—and the animals—that pulls a fellow. I wish I washitting the road tomorrow."

Saloniki, Greece, is to have a large Y. M. C. A. building.

People As Happy As Birds In Springtime

"When the warmth of Spring is first felt, everything in Nature changes. All vegetation pulses with activity. Animals become brighter and are more active. Why, then, is it that man alone suffers from so-called 'Spring Fever?'"

That question was put to the World's Tonic man at Radcliffe's. Instantly he answered: "If men lived like animals they wouldn't have spring fever. But since they eat heavily all winter, and keep in the houses, their organs fail to throw off all the waste matter and impurities. Then when Spring is at hand, they feli like they couldn't move, and want to lie down and sleep. No wonder systems are full of waste, the blood carries a lot of impurities, and often shows its condition in cartarrh. What man needs then is something that will clean his blood, correct the cartarrhal troubles, and give vigor and pep. Why thousands of people take two or three bottles of World's Tonic every Spring in order to purify the blood, overcome the catarrhal effects and build up the strength. You can come pretty near telling such a man by his clear eye, springy step and vim. If all you who have Spring Fever would do that, this nation would be as happy as the birds in Spring."

WEALTHY OHIOAN FALLS TO HIS DEATH

Today

Mussolini Hard to Kill.
Business? Ask Kresge.
"I'll Run," Says Sunday.
The Pure White Rabbits.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

ANOTHER attempt to kill Mussolini fails. This time a woman, a British religious fanatic, fired point blank at Italy's ruler, sending a bullet through his nose. An inch difference would have meant death, and instantly the history of Italy and of Europe would have been changed. A small thing can produce big effects.

A man of courage and extraordinary self-control, the moment he was shot Mussolini protected the woman that shot him from the violence of the mob.

With his face bandaged, he made a speech, telling the people not to get excited. Wounds are not new to him; his record in the war was fine, but his extreme radicalism, offensive to officers, deprived him of promotion. Now he holds all the officers of his nation, from the king down, in the hollow of his hand.

In 1917, fighting on the Austrian front, Mussolini's body was riddled by the explosion of a hand grenade. Doctors counted and attended 98 wounds on his body. Such a man is not easily frightened.

The wound in the nose may prove disfiguring and hurt Mussolini's pride, but it won't hurt his standing with Italians.

THE extraordinary thing is that Mussolini has lived so long, recklessly outspoken, defying all Europe [illegible] miles and opponents at home and abroad.

BUSINESS news is good. Wall Street has stopped seeing things on the back stairs. Chicago reports "brisk retail trade."

Financial statistics show that if you take care of a business in America, that business will take care of you.

Mr. Kresge, for instance, did a gross of $26,396,547 in 1916. Last year his business had jumped to $105,965,610. Profits in nine years rose from $2,172,348 to $13,509,260.

If the government of the United States will attend to its business as American business men attend to their business everything will be pleasant.

BILLY SUNDAY will run for president himself on a four-word platform, "To hell with booze," if Democrats and Republicans nominate "wets."

Mr. Sunday, who never fought Satan more ferociously than now, would make a good run. But he must realize that Calvin Coolidge will be the Republican candidate, and to call him "wet" is like calling the Pacific ocean dry.

ON President Coolidge's yacht Mayflower, Sahara's sands are accurately reproduced, so far as any alcoholic beverage goes.

RADIO COMPANY CHIEF PLUNGES FROM CHICAGO HOTEL WINDOW

L. J. Ainsworth's Body Whirled From Nineteenth Floor.

TRAPPED BY FIRE

Suspends From Ledge Five Minutes Before Grip Weakens.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Louis J. Ainsworth, wealthy radio manufacturer of Cincinnati, O., was killed here early today when he fell from the nineteenth floor of the Morrison hotel. The body landed on Clark street in the midst of horrified spectators.

Ainsworth, cut off from the door by fire in his room, hung suspended from the ledge of his window a full five minutes before he fell. His screams attracted other guests, but they were unable to reach him before his grip weakened.

Screams for Help.

[illegible] after midnight when guests in adjoining rooms heard a man screaming "fire" and "help, save me." Smoke began pouring through the transom of Ainsworth's room. When guests tried to enter they found the door locked.

In the room directly under Ainsworth, was J. W. Melville, a Boston shoe salesman, and his wife. Melville heard the screams and opened his window. He saw Ainsworth hanging suspended from the ledge above.

Melville and another guest, F. Gilleaume, New York art dealer, made a human chain and sought to rescue the man from the window ledge of Melville's room.

This act nearly cost the life of Gilleaume. As the latter had Ainsworth almost within his grasp, the fire began to sear Ainsworth's fingers and he lost his grip. His body struck Gilleaune's back as it hurtled to the

Five Probes Under Way of Crash Near Delair, N. J., in Which Three are Killed and 40 Hurt.

CAMDEN, N. J., April 9.—The wreck of the crack Pennsylvania express from New York to Atlantic City near Delair, N. J., with a toll of three deaths and more than 40 persons injured, was due to the train striking a sharp curve at too great a rate of speed, according to the belief expressed today by Prosecutor Ethan P. Wescott, of Camden county, conducting one of five investigations into the cause of the disaster.

Prosecutor Wescott said his investigation has revealed no cause for criminal action to date.

A preliminary inquiry by railroad officials established the fact that the train struck a split rail, causing it to leave the track.

Wrecking crews this morning reported that after working all night with acetyline torches among the twisted coaches they had failed to unearth any additional bodies.

The dead and seriously injured were taken to Camden and Philadelphia hospitals. A party of about a hundred passengers, most of whom had suffered minor injuries, went to Atlantic City.

Jumps Rails on Curve.

The train jumped the rails on a sharp curve. Engine, tender and parlor car turned over completely. The next three cars left the rails, two of them sliding down a 10-foot embankment but not overturning. The train was made up of eight parlor cars and

NORTHSIDE COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION O. K.'S MUNICIPAL BUILDING PLAN

Service-Safety Director, Council President and Three Solons Guests at Meeting.

Endorsement of the move launched here a few weeks ago to erect a new municipal building was voted by the Northside Community association at a meeting in the Northside fire station last night.

Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore, President of Council N. P. Kerr, who sponsored the proposal and Councilmen Hayes, Hu[illegible] were guests at the session.

Due to the resignation of Howard Moninger as president, Vice-President Albion H. Fisher assumed charge. He introduced Joseph T. Croxall, who presided.

A musical and literary program, arranged by Mrs. Hattie Hapgood, featured the meeting. Several numbers were rendered by a group of Lincoln school children. Miss Freda Barlow gave a piano solo. A vocal duet was rendered by Misses Sylvia Shay and Dorothy Holmes, with Mrs. A. M. Burns as the accompanist. Piano duet was given by the Misses Eleanor Bennett and Ruth Cooper.

Outlines Financial Condition.

Director Moore briefly outlined the city's financial condition, asserting that the safety department fund for the first six months of the year will be depleted about May 15 and that the city administration is uncertain how to meet the salaries of firemen and police for the 45-day period between May 15 and July 1, when the next taxes will be available.

He voiced his approval of the municipal building project, but said that

ORGANIZED LABOR MAKES APPEAL FOR LIGHT WINES AND BEER LAW

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—A direct appeal by organized labor for modification of the Volstead act to permit sale of light wines and beer was made to the senate "wet and dry" committee today by William Roberts, personal representative of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

"Permit me in the name of the American Federation of Labor," Roberts said, "to urge you to recommend legislation that will provide for the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer."

The prohibition law, Roberts said, is being openly disregarded by the American people and has turned the country into a nation of law violators.

William J. McSorley, president of the building trades department of the federation, said he "favored a law which will give the working men beer and light wines."

James O'Connell, president of the metal trades department of the federation, made the same plea. He said he was "strongly opposed to the return of the saloon."

TOWN OF BREA IS MENACED BY OIL FIRE ON BIG TANK FARM

Homes of 2,000 People Threatened as Blaze Rages.

HUNDREDS MOVE

San Luis Obispo Fire Unchecked; Loss $25,000,000.

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—Homes of 2,000 people in the little town of Berea, near here, were menaced today by the great fire on the Union oil company's Stewart station tank farm, two miles from the village, where flames raged unchecked after destroying three huge 750,000 barrel reservoirs, several big gasoline and distillate tanks and the company's refinery with an estimated loss in excess of $5,000,000 during the past 24 hours.

Hundreds of Brea residents began moving out today when the town again was rocked to its foundation by the explosions of a number of 10,000 gallon distillate and gas tanks.

Heavy charges of dynamite have been placed in long rows between the town and the burning tanks to be set off simultaneously if the fire begins to spread as it imminently threatens.

The fire, like the one in San Luis Obispo, was caused by a bolt of lightning.

New Menace Spreads Terror.

SAN LOUIS OBISPO, Cal., April 9.—A new menace from the blazing inferno of the Union oil company tank farm near here spread terror throughout the countryside today.

Cyclonis eddies of gas formed in the huge blaze which covers an area three miles long and one and one half miles wide are sweeping out from time to time, dealing destruction.

One today struck the home of Bert Banks, half a mile from the fire area, which had previously been partially destroyed and completely demolished it. A garage was picked up and carried across a road.

As a result, the Coast highway, main artery of travel between Los Angeles and San Francisco, had been closed and automobiles are forced to take a long detour around the fire area. The Edna road is also closed. American Legion guards are patroling the roads.

200 More Fire Fighters.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., April 9.—Sky high flames continued to sweep the great Union oil company tank farm near here today as 200 additional men battled the raging inferno.

Two more huge reservoirs caught fire during the night leaving only five in the whole tank farm, covering more than one hundred acres, unignited.

No additional casualties have been reported since the deaths yesterday of two men and the almost fatal burning of a woman.

Damage was estimated today at $20,000,000.

FORD ROADSTER IS STOLEN HERE

Thirty or More Men Unaccounted for Following Collision Between Standard Oil Tanker Thomas H. Wheeler and Dutch Silvanus at Pointe a la Hache Near New Orleans.

44 OTHERS INJURED AS RESULT OF EXPLOSIONS ON TANKER WARING

Five Men are Believed to Have Leaped Into River When Blasts Spread Burning Oil Over Vessel, But Whether Any Perished Has Not Been Determined.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 9.—Seventy-five men are reported injured, missing or killed, and five ships are burned or damaged here today, as the result of two major maritime disasters which occurred in the vicinity of New Orleans late yesterday, within a few hours.

Thirty or more seamen were unaccounted for early today, following a collision between the Standard Oil tanker Thomas H. Wheeler, in-bound for New Orleans, with the Dutch tanker Silvanus, out-bound for London, at Pointe a la Hache, 40 miles below New Orleans in the Mississippi river.

Forty-four men were injured and five were still unaccounted for today, following a series of explosions aboard the Standard Oil tanker O. T. Waring, in dry dock undergoing repairs here late yesterday afternoon. The missing men are believed to have leaped into the river when the explosions spread burning oil over the ship. They were carried down stream, but whether any of them perished has not yet been determined, according to D. J. McAuliffe, works manager for the Jahncke Dry Dock company, where the explosions occurred.

Several of Crew Rescued.

The collision between the Wheeler and the Silvanus, according to radio messages to the Tropical Radio company, was followed immediately by a terrific explosion aboard the Dutch vessel. The master of the Silvanus, Captain Weiser, and several members of the crew of 50 were picked up by the United States shipping board vessel Topa Topa, outbound for Scotland. Twelve Chinese sailors were landed at Pointe a la Hache.

A later message said one sailor was rescued by the steamer Gulf Coast, and a mate was also picked up by the steamer Baja California.

The Silvanus ran aground near the scene of the collision, and a second blast forced her back into the stream. A stiff current carried the blazing vessel down stream. The Thomas H. Wheeler was safely beached, and fire aboard her, which followed the collision, was extinguished without serious damage. The Silvanus later sank opposite Bohemia, a mile below Point a la Hache. Captain Weiser was badly burned when he was picked up.

The vessel was almost sinking as she drifted down stream.

Steppers Ready for Charleston Finals at Ceramic.

The tri-state Charleston champion will be crowned tonight in the Review-Tribune and Ceramic theatre contest at the Fourth street playhouse.

Winners in the elimination competitions held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evening will be rivals for the title. Prizes of $50, $25 and $10 will be awarded.

Championship contest for children will be featured at tomorrow's matinee. Cash awards in this competition will be $15, $10 and $5.

Paul Cassidy and Luther Parsons carried off the honors in last night's contests. Cassidy was awarded the $10 prize at the first show, while Parsons won the hearts of the audience by the manner in which he showed his proficiency in the terpsichorean pastime at the second performance. He, too, received $10.

Parsons and Cassidy, as well as winners during the forepart of the week, will be entered in the finals.

A record crowd is expected to witness the finals, which will be conducted in connection with the presentation of Richard Dix's latest starring film, "Womanhandled," Billy Dooley in "A Goofy Gob," and Aesop's Fables.

BRENNAN, DEMOCRATIC "BOSS" OF CHICAGO, SAYS HE WILL BE ELECTED SENATOR ON WET PLATFORM

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

(Copyright, 1926, by International News Service).

WASHINGTON, April 9.—George E. Brennan, the rotund Democratic "boss" of Chicago, who has had a hand in the making and breaking of many political candidates, from presidential to aldermanic, and who is himself a candidate for the senate this year, gave Democratic leaders in congress something of a shock today.

He told them he was going to be elected to the senate in November on a wet platform. And he was sincere.

When some of them expressed a polite doubt and pointed to the 700,000 Republican majority rolled up by Coolidge in Illinois in the last presidential election, Brennan said:

"I think my worst enemies will concede that I know a little something of politics. This isn't a presidential year. You wait and see. And don't be misled by comparative figures in next Tuesday's primaries. November, not April, is the test."

Brennan also told Democratic leaders at the capitol that the issue of prohibition is in politics to stay, and that they might as well prepare to meet it in 1928.

Foe of Prohibition.

"I don't see how it can be kept out of politics," he declared in an interview. "Anything that affects the thoughts and the daily lives of millions of people, anything that is creating the disrespect for law that this law is, anything that is breeding the army of criminals that this law is, anything that is the major topic of conversation wherever and whenever people gather, irrespective of their social status, is bound to be in politics. There's no use shutting our eyes to facts.

"That was an astounding set of figures we submitted to the senate committee. They showed an increase of 670 per cent in alcoholic deaths in Chicago since prohibition, an increase of 704 per cent in arrests for 'gin driving,' an increase of 140 per cent in commitments to institutions for insanity.

"What is true of Chicago is true of other cities, in more or less degree.

"But even that is not the worst of present day conditions. The tragic part of it is what prohibition is doing to the young folks of this country. It is a trite thing to say that youth is being debauched, and yet there is scarcely any other way to describe present conditions.

Dry Forces Endorse Republicans.

"I am going to the people of Illinois on this issue. It's my biggest issue, and it's the country's biggest issue, whenever we will admit it.

"Let the Republicans fight over the world court if they want to. They can talk world court to the people. I'm going to talk of present day conditions, and the remedy for them as I see it. That's my platform in a nutshell. And I think the results in November are going to surprise a lot of people, including some in Washington.

"The drys have been hollering about how they don't believe newspaper polls, and demanding a real poll with candidates squarely facing the issue. Well, we are going to have it in Illinois."

Brennan's Proposal.

The issue became more clean cut in Illinois even while Brennan was in Washington as the Anti-Saloon league endorsed both Republican candidates for the Illinois senatorial nomination, Senator William B. McKinley and Col. Frank L. Smith.

Brennan does not favor outright repeal of the 18th amendment.

"It isn't necessary," he said. "Congress has it in its power to remedy this situation by either repealing or modifying the Volstead act, which is the enforcement act, and then passing a law which will permit the states to provide their own laws—and enforce them.

"Under such a law, New York can have what it wants, within the limits of the amendment, and Kansas can have what it wants. And the government will get rid of its impossible burden of trying to enforce alone, without the co-operation of the states, a law that is violative of everything inherently American."

Brennan declined to talk of Democratic presidential possibilities for 1928.

"It's too early," he said, "besides, there's a lot of water going to run under bridges before 1928."

EVE'S TWO LOVERS

By EDGAR POE NORRIS

THE STORY UP TO DATE.

EVE MACLURIE, young, beautiful, thrifty, passionately satisfied with life, loved both her employer, JOHN INGATE, 30, president of John Ingate's Sons, Inc., one of the largest firms in Central City, and CLAY WALES, an employe of the Ingate concern. She rejected John to marry Clay because she believed that the latter, weak, irresponsible, fiercely jealous, needed her more. Once they were wed, however, she had her doubts about the wisdom of her choice.

On their honeymoon in Chicago, while enjoying country club guest privileges through the courtesy of John Ingate, they met JOCELYN JOHNSTONE, violet-eyed and mysterious, and her questionable escort, REGGIE WHITE. When John Ingate appeared in Chicago unexpectedly, he met Miss Johnstone through Clay and Eve, and was immediately infatuated with her, it seemed to them.

When the honeymooners returned to Central City they went to housekeeping in furnished apartments and both returned to work for the John Ingate Co. At the Central City hotel they got a glimpse of Jocelyn Johnstone, and later, Eve overheard a telephone conversation between John Ingate and Joselyn making a luncheon engagement.

Unknown to Eve, Clay gambles and loses money and applies to John Ingate for a loan of a hundred dollars. Eve finds it out through John, who thinks the young couple want the money to apply as first payment on a house, and is much perturbed. She prepares the first meal in their new home with her cousin, Madeline Overstreet, a brainless flapper, but popular with men, for guest.

Now go on with the story.

FORTY-THREE.

To Eve, that first real dinner of hers—first real one in the sense that it was her initial attempt to prepare food and entertain a guest in her own house—was an ordeal for reasons other than her fear that the food was ill-cooked and awkwardly served. As a matter of fact, the simple repast she set before Madeline Overstreet and Clay was not unpalatable in comparison with the initial efforts of most brides and a majority of even experienced wives. The steak was rare in the middle and nearly burned on both sides, but it is difficult for the novice to prepare meats properly on the sort of gas stoves with which American apartments generally are fitted. But the creamed potatoes were good, and the salad of lettuce and tomatoes was attractive and tasty, and while not much could be said for the consomme, purchased in a can at the corner grocery, there was ice cream to take the bad taste of the coffee out of their mouths. Eve made coffee as well as

FOREST WEEK IS PROCLAIMED

Governor Howard Gore Urges Proper Observance April 18-24.

Governor Howard Gore of West Virginia has issued the following statement in connection with American Forest Week, April 18 to 24:

The president of the United States of American has proclaimed April 18-24, 1926, as American Forest week, the observance of which merits the attention of every West Virginian. Within our memory West Virginia was a forest state where the wide and deep timbered areas challenged our courage to hew out a livelihood, furnished out homes, and much of our food and fuel, and added in numerous ways to our comforts and pleasures.

"It is urgent that our attention be directed to the fact that the present rate of destruction and consumption will soon bring down the few remaining virgin forests of our state.

"When the white man established himself in this mountain region, what is now West Virginia had a primeval forest covering 15,360,000 acres. A recent survey shows that we now have only 206,000 acres of such forest, a mere 1.3 per cent of the original tract. Troops of blessings go with the passing of the forests. If we permit such a calamity to our commonwealth we will lost much of our protection from storms and floods, the sanctuaries of our wild life, the special appeal of our mountain scenery, the great natural parks for rest and amusement, the safeguard of our water power, and the many other commercial assets furnished by our widespread and varied forests.

"Let us be alert in our individual and collective efforts to every opportunity to preserve, protect and produce forests. Let us work for the setting aside of national, state, and private reservations; let us encourage reforestation of suitable cut-over areas; let us discourage carelessness with fires, ruthless waste and selfish commercialism in our forests.

"Furthermore, let us seek sane legislation that will give reasonable regulation to forest cutting, stimulate the ownership of wooded areas by modified taxation, and authorize and encourage forest ownership on the part of municipalities, counties, and the state. It is important that we consider practical and immediate means to preserve to ourselves and our posterity the blessings of our forests.

Robinson Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Raymond Robinson, 12 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Robinson, will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock in the home, Indiana avenue, in charge of Rev. B. H. Pocock, pastor of the Nazarene church, assisted by Major Joseph Hughes, of the Salvation Army. Burial will be made in Locust Hill cemetery.

NEW PURCHASING AGENT IS NAMED

Hancock County Farm Bureau meeting was held recently in the court house at New Cumberland. Owing to the absence of the president, William P. McDonald, the vice president, John Mayhew, presided.

Talks were made by C. R. Degen, county agent, and Mr. Gist, field agent of the state farm bureau. Announcement was made of the appointment of Thomas Stewart of Chester as purchasing agent for the bureau.

To Open Ball Season.

New Cumberland high school baseball team will open the season tomorrow at the county seat with Irondale as their first opponents. Wern will probably be assigned to hurl the initial contest.

Oil Monopoly

The government, it appears, is going to unscramble the "oil trust" again.

There used to be just one such trust. Since the Standard was dissolved, it is alleged, the parts have worked together, if not grown together; and some of them are as big as the parent trust ever was. In addition, a lot of other companies are said to have joined in the game, adopting trust practices if not using actual trust machinery.

It doesn't matter whether there is one big monopolistic company, or half a hundred, if the half-hundred operate as one, which is what the government accuses them of doing.

Whether the oil companies, big and little, have been gouging the public and breaking the anti-trust law is for the department of justice to prove and for the courts to say. This much, however, is patent to any observant citizen:

The oil companies have nearly all been making plenty of money, as their profit sheets and stock dividends and market quotations show.

The public has been paying a good deal for gasoline, and has never been able to understand why, if there were no monopolistic practices, prices of all companies selling in a given territory should consistently move up or down together.

If the Standard has been breaking the law, it looks as if a lot of professed "independents" have found satisfaction and profit in breaking the law along with it. We may discover, as the case progresses, what an "independent" oil company is, as well as what an oil trust is.

Safe Insulin

When the use of insulin in the treatment of diabetes was first introduced it was feared that, although relieving that disease, the insulin would have other effects harmful to the patient. Now, after some years of experience, doctors believe they have proved that this is not the case.

"Before insulin," says Dr. John Ralston Williams, of Rochester, "a child under 10 years with diabetes rarely lived two years.

Between the ages of 10 and 20 death occurred in two to four four years, and from the ages of 20 to 30 in four to six years. After 30 years the period was extended from five to 15 years. Since insulin there have been few deaths due to diabetes alone where properly treated. The tenure of life has been extended indefinitely."

Dr. Williams therefore opposes the practice of keeping patients on the lowest possible diet and administering insulin only when it is needed to save life. He has found patients happier, easier to manage and better able to work when allowed a diet considerably above the minimum for the maintenance of life and approves the use of insulin even before it is indicated as "absolutely necessary."

If the general experience in the insulin treatment agrees with Dr. Williams', the public may be greatly encouraged. Under wise and sane treatment neither the disease nor the insulin need be feared.

Job As Property Right

By a recent agreement reached in Chicago, between the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and Hart Schaffner & Marx, big clothing manufacturers, 150 cutters whose services were displaced by labor-saving machinery are being paid $500 apiece. This is done on the ground that, through long and faithful service, they had acquired a property right in the business.

The amount of money involved is $85,000. The employers pay $50,000 and the employes who keep their jobs pay the rest. It is figured that this is fair because their own jobs are worth more from the elmination of superfluous workers.

It is said to have been the first time in the history of the labor movement that this principle was recognized. The idea, as explained by Samuel Levin, manager of the clothing workers' board, is like this:

"A worker's share in the fruits of industry should not cease when he receives his pay envelope. It is true that the employer furnishes capital and supervision, but the workman furnishes something no less valuable—life itself. A combination of these will frequently run a shoestring into millions, and if the partnership is dissolved, all concerned should receive a fair share of the products of their mutual accomplishments."

A School Forest

Plans for the development of the best forestry course in any college in the United States have now been started as a result of the wisdom of a group of lumbermen.

The Great Southern Lumber company has donated to the Louisiana State university 1,000 acres of forest land. The location of the gift is near the scene of present big operations of the company, so that pupils of the course can see at first hand every phase of forestry and lumbering, down to the finished products. Technical studies from textbook and classroom will be joined with practical work and observation. Rightly used, too, such a forest might produce revenue as well as education.

The establishment of school forests ought to be encouraged in many sections.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

Effete New York grows politer daily. Fifth Avenue buses proclaim: "Polite Transportation" and taxicabs are adorned with: "Courtesy Breeds Safety." If we could only get rid of the gunmen. A confectioner's window placard: "Unsay it with bon-bons."

A Vanderbilt butler peeping out a window. If I had one I'd call him Wilkens. And make him wear side-wheel whiskers. Wonder whatever became of Mrs. Schneider, the clown dog, in the Gentry Dog and Pony Show? The whirr of cathedral pigeons.

"One Eyed" Connelly, the gate crasher. The woman lawyer who dresses like a man. The old man in a gray shawl who sells coiled wire sleeve garters. A gigilo wearing a Basque cap. Nothing so drab as a freight yard. The queerly gesticulating fingers of the deaf mutes who gather in front of the library.

A basket of white fluffy puppies—50 cents each. The belt-coat conquistadors who "borrow" waiting autos. A street preacher kneeling in prayer. Wonder if a grizzly can really outrun a horse? Flashy actors and tired-looking shop girls.

Broadway now has a "tree surgeon." Bob Davis and Theodore Dreiser. The incessant rushing crowds. Stewing with the same old selfish desires. The odor of balsam and musk. Soon be time for prickly heat. And sun blistered backs.

The stooped, squinty-eyed crowd that clots in front of a sporting goods window. Gazing wistfully at oilskin hats, sweaters, high-laced boots, pup tents and fishing reels. And then spend a two weeks' vacation at Atlantic City. Gorging salt water taffy.

Most city dwellers, I believe, are window dreamers. They stand before their displays much in the manner of a country boy and his yellow dog in the clearing watching an overland train out of sight. Most of us too are forced to conquer the ache for the great out-of-doors. Just as the country boy longs for clang of street cars and pavement clack. I know a man who wears spats and a monocle and who often arrays himself in a three-gallon Tom Mix hat with ornamental leather band, whipcord breeches and waterproof jacket with capacious game pockets. He is answering the call of the stream and forest, the old dear.

Motor warning in a Long Island village: "If you think this is a slow town, try to go fast through it."

And a roadside inn has a sign: "If you see any one taking an intoxicating drink in this inn yell for the police."

There is a fellow running a Long Island Inn incidentally who for years was known in the opium parlors of Chinatown as a lobbygow — the degraded parasitic types who cast their lot among Chinese. He married one of the cast-off white wives of an Oriental, and they were taken one night to a hospital suffering from opium poisoning. There they began the fight to break the habit and start anew. They secured jobs as steward and stewardess on a coastwise vessel, and with their accumulated savings of several years were able to launch the business venture. To an old friend he said: "We came out of hell together."

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Prison or Rest Cures?

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Members of congress and other government officials have expressed their concern over conditions that obtain with respect to the imprisonment of violators of federal laws. They know that the government prisons are overcrowded, that federal convicts are being farmed out to county and municipal jails where sanitation is bad, and that first offenders are being herded with hardened criminals and virtually sentenced to schools of crime. These conditions admittedly cry out for correction, and it is believed that congress will do something toward a solution of the problem before the present session is at an end.

However, there is another phase to the prison problem that is just receiving consideration in Washington, and it may have a decided influence upon the action of congress. It is expressed in two questions: Are convicted law violators sent to prison to be punished or to be coddled? Are prisons intended to be prisons or rest cures?

It is not to be understood that this is a result of astounding revelations as to privileges enjoyed by prisoners who have an abundance of money or that even more potent thing, political influence. It is well known that wealthy malefactors and politicians who have incurred the penalty of the law have had their prison terms relieved of all the harsher aspects of prison life and have had at their command everything they desired in the way of food, drink, and amusement.

Perhaps one of the most glaring instances of the kind was the case of a Chicago man who had been sentenced to jail for an infraction of a federal law and was issued a pardon by the President of the United States after he was supposed to have served one year of his sentence. Investigation disclosed the fact that he had never been in jail a single day under that conviction and that the president and those who assisted him in handling pardon applications had been grossly deceived.

That all this sort of thing is attributed primarily to the weakness or corruption of prison authorities, is said not to reflect conditions generally prevailing, and is regarded as an evil comparatively easy to correct. It is far different from what appears to be a nation-wide tendency to make things easy for inmates of penal institutions.

Stories of Coddling.

Stories of the pleasant treatment accorded convicts in many jails and prisons have astonished many Washingtonians who are in official positions. Prisoners are permitted to attend movies, concerts, theatrical performances, and other entertainments. They have their baseball games, and those who do not play get to attend and root. They get almost anything they want to read and are especially encouraged in any form of study or self-improvement. They have bands, glee clubs, and other musical organizations. Every evening after supper there is a music hour when each prisoner in his cell can play any musical instrument, such as a banjo, guitar, violin, ukulele, flute, accordion, piccolo, mouth organ, jews'-harp, and the like, or he can sing if his musical tastes turns toward the vocal.

In one institution, in addition to baseball, the prisoners play basketball, volleyball, and tennis. The last is said to be the most popular game and five new tennis courts are just being laid out.

Thus far no move has been made to provide a golf course for the unfortunates, or to establish a race track with a spring and fall meet of the bangtails for the further diversion of these shutins, but critics of this kind of prison reform say there is no telling to what lengths it may go.

Minor privileges enjoyed include rations of smoking and chewing tobacco, writing and receiving letters, subscribing to a daily or weekly newspaper, having visitors at certain intervals, and receiving from relatives or friends small luxuries and comforts such as family photographs, towels, combs, brushes tooth paste, tooth brushes, hand mirrors, handkerchiefs, suspenders, and neckties, while prisoners having the wherewithal to indulge themselves may purchase tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes in addition to the regular rations.

Even the prisoners who are sentenced to solitary confinement have their opportunity to get exercise and fresh air. They are permitted an hour a day in the open, in a bull pen where they may pitch horseshoes, play leapfrog, and otherwise disport themselves.

One nationally known prisoner has so benefitted by the prison regime in a few months that it is reported he looks twenty years younger than he did when he was incarcerated and no longer suffers from high blood pressure or is threatened with a nervous breakdown.

Regular Health Resort.

"If that report is true," said a Middle West cangressman today, "then that prison is a regular health resort and it's no wonder it is overcrowded. I know men who suffer from high blood pressure and nervous troubles who spend large sums of money in their efforts to secure relief and effect cures. If they only realize it, they have only to commit some minor crime and get themselves sentenced to prison and they will have their health restored without its costing them anything. Taxpayers will settle the bill. Of course, there is the slight stigma attaching to a man's name when he has been convicted of a felony, but in this day and age lawbreakers are not regarded with hor-

'IRENE' TICKETS AWAIT TWO IN HUMOR CONTEST

CASH OFFERED

Crack Out Pair of Seats for Motion Picture.

Wise-cracks have received its name from the fact that it is a nut saying. At any rate, more wise-crackers have put their thoughts on paper and cracked out a pair of seats to see Colleen Moore in "Irene" when it comes to the American theatre next week.

Those published today, as all others published, will win a pair of free seats for their authors. They will also figure in the cash prizes of $5, $4 and $3, for the best wise-cracks submitted during the contest.

Today's tickets go to the following persons:

Jack Crawford, General Delivery, East Liverpool.

Etta Headley, 501 Eleventh street, Wellsville.

Tickets to the American theatre to see Colleen Moore in her latest comedy extravaganza will be given to each of the above if they will call at the Review-Tribune office.

Think up some original snappy saying in sentence form and precede it by the words "Irene says:" and mail it to the Contest Editor, Review-Tribune. Be sure to include your name and address.

Among today's wise-crackers were the following:

"Irene says:" Review-Tribune newsboys remind her of cake-eaters."—One on nearly every corner.

"Irene says:" Don't wake me up in the middle of the night to tell me the world is waiting for the sunrise. (sonrise.)

"Irene says:" Why does the girl of the short hair and dress long for the days of her youth?

"Irene says:" The bull in the china shop was a piker compared with the one in the Florida real estate boom.

"Irene says:" This guy is as useless as the corkscrew is supposed to be.

ror or aversion as they were a few years ago.

"It has not been long since a man was pardoned out of that institution with his health so improved that he was able to make another fortune within a short time and get himself again at odds with the law so that he may incur still another prison sentence, with the possibility of another restoration of his health. I understand, too, that there is a former high state official down there who has been in the hospital about long enough to be cured—I mean pardoned—and he may be able shortly to resume his financial operations that ran into the millions and involved some two hundred banks."

This representative spoke with feeling as well as with sarcasm, and he is one of those who say there is something to be done about the prison problem aside from building additional and larger penal institutions.

"And I don't mean that convicts should be provided prisons where they will not have hot and cold running water and a private bath with every cell," he says. "It is all right to say that law violators are human beings and should be treated as such, but it is to be remembered that they are human beings who have violated the canons of orderly society, thereby subjecting themselves to punishment. Punishment is not pleasant, or should not be. If it is, then it isn't what the law intends it to be—a deterrent to the convict's repetition of his crime, or to the criminality of others."

Still another angle to the problem grows out of the fact that prisoners sentenced to hard labor are employed in factories turning out products that come into competition with the products of honest, law-abiding workers. The convict receives a nominal wage which he may have turned over to his family or saved against the day of his release. It is not a real wage, but a mere matter of bookkeeping, for he works perforce and the government or state credits him with a small sum, daily or monthly, that makes possible the sale of the product of his labor at an apparent profit.

Advocates of a change in this system say that the convict should receive the going wage for his labor, as wages are established outside the prison walls, but that the bulk of his earnings should be absorbed for the up-keep of prisons and the maintenance of prisoners.

A temporary restraining order has been granted by Judge Louis T. The petition relates that the telephone company is about to erect a number of poles in the vicinity of the property of the congregation, and that the erection of such poles would interfere with traffic, and the parking of automobiles by members of the church in the vicinity of the property.

The order was granted by Judge Farr as common pleas court was not in session, and Probate Judge Lodge Riddle was absent from his office when the petition was filed.

STRAY ANIMALS ORDERED KILLED

With complaints pouring into police headquarters by the hundreds from residents in practically every section of the city, against wandering dogs and chickens, whose chief pastime, it appears, is tearing up lawns, Mayor W. L. Fogo has decided that drastic steps must be taken to eliminate the nuisance.

"Shoot them, kill them, and throw them out in the street and the garbage wagon will pick them up."

This, in short, is Mayor Fogo's best plan for abating the nuisance.

And to this effect he issued an announcement today notifying the public that the authorities any and every one who finds dogs or chickens parading their lawns or gardens and tearing up grass or flowers to shoot them, if they so desire.

At the same time he warns dog and chicken owners to keep them penned up if they don't want them killed.

Action for Judgment.

The W. Bingham Co., which obtained a judgment in the court of Justice of the Peace J. W. Riley at Wellsville, Oct., 29, 1925, for $291 against Albert B. Croskey and others, now seeks the collection of the judgment through common pleas court, according to a petition filed today. The action is one for equitable relief, and an execution has been made on lots 194 and 195 owned by the defendants in Aten's addition, Wellsville.

Squirrels Infest House; Permit to Shoot Issued

New York.—The first permit ever issued granting a man the right to shoot squirrels in his home, was awarded to G. J. Wills in White Plains by Alonzo Cooper, commissioner of public safety.

"My house in Prospect Park is surrounded by shade trees," Wills told the commissioner. "There are more squirrels in those trees than you can count. While Mrs. Wills and I were out of town they came into the house, chewed up the floors, ate all the food and now live in the walls.

"Every time we come home at night we see them scamper off the moment the lights are turned on. We've tried traps, poison, coercion and persuasion. Now its going to be shotgun and shells, and if they don't work, we'll have to move."

Mizpah Class Supper.

Mizpah Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will hold a supper tomorrow night from 5 to 7 in the church basement.

KIDD'S BURIED TREASURE BOBS UP IN TALE OF SALE BY J. J. ASTOR

BOSTON, April 9.—Captain Kidd's pirate treasure has turned up again. The state of Maine authorities are getting all "het" up over it, too. It is being said that John Jacob Astor, founder of that family's great fortune, took the loot to England and sold it for nearly $1,500,000.

Prof. Herbert E. Bolton, of the University of California, started the controversy when he claimed Jacques Cartier, a trapper, dug up the treasure on Deer Isle, Me., and sold it to Astor for $5,000, the latter immediately taking the jewels and plate to England for disposal.

Inasmuch as it was stolen property, the state of Maine believes neither Capt. Kidd's heirs nor the Astor heirs have a legal claim to the money and a court fight may develop in an endeavor to recover the money.

First Presbyterian Church Gets Restraining Order.

A temporary restraining order has been granted by Judge Louis T. Farr of the appellate court against the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., in the case filed against it in common pleas court Thursday afternoon by Lones, Hill & Davidson of East Liverpool, representing the First Presbyterian church of Wellsville.

The petition relates that the telephone company is about to erect a number of poles in the vicinity of the property of the congregation, and that the erection of such poles would interfere with traffic, and the parking of automobiles by members of the church in the vicinity of the property.

The order was granted by Judge Farr as common pleas court was not in session, and Probate Judge Lodge Riddle was absent from his office when the petition was filed.

Club guests were Mrs. Ray Penebaker, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Weddell.

The next meeting, which will be held in two weeks, will take the form of a birthday party for Mrs. Ruth Given at her home in Seventeenth street.

CLASS MATES ARE RECITAL USHERS

Plans are progressing for the piano recital to be given on Friday night, April 16, by Miss Jean Fogo, in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Class mates who ushered at her graduation recital at Beaver college, will usher for her recital here. They are: Miss Grace Noden, Pittsburg; Mrs. Inez Eicholtz Archer, Pittsburgh; Miss Catherine Conley, Princeton, N. J.; Miss Catherine Barber, Cleveland; Mrs. Viola Fox Campbell, Montpelier, Vt.; Miss Merl McConnell, New Castle; Miss Mary Means, Punxsutawney, Pa.

Parthenon Class Meets.

Vice President Birdie Rice was in charge. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Enid Yost. Covers were laid for 20 guests.

STRAY ANIMALS ORDERED KILLED

With complaints pouring into police headquarters by the hundreds from residents in practically every section of the city, against wandering dogs and chickens, whose chief pastime, it appears, is tearing up lawns, Mayor W. L. Fogo has decided that drastic steps must be taken to eliminate the nuisance.

"Shoot them, kill them, and throw them out in the street and the garbage wagon will pick them up."

This, in short, is Mayor Fogo's best plan for abating the nuisance.

And to this effect he issued an announcement today notifying the public that the authorities any and every one who finds dogs or chickens parading their lawns or gardens and tearing up grass or flowers to shoot them, if they so desire.

At the same time he warns dog and chicken owners to keep them penned up if they don't want them killed.

Action for Judgment.

The W. Bingham Co., which obtained a judgment in the court of Justice of the Peace J. W. Riley at Wellsville, Oct., 29, 1925, for $291 against Albert B. Croskey and others, now seeks the collection of the judgment through common pleas court, according to a petition filed today. The action is one for equitable relief, and an execution has been made on lots 194 and 195 owned by the defendants in Aten's addition, Wellsville.

Squirrels Infest House; Permit to Shoot Issued

New York.—The first permit ever issued granting a man the right to shoot squirrels in his home, was awarded to G. J. Wills in White Plains by Alonzo Cooper, commissioner of public safety.

"My house in Prospect Park is surrounded by shade trees," Wills told the commissioner. "There are more squirrels in those trees than you can count. While Mrs. Wills and I were out of town they came into the house, chewed up the floors, ate all the food and now live in the walls.

"Every time we come home at night we see them scamper off the moment the lights are turned on. We've tried traps, poison, coercion and persuasion. Now its going to be shotgun and shells, and if they don't work, we'll have to move."

Mizpah Class Supper.

Mizpah Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will hold a supper tomorrow night from 5 to 7 in the church basement.

Bible to Be Written by Hand by 31,173 Persons

Portland, Maine.—Rev. Edward Stuart Best, one hundred and one, of Malden, Mass., is the oldest of the contributors to the largest Bible in the world, now one-fifth completed, to be written in penmanship by 31,173 persons, one verse each. Wesley T. Garland, four and one-half, of South Portland, is the youngest. Edmund T. Garland, secretary of the Maine Bible society, is carrying out the unique plan, and does not hope to complete his task for three or four years.

Merrill E. Barter, a Boston man, now a missionary in Congo, West Africa, has heard of the novelty and has requested assignment of verses for his whole family. President Coolidge wrote the first verse of the Book of Genesis.

Nora Jones, of Brecon, England, was recently sent to Switzerland to nurse Prince Chichibu of Japan, who was ill with measles.

In announcing recently that people of Aberdeen, Scotland, gave $230,000 to maintain their infirmary last year, the head of the finance committee said that in view of this report, jocular writers about the stinginess of Aberdeen people should choose citizens of some other city for their stories hereafter.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 9.—Industrial stock prices turned irregularly downward in the first hour today. Selling was mostly from professional sources, the bears taking advantage of the absence of bids and the uneasiness caused by the steady decline in commodity prices to depress values of the active speculative shares.

With the exception of International Combustion Engineering, pool operations appeared to be suspended entirely, while stock drifted about without apparent destination. The motor stocks and the tire stocks were freely offered in this period at price declines of a point or two, while oil, copper and independent steel stocks also exhibited a weak tone. Northside Meet additional funds must be provided to meet current expenses. He assured residents of Northside that no attempt would be made during his term of office to close the Northside fire station in the event of the erection of a new city hall.

President of Council Kerr explained his proposed plan of financing the proposed city building. He pointed out that by using the $38,000 balance in the market house fund and converting vacant city real estate into cash, more than one-half of the necessary fund would be available. Money, which would be saved by rents and difference in interest charges, the council head declared, would nearly meet the interest charges on a bond issue of about $75,000.

Kerr also said he would oppose any movement to abandon the Northside or East End fire stations.

Pastor Is Speaker.

Solon Hayes told of council's efforts to collect delinquent street improvement assessments, which were paid with the last tax collection. Many of these assessments, he asserted, had been on the books for 15 and 20 years.

Councilmen Hughes and Poole also spoke briefly in pledging support of the municipal building proposal.

Rev. S. Lee-Whiteman, Sr., pastor of the Orchard Grove Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, lauded the present administration for its efforts toward law enforcement, declaring that conditions in East Liverpool were far better than those which prevailed in Canton, Alliance, Lima and other cities in the central and western part of the state. He characterized the Northside as being East Liverpool's "Choicest residential district" and commended the civic pride of the hilltop.

Council President Kerr showed tentative plans for a new municipal building which he prepared for the fire station site. The proposed building, according to the plans, would be four stories and would house all city departments and officers.

a club car. There were 255 passengers on board.

William K. Mintz, a New York furrier, was the only person killed outright. He was crushed to death when the first parlor car was telescored on the engine and tender.

John O'Connor and Anthony Raynka, respectively engineer and fireman of the train, died of scalds in a Camden hospital.

The injured included:

Charles B. Richardson, Portsmouth, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Davis, Philadelphia; Mrs. Hirshtein, St. Louis, Mo.; Mollie Ross, Johnstown, Pa., and Mrs. Harry Schwartz, Newport News, Va.

Hammel Sisters And Stross Score In Strand Show

Four Hammel Sisters and Stross, the latter formerly a cornetist in Sousa's band, are headliners of the four-act vaudeville bill which opened a three-day engagement yesterday at the Strand theatre. The young women are talented musicians, while Stross scored in several cornet numbers.

Violet and Partner offer a novelty turn featured by the man's clever acrobatic feats.

Singing, dancing and violin playing was contributed to the bill by the Tulsa Sisters.

Medina Man Held For Friend's Death; Liquor is Blamed

MEDINA, April 9.—Grim tragedy today had written "30" to the friendship of many years between Ernest Leiblein, one armed railroad employe and said to be former Cleveland News pressman, and Dennis Van, railroad section gang foreman.

Leiblein was dead and Van in jail facing a charge of murder — all because of a "little drink" according to Sheriff Roshon.

While under the influence of bootleg liquor, Sheriff Roshon said, Van drew a gun and shot and killed his pal last night.

Leiblein's divorced wife lives in Cleveland with their two sons, the authorities said. Efforts to reach them have thus far proved unavailing.

WOMAN'S HAND BADLY CRUSHED

Mrs. Bella Crumley, of Smiths Ferry, whose right hand was crushed between the rolls of a clothes wringer was admitted to the City hospital yesterday afternoon. An X-ray examination of the injury was made this morning. She was attended by Dr. C. H. Bailey.

MIDLAND KNIFE WIELDER FACES LUNACY TEST

Man Who Slashed Four Persons Believed Insane.

Chief of Police Creps is Among Those Attacked.

Joseph Ciccozzi, 40, Italian, was removed to the Beaver, Pa., jail at Beaver today to await an examination by a lunacy commission, as the result of a cutting affray at Midland yesterday in which four persons were wounded, one of them perhaps fatally.

Michael Pasquamtonic, millworker, is in the Rochester General hospital, suffering from a deep gash in his left lung. Chief of Police F. A. Creps, Pietro Costello and Felix Quocio were also injured in their efforts to subdue the knife wielder, who is believed to be mentally unbalanced.

The attack occurred in the Midland police office, where Ciccozzi had been taken by his friends. The foreigner, it is said, is suffering from la grippe.

Because of his condition, three friends took him to the Midland city jail for a medical examination. While awaiting the arrival of a physician, Ciccozzi is said to have suddenly jumped to his feet, pulled a penknife from his pocket and attacked Pasquamtonic, sitting next to him, before the others could interfere.

The crazed man plunged the three-inch blade of his knife into his victim's left lung and then turned on Costello and Quocio. Both were cut about the chest. Chief of Police F. A. Creps, Sergeant M. M. Akers and Constable P. T. Gallagher attempted to disarm the man, and during the melee Creps received an ugly gash in his right leg.

Ciccozzi was finally overpowered and shackled. Pasquamtonic was taken to the Rochester hospital, while the other victims were attended by Drs. L. L. Hunter and C. A. Helfrich.

Judgment for $120 Given Hardmans in Auto Crash Suit

Judgment for $120.64 in favor of the plaintiff was rendered in municipal court by Judge J. C. Hanley yesterday in connection with the suit brought by Helen and Bailey Hardman, 310 West Fifth street, against Roy Jackson, 1161 Harker avenue, as the result of an automobile collision on West Fifth street, February 28. The amount sued for in the action was $250.

John M. Manor, and Dewitt Irwin were fined $1 and costs each for parking in a restricted zone. Both are alleged to have parked their automobiles in front of the Little building for more than an hour Wednesday night. They were arrested by Patrolman Norman McFarland.

Ernest Hempbill, who was arrested by Patrolman Chester Smith on Pennsylvania avenue, early Thursday morning, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, was fined $1 and costs, amounting to $6.80.

street below. Only Melville's firm grasp on the ankles of Gilleaume, saved the New York man from a similar fate.

Lighted Cigaret Blamed.

It is believed Ainsworth dozed on his bed with a lighted cigaret in his hand which set the bed afire.

When the body was picked up a package of cigarets was grasped in one hand.

The fire was confined to the one room.

George W. Walker of Cleveland, a friend of Ainsworth, identified the body. He said Ainsworth formerly operated station WMH at Cincinnati, but recently had gone into the radio manufacturing business. Walker estimated his wealth at approximately half a million dollars.

Ainsworth was 46 years old and married. He lived at 1541 Donaldson avenue, Cincinnati.

Once Public Accountant.

CINCINNATI, April 9.—Leo J. Ainsworth, 36, of 3541 Donaldson place, Cincinnati, who was killed in a fall from the nineteenth floor of the Hotel Morrison in Chicago, was president and general manager of the Ainsworth Radio company here.

Prior to his entry into the radio business several years ago, Ainsworth was a public accountant. He was born here and spent his entire life in this city. He was regarded as a man of trust and ability, his friends said today.

Ainsworth was survived by his widow, Mrs. Elsie Ainsworth, and one child, Gladys, 10. He also left his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ainsworth, now living in California.

Daylight Saving Time Effective in East on April 25

NEW YORK, April 9.—Daylight saving time goes into effect in New York on April 25. This is the last Sunday of the month.

All official clocks will be moved ahead one hour at 2 o'clock on the morning of that day and late sleepers will be cheated out of an hour's beauty sleep.

Standard time will be resumed on Sept. 26.

In fact, when innocent mineral water is served, the president turns his glass upside down, partly because he thinks plain water good enough, partly because mineral water glasses look like champagne glasses. That is a new experience for the Mayflower.

MORAL, particular ladies of various societies are annoyed that anyone should say George Washington brewed beer and drank it, to say nothing of stronger stuff. Others deny the story that Lincoln "wished the other general would drink U. S. Gant's brand of whisky and fight a little better," when told that Grant drank too much.

The ladies call it an outrage to say Gen. Grant drank, because he didn't.

The sad truth is, however, dear ladies, that wars are not usually won, nations established or European kings driven out by the nice, pure gentle, white rabbit type of man.

"No mountain without a valley," says the German proverb. No big man without big defects, says history.

Nelson, who won Trafalgar for the British, was not even a model husband, but he did win. That's the main thing.

BRITAIN'S independent labor party says the League of Nations is more apt to cause war than to prevent it. That is for Europe to decide.

The same independent laboratories want to be rid of Ramsay MacDonald and his influence in the Labor party. Ramsey McDonald is a self-educated man, knows history, and gentlemen that want to reform the world overnight are impatient of educated leadership. It doesn't always say "yes."

Those laborites decide to abolish the world "wages," substituting "income." That may sound better, but many a poor clergyman can testify that he would rather have the average brickleyer's "wages" than his own "income."

THIRD ARSON ARREST LOOMS

A third arrest in connection with the attempted burning of the Mrs. Agnes Vaughn home, Church and Crook alleys, last Saturday night, is expected within the next 24 hours.

The third suspect, who was implicated in a written confession made by William Uhlworm, arrested here Tuesday and who is now awaiting grand jury action on a charge of arson, is believed to be working in Pennsylvania. Police have forwarded a warrant to the police authorities there.

D. J. Connor, Youngstown, deputy state fire marshal, who arrived here today to investigate the fire, conferred with Chief of Police McDermott and Fire Chief Thomas Bryan.

Should the police fail to locate the third suspect before next week it is probable that he will be indicted by the grand jury upon testimony of Uhlworm and Clyde Jackson, who is also under arrest.

Police today declined to make public the name of the third suspect.

About 45 residents of the district attended the meeting. Street improvements were among matters discussed.

Three Clubs Figure In Industrial League Player Deals

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS MONTH AWAY FROM CHAMPIONSHIP SPEED

Bill Mundy Selected to Manage Hall China Club; Supplanting Vince McGeehan Who'll Handle Team's Business Affairs; D. & M. to be Official Ball.

A THREE cornered deal involving as many players was consummated at a meeting of the City Industrial Baseball league at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night when Catcher DeLong, recently traded back to Chester by Laughlin, was transferred to K. T. K. for First Baseman "Pete" Dustman, and the latter was then given over to Wellsville, where he started last season, for Pitcher Percy Wyant.

K. T. K. thus gets a hard-hitting catcher in DeLong, Wellsville will have one of the best fielding initial sackers in the circuit and Chester can lay claim to one of the speediest southpaws in the organization. All the teams figuring in the deal, it is contended, will be greatly benefited by the acquisition of their respective stars.

The D. & M. baseball was decided upon as the official sphere of the league. It will have a cork and rubber center and will well meet the needs of the six clubs. With it will be given a loving cup which will be awarded the league pennant winners.

Mundy Is Manager.

Announcement was made of the promotion to the managership of the Hall China club of Bill Mundy, the old Boston Red Sox first baseman. By mutual agreement he will supplant Manager Vincent McGeehan, who will look after the business end of the club's affairs. Mundy piloted the famed McLean Tires to victory several years ago. McGeehan, at the time, was his star flinger. Both, accordingly, will be together again for the 1926 campaign.

The addition of Bill Mundy to the Hall managership gives the organization two pilots who in 1915 served in the ranks under Manager-Mayor Frank Riley, of Chester. This will materially stiffen the race when former mentor and pupils are pitted against each other in season's battles.

Decision was also made to carry out a financial campaign on April 21-22 for sufficient funds to carry the organization through the season intact. Details for the project have been completed by President C. C. Cline, who, with special aids, will have it in charge.

The various managers are rapidly rounding out the personnel of their clubs. Some additional trades can be expected before the season begins. All the clubs have posted the stipulated forfeits as evidence of good faith during the season.

REPAIR FIELD AT WELLSVILLE

C. & P. Nine to Shape up Lot in League Season.

Plans have been completed by the Wellsville City Industrial Baseball league club for a general overhauling of its diamond at Central park.

New seats are to be erected and left and center field conditions improved.

To this end a drive for funds has been arranged for Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17.

The grounds are to be put in such condition as to warrant also the holding in the late summer of a field meet by the Pennsylvania Railroad employes.

Manager O. O. Pearch declares it is the purpose of the club to have one of the finest playing fields in the Ohio valley when the planned improvements have been completed.

Such a movement will greatly stimulate interest in baseball in Wellsville since the lack of facilities there last year, with the inability to reach the spot by reason of torn-up condition of roadways between the city and East Liverpool greatly handicapped attendance last season.

RIVALS CLASH IN 4TH BATTLE

Christians-M. P.'s Resume Hostilities Tonight at High.

On the high school floor tonight the Christians and the Methodist Protestants will battle for basketball honors of the Sunday School league for the second half. A red hot clash is down on the boards.

The teams have met three times this season and every game was a battle.

The Christians hold the edge over the M. P.'s with two out of three games played. The M. P. five downed the Christians, 25 to 21, in the first clash of the season between the rivals.

Later in the season, the Christians evened up matters with a 33 to 30 conquest, the victory giving them first half honors.

The last game between the two teams was won by the Christians by a count of 40 to 38.

That the two teams are pretty evenly matched is indicated by the closeness of the scores.

Both teams are confident of victory. The probable lineups will be:

Christians.		M. P.'s.
Reese	F	Ankrim
Kimble	F	Mackey
Howard	C	Todd
R. Bloor	G	Carey
Heddleston	G	Weikart

Wills-Lenglen to Clash For Charity

PARIS, April 9.—Suzanne Lenglen and Helen Wills may meet in a match for charity in California at New Years, 1927, according to an announcement made today by William H. Pickens, representative of C. C. Pyle, who returned here today from Nice where he states he secured tentative acceptance by Mlle. Lenglen of an offer to go to the United States to appear in motion pictures.

Mlle. Lenglen has set her own price for her appearance in the motion pictures and Pickens is not returning to the United States for conferences to determine whether the price set by Suzanne is acceptable to the American promoters.

Although the proposed contract only calls for Suzanne's appearance in the motion pictures, she will take her rackets to the United States with her and Pickens said that she advised him that she would be willing to play for charity.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,

PULLING CLUB DOWN WITH LEFT ARM.

The punch is put into the clubhead, with the "pull down" mostly by the twist of the shoulders and partly by the shooting forward action of the left hip at the instant the clubhead meets the ball. That is what fools the average golfer—he thinks it is body force that hits the ball. The correctly hit ball leaves you with the feeling that your body has had practically nothing to do with it.

At the top of the back swing the player adopting the "pull down" must understand that there is a momentary pause of the clubhead, to give it time to reverse its direction. From this pause, pull the club down and directly toward the ball. The grip of the shaft must at all times be so light that you feel the pull of the clubhead in the sensitive finger muscles. The instant the clubhead "gets away from you" you will miss this feel. You lose the clubhead in the back swing, usually, by breaking back the left wrist, which lets the clubhead get out of the fingers, and the arm and shoulder muscles are not sensitive enough to feel it. Balance it on your finger muscles and keep it there. Relaxation of the wrists at the start will keep you free from tightening, as a usual thing. By poising the club at the top you get the "pull down" started without a jerk. You will readily learn how hard you can pull without pressing, since the "pull down" usually works out that way. It makes a wonderful gauge with which to mark the line between swinging and pressing—something golfers have never been able really to get hold of.

CARP TRAINS FOR HUFFMAN BOUT

NEW YORK, April 9. — Having signed to meet Eddie Huffman, California light heavyweight, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden on May 21, Georges Carpentier planned today to begin serious training for the first time since his return to America some months ago. He expected to work out this afternoon at a local gymnasium with Hagen Hassan, Turkish heavyweight, and Frankie Callahan, welterweight, of Columbus, O.

The Frenchman declared that he was taking on Huffman only with the idea of clinching a match with Paul Berlenbach for the light heavyweight title.

YANKS, DODGERS BATTLE TODAY

RICHMOND, Va., April 9.—Only one jump away from home, the Yanks and Dodgers came into town today. The Yanks have won nine games and lost none, topping off their record with a 14 to 4 victory yesterday at Charlotte, Ruth, Lazerri and Koenig getting homers. The latter has hit safely in seventeen straight games. In all, the Yanks haven't been beaten in their last fourteen games in the South.

GUN CLUB SHOOT HERE TOMORROW

The East Liverpool Gun club will hold a shoot tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the range near the Country club.

Officers of the club announced that any and all marksmen will be welcome to take part in the affair.

BOWLING GREEN GRIDDERS DRILL

BOWLING GREEN, O., April 9.—Forty high school veterans have answered Coach Bob Rettig's call for spring football practice. Bob said that he expected to place a veteran team on the field next fall.

Giants Trailing Nats.

NORFOLK, Va., April 9.—Two down and three to go, the New York Giants today were faced with the necessity of taking the three remaining games from the Washington Senators in order to win the series. It didn't look as thought they would yesterday when Reuther and Marberry shut them out in Atlanta, 7 to 0.

Sports in Hawaii.

During 1925 the total receipts of Moiliil Field, Honolulu's principal athletic field, were $140,177, a record sum.

BROOKLYN FIVE TRIMMED AGAIN

Rosies Now Hold Two-game Lead in Title Series.

CLEVELAND, O., April 9.—Three teams of basketball players seeking two world's championship titles and another now holding that honor but in danger of losing it, were enroute to New York today to stage the third and possibly last set of games of the 1926 series tonight.

They were the Cleveland and Brooklyn quints of the American Basketball league, in session for the men's title, with Cleveland holding a two-game lead in the series now; the Cleveland Newman-Sterns, entrants of the fifth city for the girls' world title and the commercial grads of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, present title holders, but standing second in the present series.

The Cleveland boys copped the second clash of the American league series here last night, 37-21, playing an almost unbeatable brand of basketball. They took an early lead and never relinquished it, although they loafed in the second half after running up a 23-9 score before the first resting period. Brooklyn trailed all the way and never threatened until the last few minutes of playing.

In the girls' series, Edmonton won last night, 26-21, but still stands second in the race for the titular honors. The series goes to the team making the highest number of points in all games played and will continue as long as the men play for their title. The Newman-Sterns won the first game, 23-16, and lost last night, 26-21, but still held on to the lead in scoring, the total now standing 44-42.

Track Stars Meet In Chicago Games

CHICAGO, April 9.—The appearance of Charley Hoff, Loren Murchison and De Hart Hubbard promises an interesting session for track fans attending the eighth annual bankers' indoor field meet at Broadway armory tonight.

Hoff will seek to break his own world record in the pole vault event. Murchison, international sprint champion, and Hubbard, holder of the broad jump record, will compete in their favorite fields.

Other well known athletes entered in the meet are: Harold W. Kennedy of Ohio State, Capt. Jimmy Cusack of the University of Chicago, George Schutt of Wisconsin and Charley Judge of Notre Dame.

A Veteran Jockey.

Cards Only National Loop Entry In Form

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Only four days to go to the official opening of the major league season, but, from all accounts today, some of the ball clubs are as much as a month "away" from championship speed. The National league field is particularly late in its development this year, the St. Louis Cardinals being the only apparent exception worthy of note. The Cards have won a lot of ball games in the south.

Of the American league entries, however, less than five, namely, the Senators, Athletics, Browns, White Sox and Yankees, seem to be ready. It looks like a merry occasion with all this early speed mustered at the pole.

Unforeseen circumstances have connived to delay many National league clubs. The Pirates have been hampered alike by the temporary loss of Carey, Traynor and Moore and the bad weather they encountered during their trip east from California. The Giants left Sarasota with quite a ball club, but absurd railroad jumps, one of them as long as 36 hours, have thrown the boys for a loss. Kelly and Frisch lost their batting eyes, enroute, and the only pitcher who now seems ready is Jimmy Ring.

Braves Fall Away.

The Reds' development has been retarded by Luque's troubles and the semi-failure of Emmer as a shortstop. The Braves started like a rolling stone on a moss-covered incline, but have fallen away from their great form of the early training season. They should be a right fair spring outfit, at that, with all their pitching, and Brown's complex for early season hitting.

The Phillies need a first baseman, Bentley having failed to make the riffle, and are short on pitchers, as always. They have just been knocked off by the Athletics and seem to be going nowhere in particular. Neither are the Dodgers at this moment. Their infield is said to be terrible, no less, and the Yankees' hitting has made their pitchers look all to the falsetto. Even Vance and Grimes have failed to stop the deluge.

The Cubs never were much, anyhow, but Alexander's injury has just about made the thing official. If the Cubs go anywhere this year, the writer will guarantee to invent square peas for use on slippery knives.

The American league situation is more optimistic. The Yankees, not highly esteemed through the winter, have come up from nowhere to serious consideration, largely through the development of the juvenile second-base combination of Lazerri and Koenig. If these young men step right along with the pace, the Yanks will be hard to stop, for they have tremendous hitting and plenty of pitching.

Browns Moving Along.

The Senators have started to hit and look very good at this moment. John McGraw says they will win and maybe they will, in spite of this handicap. The Athletics seem to have everything, with the possible exception of the will to win, and the Browns are said to be moving very fast, with Sisler showing more as an individual than at any time since his great season of 1922.

The Indians started the training season with infield weaknesses, which in nowise were relieved by the incident whereby Hodapp, the $50,000 recruit, broke a careless leg. The Indians, like the Dodgers, are grabbing any infielder a rival club tries to waive into the outer darkness.

Ty Cobb hasn't given the boys much of a line on his Tigers, except that he is experimenting with his infield, which is not a hopeful sign. Neither is there a great deal known of the Red Sox and most of that is unfortunate.

However, the White Sox are going well and getting good pitching. They claim Everett Scott has worked in nicely with Collins around second base and that the club is headed for the first division. Still, you can't put six clubs in four places.

Ray Buzzard Is Farmed Out to York By Cleveland Club

Outfielder Ray Buzzard, last year a star on the Babcock & Wilcox club of the Industrial Baseball league, will be farmed out by the Cleveland Americans, to whom he belongs, to the York, Pa., club for the coming season.

Young Buzzard, who, apparently, has all the potentialities of a coming ball player, is a student at Western Reserve University, in Cleveland, where he is seeking a sheepskin and a law degree.

He has been working out with the Reserve baseball club, of which he is captain and star outgardener, for several weeks, although most of their drilling has been indoors on account of weather conditions.

A berth in the New York-Pennsylvania circuit, under the direction of Manager Frank Dessau, is counted upon by officials of the Cleveland club to give Buzzard a real opportunity to develop his capabilities.

EVE'S TWO LOVERS

most wives, that is, wretchedly. Americans drink more coffee and worse coffee than any other race.

Eve was hungry but she did not enjoy the meal because she was worn out by the task of preparing it, and because her mind was occupied with Clay and his loan from John Ingate, and Clay and his attentions to Madeline.

Clay evidently enjoyed Madeline's superficial viewpoints and silly chatter. The two of them monopolized the conversation, with the guest doing most of the talking. Finally she jumped up from the table, nearly upsetting her water, to show Clay a new dance step, and then invited him to try it with her.

"Please eat your food now before it gets cold," Eve pleaded, plainly annoyed. "It's bad enough as it is."

"Oh, I've tasted worse,' Madeline replied, with a smile that implied she was being complimentary. "It won't take us but a minute to get this. . . . I wish you had some music. Why don't you get a phonograph or a radio or something?" And she went ahead with her demonstration for five minutes more, with Eve's lower lid pressing more tightly against its mate every moment.

When Madeline did sit down again she did not attempt to touch her food. Nor did Clay, so occupied was he with her chatter. After several minutes of painful watching, Eve got up and removed the plates, reappearing with the ice cream and coffee. These Madeline went to with relish. "I could live on nut sundaes," she announced. "Have you got any nuts? . . . Mother always puts nuts on my ice cream."

"Only kind of nuts we've got around here is married people," Clay laughed. The remark was no more silly than others he made in the course of his exchanges with the visitor. Persons like Clay and Madeline never make any but commonplace and obvious remarks. How inane is the conversation of most humans!

"Hope you two aren't going to crawl into a hole and get crabby like most people who get married," Madeline ventured. "I don't see why people can't go ahead and have good times. Go to dances and places."

"Usually, I suppose, they can't afford it," Eve remarked quietly. She did not see Clay frown across at her.

"It doesn't cost much to dance a whole evening down at the Dreamland Garden and you can have lots of fun. You must come down there Friday night. There's going to be a Pirate ball Friday night."

"Let's go, Eve," Clay looked over at his wife brightly.

"I'm going to go stag, I think," Madeline put in. "It's more fun when you go stag. Meet lots of fellows. Most of them are eggs, of course, and try to get fresh, but lots of nice fellows meet girls there, too. Meeting fellows at a dance hall isn't like just meeting them anywhere."

"I don't see why not,' Eve interjected.

"Well, it isn't. You know what kind of a fellow is after you see him dance. I don't mean that the best dancers are the best fellows, but you can always tell."

Eve was unable to follow her cousin's reasoning, but did not attempt to reply.

"I guess that a fellow who can't dance is a blank," Clay decided.

At last, after what seemed hours to Eve, Madeline made her departure. "You must come again," Eve said, without wanting to.

"You bet I will. Certainly enjoyed myself. . . . I'll see you two Friday night at Dreamland Garden. . . Well, don't take any wooden nickles."

Eve turned wearily away from the door.

"Madeline's a card, isn't she?" Clay lit a cigarette.

"Come and sit down, Clay, I want to talk to you."

He picked up the evening paper as he went to her side, and was opening it up when she took it out of his hands.

"I am very angry, and hurt, Clay, because you went to John for money after I asked you not to."

Clay flushed. "But——'

Eve shook her head. "No, there is no excuse. You must return it to him tomorrow. Do you understand?"

"Aw——." Her commanding tone irritated him.

"Promise me you will."

"I can't—exactly."

His wife's eyes widened. "Have you gone ahead and bought a house without letting me——?"

"I didn't get it for a house. It was only a hundred dollars."

"That's what you told John Ingate, that you borrowed it to make first payment on a house."

"I know. I just told him that."

"Clay! What did you want it for? Haven't you money in the bank?"

His glance shifted guiltily.

"I'm sorry, Eve, but I lost the money I had in the bank." He did not look at her.

"Oh, Clay! . . . . How?"

"Well, I was playing the other night. Just a friendly game, and ——'

"Oh, Clay!'"

STATUTES ARE LITERARY JUNK HEAPS; JUDGE WANTS TIME LIMIT ON LAWS

TRENTON, N. J.—Justice Charles W. Parker of the New Jersey supreme court is in favor of putting a time limit on laws as a remedy for the present multiplicity and confusion of statutes in the United States.

"The enactment of laws with a time limit," said Justice Parker, "was a very old and frequent practice both in England and New Jersey before the Revolution, a practice which, in my view, could be revived with great benefit to the public.

"Our statute books resemble an old storehouse cluttered with the accumulation of generations. Most of the states from time to time have tried to clean house by revising or consolidating their statutes, but while they have been at work in one part of the house, the legislatures have kept dumping in new measures with little regard to orderly arrangement."

MARY PLAYS IN ROLE OF URCHIN

Celebrated Movie Star Abandons Costume Plays.

Mary Pickford has joined the "back-to-the earlier-days" movement and in her new photoplay, "Little Annie Rooney," now playing at the American theatre under a United Artists Corporation release, will be seen at her best in the hoydenish and raggamuffin roles that so endeared her to the public and won for her the title "The World's Sweetheart." She has temporarily, at least, abandoned the fussy furbelows of the costume drama, and the golden slippers of the fairy tale.

To just what extent Miss Pickford has made this change in film characterization may be judged from the title of her new production—"Little Annie Rooney"—and the fact that she appears as the twelve-year-old daughter of a popular policeman, leads a group of dirty-faced youngsters in kid battles against a rival gang, and secretly adore Joe Kelly, a hulking truck driver, who is the pal of her brother, Tim Rooney.

Not much similarity here to the sweeping costumes aof laces and velvets of "Dorothy Vernon" or the gaily colored shawls, drooping fans and languishing eyes of "Rosita." And there are no castles with their moats; no palaces with their princes. On the contrary, Annie Rooney's costume consists of checkered gingham, with here and there a button missing, and there a patch; cotton stockings with runs that have been darned and some that haven't, and more or less down-at-the-heel shoes. Annie never wears a hat.

As for the locale—the squalid tenement house district of the lower East Side in New York; and the sets are described as marvels of accuracy in detail. The broken bath-tub at the correct spot; discarded boots and shoes aimed at yowling cats lie in the littered area ways and backyards; the inevitable washing dangles from ropes stretching from window to window. The Brooklyn bridge plays an important part in the story and has been faithfully reproduced.

There are youngsters galore in "Little Annie Rooney," most of whom never before have been before the camera. They are of all types and nationalities. Dogs, goats, monkeys and horses, also are included in the "cast."

LOCAL DRUGGISTS OFFER WONDERFUL REMEDY FOR ACHES, PAINS, LAMENESS

Agrees to Supply Public at Request of Baseball Fans

WONDERFUL FOR PEOPLE WITH ACHES AND PAINS

SAME REMEDY USED AT THE BALL PARK.

At the request of baseball fans, newspaper men and druggists, Mike Martin, the famous Big League Baseball trainer, has mixed up a huge batch of the liniment they use at the ball park—had a folder prepared telling how to use it for various ailments noted below, and arranged through a big concern to supply the public through drug stores at a ridiculous price per bottle considering the expensive ingredients and result it produces.

Hundreds of Big League Stars like Ty Cobb, Coveleski, Walter Johnson, Bucky Harris and others use this liniment of Mike Martin's because they cannot afford to be laid up a single day and it is by far the quickest, surest, safe liniment money can buy. It is the result of Mike Martin's twenty years of experience and he has a world wide reputation of magically putting men back in shape almost over night, no matter what seems to ail them.

Suppose somebody at home is injured. Suppose dad has Lumbago, Neuritis, Neuralgia or Sciatica pains, or suppose mother has a lame back, achy feet or a swollen, strained or sprained wrist. Suppose the kids get hurt at play. Suppose some body has a bad chest cold, stiff neck or an ache or pain of any kind. Think how invaluable it is to have Mike Martin's folder telling you how to fix is up and a bottle of the very remedy they use at the ball park where men are getting hurt, stiff, achy, sore or lame all the time.

This liniment of Mike Martin's is so superior to anything else made that athletes all over the country use it. The trainer of Pittsburgh's fighting ball team uses and indorses it. George Sisler says his team uses it. Ball teams in both leagues, swimmers, wrestlers, fighters, dancers all use it. They would buy it regardless of how much it costs. It is hoped no one who suffers will be missed in this distribution of Mike Martin's Liniment. Get a bottle tonight even though you have no need for it now. It's worth its weight in gold when an accident happens or at night when you can't sleep because of achy back or wheezing cold or rheumatic pains. Read what Mike Martin says in the article on the right.

SAYS HE CAN STOP ANY SORT OF ACHE OR PAIN

Doesn't Believe There is an Ache or Pain He Can't Stop

WIZARD AT KEEPING MEN PHYSICALLY FIT

Formerly with Cincinnati "Reds," New York "Yankees," Princeton, Columbia and other universities. A trainer of athletes for 20 years.

"Big league stars and athletes seem to catch cold quicker and develop more than the average aches and pains, stiffness, soreness, rheumatism twinges, etc.," declares Mike Martin, "but of course, in athletics and baseball they get more than their share of bumps and it shows upon them and affects their play while a business man or woman goes on suffering without saying a word.

"During the years I've handled athletes—since away back in the old bicycle racing days—I guess I've handled about every sort of ache or pain that is known, and I'm convinced if you'll use the stuff we use at the ball park of the big league nowadays that anybody can easily and quickly banish such troubles.

"I spend a lot of money employing chemists to perfect a liniment for my own use. I order the best of everything put into it. I never dreamed of selling it. I was amazed at results. Other trainers got wind of it and today they use it all over the country. It keeps me so busy mixing it for athletes, colleges and trainers, hesitated a long time about supplying the public but if it will help some poor old man or old lady or some crying kid to get relief from their misery and pain I'm glad to do it. I've arranged with a big concern to handle the details of bottling, labeling and supplying the drug stores and I've fixed it so anybody, no matter how poor can for a few cents get a good-sized bottel and with each bottle comes a folder telling how to use it.

"I want to assure everybody that I am back of this liniment with my name and reputation. I'm not in the medicine business. I love baseball and my work of keeping the Washington ball club in trim too much for that, and so if any single person fails to get results, I don't want the bottle of liniment to cost a penny. I'll refund their money on request. All I can say is that my twenty years' experience tells me if you use it according to directions you will be pleasantly surprised."

Walter Johnson.

"I have used Mike Martin's Liniment for many years and consider it the best liniment ever made for a pitcher's arm or for sore, achy stiff muscles. All the men I know in the game use Mike Martin's Liniment." Signed Walter Johnson. Pitcher Washington Baseball team.

Ty Cobb.

"Without the aid of Mike Martin's Liniment it would have been impossible for me to play ball during the reecnt season. You will recall uy knee was seriously injured and I attribute my quick recovery exclusively to Mike Martin's Liniment." Signed Tyrus R. Cobb, Manager Detroit "Tigers."

AS A NATION—WE BELIEVE IN SANTA CLAUS!

There is no Nation on the face of the Globe that lives like us Americans! The Luxury of today is the Necessity of tomorrow and ALL of us participate in these good things—not alone the independently wealthy. And there are a lot of otherwise straight thinkers who look on this condition with FEAR for the future!

We wear the best shoes, the best clothes, own more homes, and BETTER homes, drive more automobiles, manipulate more radios, play more hours, get bigger pay, see better shows, have better general HEALTH and the BEST teeth than any other set of folks in a panting world!

And for the life of one, I can't see where anybody's got anything to fear! We had quite a scuffle here a few years back in the World quarrel, but looking over the returns we didn't see any PARTICULAR evidence of Uncle Sam getting soft, flabby and goofy from high living. Not so it was remarked on—ANYway!

Which assortment of thoughts may or may NOT have anything to do with this business but they were on my chest and needed a thorough airing!

What are YOUR feelings on this subject?

SEVERAL FISHING STREAMS OPENED

With hook and line or trot line, one may catch the non-game fish at any time, L. G. Smith, chief clerk of the state game and fish commission, announced yesterday. His statement was prompted by the many inquiries that have come in since April has turned the average man's fancy to thoughts of fish and stream. There is doubt in the minds of many would-be fishman because the game laws say nothing about an open or closed season in catfish, sunfish, rock bass, chubs, suckers, gars and carp. The law's silence gives consent to catch such fish at any time, if lawful means are employed, Mr. Smith said.

Non-game fish may even be gigged at any time except this month, though game fish may not be gigged at any season.

Trout season will open May 1 and will last till July 31. Season for bass, perch and pickerel extends from July 1 to November 30, inclusive.

REV. L. L. HINTON SPEAKS AT MEET

Rev. L. L. Hinton, of Sandusky, O., spoke last night at the evangelistic services in the First Christian church. His subject was "Under the Juniper Tree."

Rev. Hinton said that if we are to accomplish anything we must not be discouraged, for back behind the shadow standeth God keeping watch over His own. He continued by stating that the proper study of "mankind is man." His subject tonight will be "What Is Man."

Several special musical numbers were given.

Lewis Stone and Virginia Valli Head Cast in Picture.

Tense, terse, thrilling—here is stark drama, stark as the desert against which some of the scenes are pitched, yet smoldering with a passion akin to the blistering sun that heats the sands.

That's "The Lady Who Lied" which is being shown at the Strand theatre this week in connection with four Keith vaudeville acts.

Carewe and his technicians have reproduced such locales as the Sahara, Algiers, Venice, with telling realism. In fact, as regards the desert scenes, we see no difference between those in "Son of the Sahara," a previous Carewe production, and the present one, yet we are told that, while the former was actually made in the vicinity of Biskra, border town of the Sahara desert, the latter was filmed within the enclosure of a Hollywood studio.

You will find Lewis Stone, Virginia Valli, Nita Naldi and other players of proven capability in the chief roles.

And as for the story, if you have read Robert Hitchens' "Snake Bite," you will understand that "The Lady Who Lied," since it is an adaptation of that novel and a faithful one, offers prime entertainment.

Representing himself as superintendent of a mission, J. R. Penrose, a minister, raised money by taking collections in Glasgow motion picture theaters, and was sent to prison for three months on a charge of fraud.

Active Glands Gave Napoleon Fighting Force

ACCORDING to a noted scientist, who has analyzed the action of the glands, Napoleon, one of the greatest fighters of all history, owed his courage and fighting force to large and extremely active glands.

Not only have the glands an important influence on the mind and character of the individual, but they also largely control health, energy and vitality, and it is by maintaining the normal functioning of the glands that we may combat sickness and ill health, according to eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic.

NASH AJAX SIX

Lead the World in Motor Car Value

March! 16,265 Cars

Greatest Nash Month— Greatest Ajax Month

February—with Nash-Ajax sales totaling 14,148 cars—set a new high mark for both Nash and Ajax—but March, with 16,265 cars, swept beyond even that great record.

And still factory production was not sufficient to fill additional bona fide March orders for 1,518 cars.

For Nash it was the 19th consecutive month that sales have exceeded the figure achieved by the corresponding month of the previous year—except for November, 1925, when production was slowed up to bring into manufacture the new "Enclosed Car" motor.

This great and growing national trend among buyers toward Nash and Ajax cars is assuming the proportions of a veritable landslide.

Polyglot Chauffeur Again Takes Place On Paris Boulevards

PARIS.—The polyglot chauffeur is back on the boulevards. Little square cardboard signs are now hanging in some few cabs announcing the number of languages, spoken or understood by the driver.

The majority of these motor linguists are from the Near East where they have been forced to pick up a smattering of all languages. English is the commonest foreign language encountered in the taxi cab circles and after that German, Spanish, Russian, Italian.

Regular chauffeurs give a hostile eye to these newcomers and keep them off the stations, so they are compelled to cruise the boulevards for a "fare" that looks any nationality except French.

11 NEW AERIAL ROUTES MARKED

Cities are Linked by Day and Night Planes.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Uncle Sam is in the midst of his greatest advance in communications since the advent of the telegraph.

Eleven new air mail lines are being marked on the maps and others are projected. Soon the whole of the U. S. will be linked by day and night mail planes.

Scores of cities touched by the routes have advanced every facility to aid the flyers in their business of cutting commnnication days down to hours and hours to minutes.

Chicago, a main station on the government-operated transcontinental air mail route, soon will be the terminus of five daily mail and air express lines.

Three of these will go to Detroit, St. Louis and Minneapolis-St. Paul. National Air Transport company, headed by Paul Henderson, former assistant postmaster general, will start service May 12 on its long route through the southwest.

And Henderson is considering the extension of the line to Mexico City. The original line, however, will have stops at St. Joseph and Kansas City, Forth Worth and Dallas, Tex.

APPEALS COURT GIVES RULINGS

Judgments rendered in common pleas court were all affirmed with but one exception by decisions handed down by the court of appeals just before the court closed its spring term in Lisbon Thursday afternoon. The lone exception of reversal was the case of George A. Anderson, against the state of Ohio, the plaintiff having been found guilty in the lower court last fall on a charge of manslaughter.

A victory was won by the city of East Palestine as defendant in error wherein Claude Lambright and others, plaintiffs in error, sought a reversal of the judgment in the lower court.

The plaintiffs in this case sued the municipality for $5,000 damages, the action being known in court as a "sewer case." The jury in this case returned a verdict in favor of the municipality, and the defendant then carried the verdict to common pleas court on error. The higher court sustained the judgment of the lower court.

By agreement of counsel, the case of the city of East Liverpool as plaintiff against William P. Stone, defendant, the cause has been continued until the next term of the appellate court in this county.

The error prosecuted in the case of James C. Azdell as plaintiff in error against J. C. Swickard, defendant in error, has been continued until the Carroll county term of the appellate court. W. H. Spence, counsel for the plaintiff in error, argued this case before the court while it was in this county, but Attorney W. A. O'Grady, representing the defendant in error, will not present his argument until the Carroll county term.

Judgment of the lower court was affirmed in the case of the Citizens Ice Corporation of Salem plaintiff against E. E. McCartney of Youngstown, defendant in error. This action had to do with the sale and interchange of boilers. The higher court declared in its decision there was no prejudicial error found in the court below and the judgment found in the lower court stands.

Judgment of the court below was affirmed in the case of Paul Jones and others, against K. L. Cobourn and others which was carried to the court on error.

Judgment was also affirmed in the case of James Camp, plaintiff in error, against Helen C. Robb and others, defendants in error.

The case of Thomas Cadwallader and others against C. V. Rakestraw of Salem, as defendant in error, has been contiued. There was no argument to the court in this prosecution of error.

In the case of A. H. Ketterer and others, against John Kaminsky and others, the judgment of the court below was affirmed.

A motion for a new trial was overruled, and the same judgment as rendered below was affirmed, was the decision handed down by the court in the case of Sarah Sanor and others, plaintiffs in error, against Emmett LeRoy Thomas, defendant in error.

There was no argument in the appeal case of Charity A. Burnett and others, plaintiffs, against the city of Wellsville, nor in the case of John D. Rehman, plaintiff in error, against Margaret G. Rehman. The sale rule applies in the case of Simon Burson, plaintiff in error, against Ruth May, defendant in error, and also in the case of Bell Burkhart, plaintiff in error, against Samuel Patrilla, defendant in error.

Court Assignment is Announced for Next Week by Ballantine

Hearing of motions and demurrers will occupy the attention of James Glenn in common pleas court next week, although three jury cases have been assigned for trial Monday and Tuesday, according to the court assignment just issued by Clerk of Court Frank Ballantine. The April grand jury will convene at 11 o'clock Monday, and as soon as the jury has left the court room after being sworn in, the regular routine of court will follow.

New Service Manager For Turk-Nash Sales Company

Michael Turk, manager of the Turk-Nash Sales company, has just announced the appointment of Hurley Williford as his service manager.

"Recognizing the advantage of service to Nash and Ajax owners, I thought it advisable that as service manager I have a man thoroughly familiar with the products I sell," said Mr. Turk, regarding the new appointment.

"I have been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Williford, who is a graduate of the Reeke-Nash service department at Cleveland. He has worked in their shops under the supervision of the service manager of that company and consequently, I am assured the knowledge he has secured there will assist me very materially in the maintenance of the cars I sell."

Mr. Williford recently attended the Reeke-Nash service clinic, which was conducted in Cleveland under the tutelage of Walter Fagerstein, direct from the Nash Motors company, of Kenosha, Wis.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

BAGDAD.—The owners of Bagdad cabarets bitterly complain that it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for an attractive cabaret artiste to enter the Kingdom of Iraq.

Comparing the exclusion of Lady Cathcart from America as a similar "farcial prohibition" to their own ills, the cabaret-owners ask whether Iraq's passport officers will stop at nothing in their zeal to keep young Bagdadis on the straight and narrow path of virture.

In the meantime, critics declare that such official discrimination tends to exercise a depressing effect on the local standard of theatrical talent.

The climax of a ceremonial dance known as the Parada, which was given recently in Malta to commemorate the Crusades, was the singing of "God Save the king" while a tiny girl was held aloft by the dancers.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Frederic J. Haskin is employed by this paper to handle the inquiries of our readers, and you are invited to call upon him as freely and as often as you please. Ask anything that is a matter of fact and the authority will be quoted you. There is no charge for this service. Ask what you want, sign your name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Address The East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Twenty first and C streets, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Q. How much money in silver coins was made last year? W. E. S.

A. In the calendar year 1925 they amounted to $19,875,000.

Q. Why do frosty nights and warm days make good weather for maple syrup? H. R.

A. The reason that sap flows better in a climate where the nights are cool and the days warm, is because the cool nights check the activity of the sap, and the warm days stimulate both the growth of the tree and the flow of the sap.

Q. Who named the 42nd Division the Rainbow Division? H. V. P.

A. The author of the term "rainbow" applied to the 42nd Division is Major General Douglas McArthur, who is now commanding officer of the Third Corps Area, Baltimore, Maryland. At the time this name was given to the 42nd Division, he was chief of staff of the 42nd Division, with the rank of colonel. The 42nd Division was called the Rainbow division because of its composite character of selected groups from all over the country.

Q. What is the correct name for white rabbits with red eyes? A. J.

A. The Biological Survey says that the rabbits you describe are albinos, and do not belong to a distinct breed. For instance, albinos occur in angora rabbits, Flemish rabbits, etc.

Q. What language is the most perfect? H. D.

A. It is a matter of opinion. Many authorities on philology have claimed that the ancient Greek is the most perfect languge that has ever existed in the world.

Q. Please give the Indian name for Sleepy Hollow. A. B. W.

A. The Bureau of American Ethnology says that the Onondaga expression for Sleepy Hollow is otahwihista oya teh.

Q. Why do people yawn? O. A. K.

A. Yawning is an involuntary and wide opening of the mouth and inhalation of breath, generally produced by weariness, intense absorption caused by an involuntary interruption of full breathing, or by an inclination to sleep; sometimes by hunger, etc. in some instances by the frequency of its recurrence it becomes a real disease. Persons suffering from heart disease may be liable to yawning fits. When yawning is troublesome, long, deep respiration, or drawing in the air at long intervals, relieves it.

Q. How should a club sandwich be eaten? H. M. G.

A. A club sandwich is eaten with a fork after the toast and other ingredients have been broken. In doing this one uses a knife and fork.

Q. How is stained glass made? R. S.

A. Stained glass is the term used technically as well as popularly to designate windows made of colored glass, whether the color be produced by metallic oxides in the melting pot; by coating the surface with a film of colored glass, thus making flashed glass, which is ground or etched away where the color is not desired; by applying under fire a solution of silver (yellow stain) which turns yellow the surface of crystal (colorless) glass, and of the groundaway portions of flashed glass, and by which light-blue glass is turned green; by painting the surface with colored enamels that are afterwards fused into the substance. The so-called American glass is an entirely different product. From cast sheets of opalescent glass, with enamels for the modeling of faces and hands only, John LeFarge and Louis B. Tiffany developed an art that is absolutely and completely original. The iridescent effects are extraordinary, and the colors are rich but apt to be too opaque.

Q. How can rust be removed from the inside of a bread box? H. F. H.

A. It is rather difficult to remove rust from the inside of a bread box. It is advisable to paint it. Two coats of flat white paint should be used with one coat of enamel.

The circus, as an American institution, will never die.

That was the opinion expressed today by Gil Robinson, 82, one of the country's veterans "under the white tops" men, who is a visitor in Southern California.

"Many things are changing in this country but the circus is very much the same every year and has been for almost a century," he declared.

Robinson was born in a circus dressing room and for sixty years traveled an average of 10,000 miles annually.

"I remember when Jim Bailey of the famous Barnum & Bailey circus came to our show in 1862," Robinson said.

"His real name was Jim McGinn One day he borrowed a dime from me and a few minutes later he came back with a ball of string in his hand. He told me he could not pay his hotel bill and we arranged that he was to let down his grip from his hotel room window. I caught the grip after Bailey let it down. Years later Bailey went back to the hotel and paid the bill."

Robinson said he showed General Robert E. Lee around his circus one day. After the inspection, the veteran circus man said Lee told him the Confederate Army would have won the Civil War had it been as well organized as his circus.

Robinson also met General Grant at one time and Grant, he said, showed an intense interest in the circus horses.

"There is no life like circus life," Robinson declared. "For twenty-two years I 'showed' every day and never missed once and it was the happiest time of my life. There's something about a circus, the smell of the sawdust, the tinsel and gay trappings—and the animals—that pulls a fellow. I wish I washitting the road tomorrow."

Saloniki, Greece, is to have a large Y. M. C. A. building.

People As Happy As Birds In Springtime

"When the warmth of Spring is first felt, everything in Nature changes. All vegetation pulses with activity. Animals become brighter and are more active. Why, then, is it that man alone suffers from so-called "Spring Fever?"

That question was put to the World's Tonic man at Radcliffe's. Instantly he answered: "If men lived like animals they wouldn't have spring fever. But since they eat heavily all winter, and keep in the houses, their organs fail to throw off all the waste matter and impurities. Then when Spring is at hand, they fell like they couldn't move, and want to lie down and sleep. No wonder systems are full of waste, the blood carries a lot of impurities, and often shows its condition in cartarrh. What man needs then is something that will clean his blood, correct the cartarrhal troubles, and give vigor and pep. Why thousands of people take two or three bottles of World's Tonic every Spring in order to purify the blood, overcome the catarrhal effects and build up the strength. You can come pretty near telling such a man by his clear eye, springy step and vim. If all you who have Spring Fever would do that, this nation would be as happy as the birds in Spring."
